RAPIST PAROLE A 'MYSTERY'

DIETERICH WILL RUN AS BACKER OF ROOSEVELT

Subtle Statements Invite Blessings.

BY PERCY WOOD.

United States Senator William H. Dieterich of Beardstown yesterday reviewed his wholehearted support of the Roosevelt administration and intimated that he will seek reëlection next year upon that record.

Scott Lucas.

His announcement revived reports that several other downstate Democrats are vying for the opportunity to take the senator's measure in the April primaries and that Gov. Horner is very likely to support one of them against Dieterich.

In the first rank of these potential candidates is Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana, who succeeded the late Speaker Henry T. Rainey in the house and lives only 30 miles up the Illinois river from Beardstown. Lucas was for four years national judge advocate of the American Legion and was Gov. Horner's first chairman of the state tax commission.

Lucas Against Court Plan.

His fidelity to Rooseveltian policies is not of the Dieterich type, for Lucas opposed the Supreme court packing bill and urged the Legion to take a similar stand. Senator Dieterich's statement was a complete confession of faith.

"It is with pride," he said, "that I point to my record in support of one of the greatest Presidents—if not the greatest—who ever administered the affairs of the nation.

"I have supported President Roosevelt and his policies and whatever future opportunity I may have to continue that support will be in response not only to my own fixed convictions, but to the mandate of the people of Illinois."

Mr. Dieterich was asked if this could be taken as an announcement of candidacy.

"I have never said I wouldn't run," he replied. In response to a direct question as to his intentions he added, "That is in the hands of my friends and my party."

Special Blessings Possible.

There is little doubt in the minds of Democratic leaders, both in Cook county and downstate, that Dieterich will seek reëlection, and that he may, as the Republicans put it, be able to pull himself up by the Roosevelt bootstraps. His almost 100 per cent acquiescence to the wishes of the White House might even bring him some special blessings from Washington next spring, some Democrats predict.

In addition to Congressman Lucas, Louie E. Lewis of Christopher, speaker of the state house of representatives, and State Treasurer John C. Martin of Salem are said to have an eye on the Dieterich scalp. Speaker Lewis is close to Gov. Horner and some believe that at present he has the inside track for the governor's approval. His availability, however, is in part conditioned by the importance of the C. I. O. as an issue in the 1938 campaign.

Brother Is U. M. A. Counsel.

Speaker Lewis' brother, Thurlow Lewis, is Illinois counsel for the United Mine Workers of America, the parent unit of John L. Lewis' industrial union. Mr. Horner has expressed his opposition to the sitdown strike, the favorite weapon of the C. I. O. Thurlow and Louie are no relation to John L. Lewis.

Treasurer Martin is popular with both the Chicago and the downstate Democratic organization. He is serving his second term as fiscal officer of the state and also is chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission.

No intimation of their attitude toward Dieterich has been made by the leadership of the Nash-Kelly Cook county organization. He is said to be expecting their support because he opposed the governor's renomination last year—a move which earned him Mr. Horner's active political dislike.

KIRKLAND FREE ON AUTHORITY OF SINGLE MAN

Board Not Consulted in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Shortly after Virgil Kirkland was released from the Indiana state reformatory at Pendleton, where he had served only a little more than six years for the brutal rape slaying of his pretty high school sweetheart, it developed tonight that the welfare board members knew nothing of the parole. Also the state parole board members were not consulted.

Kirkland, former Gary High school football star, had been sentenced to a term of one to ten years at his second trial in 1931 for the murder of Arlene Draves, 18 years old, in a wild liquor party attended by a group of Gary High school youths.

Indiana Setup Complex.

Under the complicated Indiana welfare system adopted during the administration of former Gov. Paul V. McNutt, the state parole board is the agency which would have authority to consider Kirkland's release up to the time that he had served his minimum sentence.

After that time the question of a prisoner's parole must come first before the board of trustees of the penal institution in which he is confined. These trustees are supposed to make their recommendations to the state welfare board and this board is supposed to act on the trustees' recommendations.

However, in the Kirkland case it is alleged that the Gary youth was able to leave the reformatory behind a wall of secrecy without the state welfare board ever having been consulted about his release.

Board Member in Dark.

Instead, according to a statement made tonight by W. A. Hacker, assistant superintendent of Indianapolis public schools and a member of the welfare board, Kirkland's release had only the approval of the reformatory's board of trustees and John Klinger, an agent of the state welfare board.

Hacker declared emphatically that his board never had met to consider Kirkland's parole and that the first knowledge he had of the action came from newspaper accounts. He asserted that the parole was handled simply as a routine matter by Klinger, who is a political appointee and formerly of Newcastle.

Other members of the board who Hacker said had not been consulted in the Kirkland case are Fred Hoke, an Indianapolis manufacturer, and the Rev. Marshall A. Talley, Indianapolis Negro minister. Hoke was reported to be vacationing in Michigan and the Rev. Mr. Talley was said to be attending a church meeting, and neither could be reached for statements.

Public Is Indignant.

In the wake of Kirkland's departure from the reformatory, arrangements for which had been kept from the public at every step, there was indignant criticism of authorities and frequent references to "miscarriage of justice."

Bitter opposition to his release and threats to "get" him were believed to be mainly responsible for the secrecy that surrounded the Gary youth's release on parole, his present whereabouts and his plans for the future.

Called Model Prisoner.

"Kirkland has been a model prisoner," Klinger declared, "and he shouldn't be hounded if he is to be given a chance to adjust himself. I think he should be used like an ordinary citizen."

Klinger refused to say where the youth was going, nor would he identify the parolee's sponsor. However, it was reported that his sponsor is a Gary business man.

"Kirkland is not going back to Gary or Lake county," Klinger said.

It was reported that Kirkland was going to Ohio where it was said he had a construction job awaiting him.

His parents were not at their Gary home all day and were believed to be with him. They left their house during the night, neighbors said, and had not returned.

No one met Kirkland when he left

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 27.—(AP)—His search for a rare singing cricket in the Black Mesa country of Oklahoma put Prof. Theodore H. Hubbell in a hospital here today with birdshot wounds in the face.

Prof. Hubbell said a colleague, W. Frank Blair of the University of Michigan Museum of Zoölogy, who was seeking mammal specimens, mistook him for an animal in the darkness and fired from 40 yards. Twelve shot struck his face, one piercing the right eyelid.

He was admitted to the hospital here today after a trip by airplane from Tulsa to Detroit. Prof. Hubbell, in winter a member of the University of Florida faculty, has been teaching in the Michigan summer school.

SAYS HIS PILL CURES DROWNING; PLANS A TEST

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Paul Pisculli announced today drowning will be next to impossible if citizens susceptible to that form of demise take the precaution to swallow one of the pills he has invented.

Pisculli, a chemist whose brother, Dr. Leon Pisculli, went down when the American Nurse failed in a trans-Atlantic flight attempt, will demonstrate his anti-drowning pill here tomorrow. His nephew, Gene Tortariello, of Neptune, N. J., will take a pill and a deep breath and plunge into the ocean. He will swim around, Pisculli said, to prove that he can't—or maybe can—drown.

If the 24 year old Tortariello still is in circulation after the test is over Pisculli will begin considering ways and means for marketing his pills.

Talks, Dinners Called Remedy for Suicides

Boston, Mass., Aug. 27.—(AP)—An intensive, three year study of suicide, conducted under the auspices of the Boston City hospital, was revealed tonight. Its major conclusion is that suicide is a disease which, in a majority of cases, is preventable.

Can Decrease Suicides.

Dr. Putnam said the value of the report lay in its tendency to disclose "suicide is an important disease from the point of view of statistics and from the point of view of human happiness. The few investigations already made appear to indicate that its incidence can be materially decreased."

Among contributory causes Dr. Moore listed were stories of suicide which sometimes were followed by similar attempts.

Then amplifying his comment first given to the medical profession in the New England Journal of Medicine, Dr. Moore paid tribute to the value of "psychologically inspirational articles in newspapers."

People Who Need Help.

Such "psychological departments," Dr. Moore said, "are filling a need we, as physicians in public institutions, are slow to recognize—namely: the desire of anxious persons to come in contact with the thoughts of others on daily problems."

Turning to the prevention of suicide, Dr. Moore listed three simple methods:

Talking to the individual concerned, allowing him to express some state of anxiety and then quietly discussing it with him.

Taking him out to dinner, a simple action, yet one, Dr. Moore said, that had been known to save a life.

An hour's conversation with a friend, physician or priest.

Need to Be Encouraged.

In each of these instances, Dr. Moore stressed the importance of the human contact and the necessity for making depressed persons feel that they "counted." Existing social institutions, he continued, could play their part in such preventive work.

Because of this, Dr. Moore explained, a psychiatric department, equipped to work with social service workers, was a necessity in any big, modern hospital. Such a department would supervise "protective wards where patients who are suicidal may be treated and studied, with the aim of achieving a better understanding of the causes and mechanisms of suicide, as well as possible means of preventing it."

Conclusions on Suicide.

Among individual conclusions standing out in the report are:

More women than men attempt suicide.

Poison is the most commonly selected suicide device.

Second in choice is illuminating gas.

Admission to the hospital of persons who attempt suicide are increasing.

The motives in most cases were unknown. Among 266 patients who stated them, economic factors were most commonly blamed by men and domestic difficulties by women.

WOODEN LUNG SAVES LIFE OF 4 YEAR OLD PARALYSIS VICTIM

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The inventive skill of a hospital engineer, guided by a doctor's knowledge, tonight fashioned a homemade wooden lung and saved the life of a 4 year old boy upon whose chest the dread grip of infantile paralysis was tightening. The wooden lung is believed to be the only one of its kind in the world.

The only iron lung in Toronto was in use fighting the epidemic which has claimed nine young lives here since June 10. Requests for an iron lung were sent to New York, Chicago and Boston, but authorities at the hospital for sick children were informed it would be ten days before one could be supplied.

The plant engineer, assisted by carpenters, went to work. Forty minutes after entering the unpainted, box-like structure the boy was breathing normally and taking nourishment. Earlier in the day it had been feared he would not survive the night.

A motor attached to the makeshift apparatus creates a vacuum which forces the lungs to inhale and exhale, the same way in which iron lungs operate.

Seize Fugitive in Grant Park Death Mystery

St. Louis police last night arrested Leonard Doxey, fugitive sought on a warant charging him with the murder of Herbert W. Lee, alias Burns, Evanston business man, who was shot to death in Grant Park early last Sunday morning. Doxey, who is known by half a dozen other names, admitted his identity but refused to return voluntarily to Chicago.

He admitted and later denied that he was formerly the sweetheart of Lucille Buehler, the blonde hostess friend of Lee, who was Lee's companion at the time of the slaying. She is being held at the detective bureau here as an accessory to the murder. The warants for both Doxey and the Buehler girl were issued yesterday by Municipal Judge George B. Weiss.

Two Seized With Doxey.

With Doxey the St. Louis police arrested a man and a woman. They identified themselves as John Martin, alias Lawrence Dixon, and Lucille Meredith alias Lucille Mueller. All three are being held for questioning by Assistant State's Attorney Harry Posner and Lieut. Thomas F. Kelly who will fly to St. Louis early today.

The arrests were made by chance when detectives made a routine examination of automobiles in downtown St. Louis. They noted a sedan which bore Ohio license plates, and saw Doxey and Martin standing nearby.

Keys Reveal Ownership.

At first the men denied that the car belonged to them, but when police searched them, each was found to have a key to the machine. Upon looking inside the car police found a set of Indiana license plates bearing the number 790-997. This was the number broadcast by Chicago police as being on Doxey's automobile.

Doxey then admitted his identity and led the way to a hotel room, where police found the Meredith girl. In the room was a lether bag with the label, "Investigator—Office of Attorney General, State of Illinois." The presence of the bag was not explained.

Denies He Killed Lee.

Questioned about the slaying by Assistant Police Chief Andrew Aylward, Doxey made emphatic denials, remarking, according to police, "I might be crazy, but not enough to admit to you or the state's attorney in Chicago that I killed anybody even if I did." Doxey said he fled Chicago as soon as he learned he was being sought because he "didn't have enough money to hire a lawyer."

Martin was asked whether he was Pete Ferro, a friend of Doxey and sought by police as an accessory or witness to the Lee killing. He denied he was Ferro. Doxey declared Ferro is now in an Indiana prison.

Police records at St. Louis show that Martin frequently has been arrested there on suspicion, but never

ENVOY SHOOTING LAID TO PLOT ON LIFE OF CHIANG

U. S. Gives Warning

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Japan and China are warned by U. S. that they will be held accountable for injury to our citizens or damage to their property in Shanghai fighting. Secretary of State Hull reveals U. S. determination to protect American shipping in foreign waters. Details on page 3.

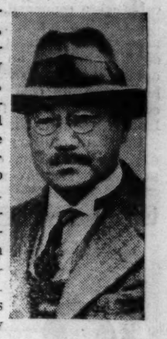
BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 28 (Saturday).—(AP)—Japanese warplanes rained explosives today on the Nantao quarter of Shanghai, throwing the city into a renewed uproar. Sixteen planes opened the attack. The raiders centered their thundering onslaught on an obscure spot deep within the humanity jammed Chinese section. At least a dozen bombs crashed earthward to open the bombardment. The area was engulfed in a pall of smoke. Chinese authorities stated the Japanese airmen were "merely bombing recklessly and attempting to terrify and intimidate helpless civilians."

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 28 [Saturday].—A strongly worded protest against the shooting of Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, by Japanese airmen, has been prepared and will be handed to the Japanese government in Tokio probably today, J. L. Dodds, counsellor of the British embassy in Tokio, will present the protest.



Shigeru Yoshida.

This action was revealed today following yesterday's belated action by Japan in expressing regrets over the incident and its hopes for the ambassador's speedy recovery. Shigeru Yoshida, Japanese ambassador to London, voiced the expression of regret at an icy meeting with Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, during which Eden made it clear that Britain would not tolerate any more such incidents.

The British note which will be presented in Tokio was sent to Dodds from the foreign office late last night, diplomatic sources revealed, after Eden had long telephone consultations with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain on the final terms.

Demand Full Satisfaction.

In presenting the note, Dodds was instructed to emphasize verbally that the British government insists on "full satisfaction."

If the Japanese do not meet the British demands within a reasonable time, well informed sources in London stated, diplomatic relations between the two countries may be suspended temporarily in order to emphasize the protest in the strongest manner known in diplomatic practice.

Eden now has obtained full details of the attack on Sir Hughe. These, it was said, confirm earlier accounts blaming the Japanese airmen and disclose further that the ambassador's car bore a Union Jack 18 inches by 12 inches on the roof of the car, and that after the machine gun attack by one Japanese plane, another swooped within 200 feet of the car and dropped a bomb. The ambassador was attacked on his way from Nanking to Shanghai.

Charge Flouting of Law.

Whitehall regarded the case against Japan as complete. The British government is prepared to concede that the attack on Sir Hughe was not deliberate, in the sense that it was not knowingly made on the British ambassador.

Dodds, however, will emphasize that, on the admission of Japanese authorities on the spot, the airmen intended to kill Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese dictator, and as such head of a state with which Tokio still has diplomatic relations, since the Japanese have not yet declared war.

This, according to Whitehall, is a deliberate flouting of international law.

Eden maintained close telephone contact with Chamberlain, who is at Balmoral castle, Scotland, as a guest of King George VI. of Great Britain. Chamberlain attended a council meeting at Balmoral. King George showed anxiety over the attack on his envoy and other problems raised by the undeclared war in China.

The situation, despite yesterday's exchange of diplomatic amenities, still was tense between the British and Japanese, for it was not clear that the Japanese have as yet accepted explicitly that the shooting was the responsibility of Japanese airmen.

Will Demand Indemnities.

On the other hand, it now seems certain that the British "appropriate action," as Whitehall described it, will not take the form of any drastic military action against the Japanese.

The British at the same time will not let the Japanese off with a perfunctory apology, according to present indications, but will demand in addition to this adequate indemnities to Sir Hughe and also assurances that the Japanese high command, now operating on Chinese soil, will respect and safeguard diplomatic immunity.

The London public still was in a high state of indignation over the shooting incident.

FIERCE BATTLE RAGES

SHANGHAI, Aug. 28 [Saturday].—(AP)—Japanese and Chinese armies were pitted against each other today on a devastated, wavering battlefront that cut a wedge from the south bank of the Yangtze river toward Shanghai.

The tip of the wedge, which a concentrated Japanese army was hammering against the almost suicidal resistance of China's defenders, was at Lotien, 12 miles northwest of the city.

Waves of Japanese infantrymen charged with bayonets there through sheets of Chinese machine gun fire, leaving the town a smoking bed of ashes littered with the dead of both sides. Thousands were killed or wounded.

Fight with Guns at Backs.

The base of the wedge followed the shore of the Yangtze from Liuho, northwest of Lotien, to Paoshan on the northeast.

Two Chinese divisions held a thin line on the headland cut by the Yangtze and Whangpoo rivers north of Shanghai when Japan's heavy guns began the 30 hour fight for Lotien.

The din of the battle reverberated in Shanghai. The city's bewildered residents listened in terror to the distant thunder as motorcades of trucks rushed three divisions of China's ablest troops, arms, and tons of munitions to the new front.

Retreat to Avoid Trap.

The main Chinese forces, which had hemmed the borders of the international settlement, continued to withdraw farther inland to get out of the reach of the Japanese naval guns in the harbor. The Japanese, nevertheless, were determined to cut them off in the "1932 pocket" of Liuho and Woosung.

Lessening of the Chinese pressure on the edges of the foreign settlement, and incidentally the close-in fighting, greatly relieved foreign residents. Some night clubs, stores, and cafés were reopened.

Military observers, despite the Chinese tactical retreat from the heart of Shanghai, saw an important development in the arrival on the Shanghai scene of Gen. Chang Fak-wei, commander of the famous "Chinese Ironsides" division.

Foreign military observers predicted that Japan, continually landing new reinforcements, soon will have massed an army of 100,000 men in the Shanghai area.

They said this enormous force is being rushed from Japan to the Asiatic mainland because Tokio recognizes that the battle of Shanghai is a crucial test for her war machine.

With the future of China, and perhaps of Japan itself, in the balance, Japan cannot afford a defeat here and is trying to guarantee victory against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese forces with overwhelming power.

Nanking Bombed; 150 Die.

NANKING, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Japanese bombers, in the most destructive air raids yet suffered by Nanking, killed nearly 150 Chinese civilians and wounded scores more today in the poorest quarters of the capital.

Greatest havoc was done in areas at least two miles from any Chinese airfield or other military establishment.

This prompted Nelson T. Johnson, United States ambassador to China, and other foreign envoys to appeal to Japanese leaders to cause their airmen to show some degree of mercy and try to spare innocent noncombatants. Most of the victims of today's raids were coolies, trapped in fires set by incendiary bombs.

No Reply Received.

The foreign diplomats made representations seeking a pledge that Japanese raids on Nanking would be confined to military objectives, but tonight no reply had been received.

One raid was made tonight while the diplomatic corps was giving a dinner to Mr. Johnson, celebrating the 30th anniversary of his entry into the diplomatic service. Sirens giving warning of the raiders' approach screamed through the city, but the dinner went on.

Today's raids on Nanking—of which there were at least four—began shortly after midnight. Bright moonlight, which has encouraged Japanese aerial activity in the lower Yangtze valley the last several nights, again lighted the way to this city of more than 1,000,000 population.

Large numbers of incendiary bombs were dropped, spreading flames rapidly through congested quarters and trapping scores as they huddled in their hovels, hoping to escape the rain of death from the skies.

Justice Herrick of State High Court Seriously Ill

Farmer City, Ill., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Justice Lott R. Herrick of the state Supreme court was reported by his physician, Dr. Owen Nowlin, to be in serious condition tonight following the formation of a blood clot on the brain. Dr. Nowlin said, "Although he will be confined for several weeks, the outlook is optimistic for his satisfactory recovery."

Japs Drive Wedge

Heavy lines with arrows indicate direction of thrust made by Japanese troops northwest of Shanghai, where they are attempting to "pocket" Chinese defenders by a push southeastward. Lotien is the scene of the heaviest fighting.

JAPS LOCK VISE ON CHINESE IN NANKOW PASS

Break Through Great Wall; Fight with Bowlders.

PEIPING, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Part of Japan's North China army of 120,000 men was reported officially tonight to have broken through the Great Wall and to be closing a vise on Chinese forces in Nankow pass and at Suanha and Hwailai, 60 miles northwest of here.

Unable to strike through the stubborn Chinese defense of historic Nankow pass, the Japanese skirted the Chinese positions over high, rocky ledges to the west and descended to the valley behind them.

But, trustworthy sources said, Japan's 10 day offensive for the vital entrance to inner Mongolia cost about 1,500 of the troops thrown into that action.

Roll Bowlders on Chinese.

One whole regiment was cut off from the main force and from its base of supplies, suffering desperate privation before it turned the Chinese flank on a 4,200 foot ledge commanding the pass.

The Japanese regiment, its food and ammunition virtually exhausted, made a final bayonet charge over the rocky crags, protected by a captured Chinese machine gun and with the bodies of its own dead as shields.

Gaining the ridge, the Japanese rolled heavy boulders down the mountainside into the Chinese main forces, frustrating an attempt to reorganize the counter-charge up the slope.

Foreign observers said they expected ultimate penetration of Nankow Pass would signal a general offensive of Japan's heavily mechanized forces against 225,000 Chinese soldiers along the 150 mile Hopei-Chahar front.

Japs Hope to Clean Out Pass.

For days 25,000 well entrenched Chinese troops have resisted the effort of 15,000 of Japan's warriors, with extensive artillery support, to smash through the pass.

Now having flanked the soldiers of China, the Japanese hope to clean them out of the pass and open up the way to a conquest of northern Chahar and Suiyuan provinces. This would give Japan a strong communications link between North China and the Japanese puppet kingdom, Manchukuo.

On two other fronts major battles were raging between 70,000 Japanese troops and 100,000 Chinese warriors.

Detachments of Japan's army were attempting to smash stubborn Chinese at Liangshsiang, 25 miles southwest of Peiping.

Should they successfully crush the Chinese army defending Hwailai and Suanha toward which they were advancing, the Japanese would be in a dominant position to take Kalgan, Chinese army base at the Great Wall north of Peiping.

Fear Drive on Tsingtao.

Heavy fighting was reported east of Kalgan as an estimated 60,000 Japanese and Manchukuan soldiers began a flanking assault in the inner Mongolian provinces.

Japanese consular orders for the evacuation of Tsingtao by Sept. 2 were interpreted here as evidence that all hope was gone for the peace of the port, one of China's most popular international resorts.

Refusal of Tsingtao's Chinese authorities to withdraw troops at Japan's demand increased the fear that the city was doomed to be the next scene of hostilities.

Gives Blood to Envoy

H. A. Thomson, United States sailor who submitted to transfusion of his blood to British ambassador wounded in warfare in China.

Hutchinson, Kas., Aug. 27.—(AP)—H. A. Thomson, U. S. sailor in Shanghai who gave blood to Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China who was wounded by Japanese machine gun bullets, enlisted in the navy ten years ago after being graduated from high school here.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Thomson, still live here. Thomson, a pharmacist's mate in the navy, is known to his friends as "Red" because of his flaming hair. He has a wife and 3 year old son at Mountain View, Cal., navy dirigible base.

WOUNDED ENVOY IMPROVES, BUT IS STILL IN DANGER

SHANGHAI, Aug. 28 [Saturday].—(AP)—The life of Sir Hughe Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, wounded Thursday by machine gun bullets from a Japanese war plane, still was in danger today. Physicians were hopeful of his recovery, however, after he had responded favorably to a blood transfusion.

1,300 U. S. Marines Sail for Shanghai Tomorrow

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The transport Chaumont will sail from here at 2 p. m. Sunday with 1,200 marines for Shanghai, officials announced today. Aboard the cruiser Marblehead, acting as convoy, will be 108 marines.

TOKIO CHEERS ITS WAR-BOUND MEN, WEEPS FOR DEAD

Troop Movements Burden Transportation System.

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The exhilaration and grief of war marched hand-in-hand today as trains bearing new troops for the China front made way for others bringing back Japan's dead and wounded.

Troop movements, apparently taxing transportation lines to capacity, reached a peak unseen before in the seven weeks since Chinese and Japanese forces first clashed in northeast China.

No general mobilization was announced, however, and the war office made no comment.

On one side of the picture caravans of automobiles, festooned with flags and war mottoes, raced through the streets. Throngs lined the routes of troops, singing and shouting "Banzai!" as the columns paraded to the railroad stations.

Ashes of 37 Are Honored.

On the other, thousands of weeping women and saddened, saluting men jammed the platforms as the trains from China came in.

The ashes of 37 officers and sailors from Yokosuka, Japan's greatest naval base, were given impressive memorials when they arrived. Some of the highest ranking officers of the Japanese navy attended. Navy Minister Mitsumasa Yonai read the tributes.

Emperor Hirohito and the empress gave grants to the victims' families, and other prominent Japanese, among them Admiral of the Fleet Prince Hiroyasu Fushimi, chief of the naval general staf, sent tributes of flowers and money.

Await Report On Shooting.

After a conference on the shooting of Sir Hughe Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, the cabinet deferred taking any measures until a full report of the attack is received.

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota and Admiral Yonai reported in detail on the basis of available information on the machine gunning yesterday of the envoy while he traveled from Nanking to Shanghai.

A foreign office spokesman said the fullest investigation was being made but until a formal report was received he was unable to comment on any phase of the incident.

The newspaper Yomiuri said the parliament in special session would be asked to appropriate 1,700,000 yen [about $493,000] to effect the plan. The defense arrangements call for a trisecting of the empire into eastern, central and western districts, perfection of alarm communications, control of lighting, dissemination of public information on poison gas, etc.

WOMAN DOOMED TO DEATH IN NEW PURGE BY SOVIET Accused as Poisoner; 32 More Executed.

MOSCOW, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Soviet Russia caught in its purge net today the former wife of a Polish nobleman accused of poisoning water in pitchers on excursion trains and, in the far east, executed 32 more persons for "wrecking" at the behest of the Japanese secret service.

Reports from the town of Novorossisk near Rostoff-on-Don told how the woman, one Wedenskaya, was caught and condemned to death after she had poured a lethal acid into the water pitchers, allegedly in a plot by "anti-soviet enemies."

Women conductors detected the poison on three trains after passengers, including children, had tasted "something funny" in the water. Whether any died was not stated.

Wedenskaya, when arrested, was called the head of a gang of "wreckers" in the area that included the foreman of the railway shops. He got ten years in prison. Last month three Novorossisk food trust officials were condemned for selling bad sausage.

The 32 executions were in eastern Siberia, where most of the alleged "Trotzkyist wrecking" activity has centered. They brought to 138 the two weeks total of executions in Siberia, where 34 were shot Aug. 18 and 72 on Aug. 12.

The newest executions were disclosed by the customary brief announcement in the Irkutsk newspaper, Eastern Siberia Pravda.

The announcement said the 32 "wreckers" were put to death Aug. 20 after conviction by a military court.

Raise $300,000 for China in Eastern U. S. Campaign

Cincinnati, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Charlie Yee, Chinese restaurant proprietor, scanned tonight reports of contributions to China's war chest totaling more than $300,000 and, signing orders for the shipment of foodstuffs to his homeland, said "the Japanese will be wiped up in a year." He is chief of a campaign area extending from Chicago to the Atlantic seaboard.

NEW VICE PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO U. BACK FROM THE WAR ZONE

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—China will surprise the world in its present conflict with Japan, declared William B. Benton, vice president of the University of Chicago, who arrived here yesterday with his wife after a tour of the orient. He expressed belief the United States will not be drawn into the fighting. Mr. Benton, formerly head of a New York advertising agency, will take over his duties at the University of Chicago on Oct. 1. He was appointed to the university post last February.

JAPAN AND CHINA ARE WARNED BY SECRETARY HULL

U. S. to Protect Citizens, Nations Told.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—[Special]—The United States today served notice on Japan and China that this country stands prepared to prosecute actions for damages for injury to its citizens on their property in the fighting at Shanghai.

This country's determination to take a firm course of action in behalf of its citizens was aimed at Japan, although it included China. It was occasioned by Japanese bombing of three Shanghai buildings flying the American flag and Japanese consideration of a "peaceful blockade" of China's coast.

After conferring with President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., by telephone, Secretary of State Hull revealed that the United States is determined to protect American shipping on the high seas and American citizens and their property in foreign lands.

Hull Announces Stand.

At his press conference Secretary Hull said that the United States had formally notified Japan and China that this country reserves all rights and interests of its own and its nationals in the far east and will hold Japan and China responsible for any damage or injury.

Secretary Hull said the Japanese government had not formally notified the state department of its intention to establish the "peaceful blockade." However, he said, Japan's intention to do so had been confirmed by a Japanese official at Shanghai.

The blockade is of immediate importance to the United States because its imposition might provoke an immediate international incident affecting this country. While all foreign nations would be affected by the blockade, the first foreign vessel to be involved might be the United States freighter Wichita, which is carrying Bellanca planes from this country to China.

Neutrality Act Issue.

The "peaceful blockade" stirred up again the question of invocation of the neutrality act by President Roosevelt. The President himself has said that he was proceeding cautiously in calling the neutrality act into operation because a formal state of war had not been proclaimed. Experts in international law say that a blockade could not exist without proclamation of a state of war, which would force invocation of the neutrality act by this country to halt arms and credit shipments to the belligerents.

AWAITS ENVOY'S CALL

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today awaited a visit from Robert Bingham, ambassador to England, who was expected to bring a proposal for joint action of the United States and Great Britain, in connection with the Japanese invasion of China.

Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre denied any knowledge of Ambassador Bingham's prospective call upon the President, but it was learned authoritatively that Bingham would lay before the President this week a definite proposition from the British that the two nations coöperate in a program intended to hasten the end of hostilities in the far east.

The President today signed the $54,000,000 bill providing for various rivers and harbors projects throughout the nation. This was one of the important pork bills passed by congress and the chief executive's signature was needed today to make the bill valid. Otherwise, because of the lapse of ten days since passage, the act would have expired automatically.

Seized with Pistol

With a barrel about one inch long, the pistol fits neatly into the palm of a man's hand.

Joseph Slomkowski, 27 years old, 4508 South Marshfield avenue, was arrested yesterday after a loaded pistol, so small it could be concealed in the hand, was found on the seat of his automobile, parked at 63d and Halsted streets. He disclaimed ownership of the weapon, declaring some one must have thrown it on the seat while he was in a nearby department store.

TAX ON ESTATE OF MELLON MAY BE 35 MILLION

Funeral and Burial to Be at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Tax attorneys estimated today that the federal inheritance tax on the estate of Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, who died yesterday at Southampton, L. I., would exceed $15,000,000 and might run as high as $35,000,000.

An attaché of the register of wills' office, which will collect the tax for the state, said the estate of the former secretary of the treasury would probably exceed that of his brother, R. B. Mellon, which has arranged to pay the state approximately $12,000,000.

Worth Many Millions.

Howard M. Johnson, secretary to Mellon, declined to estimate the estate's assets, but during Mellon's income tax appeal in 1931 the family's holdings were disclosed to have a value on today's market of about 243 million dollars. Most financial observers agreed that Mellon's estate would exceed $50,000,000, despite bequests of more than $100,000,000 in the last 25 years.

Much of this wealth has since been transferred to the Coalesced company with 200,000 shares of stock being given equally to Paul Mellon and Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, Mellon's children.

Funeral in Pittsburgh.

The body of Mr. Mellon will arrive here, his home town and seat of his vast industrial empire, for funeral services and burial tomorrow.

The services will be held at 2:30 p. m. in the magnificent East Liberty Presbyterian church, to which the Mellon family contributed $3,000,000 and which was completed only two years ago.

The Rev. Dr. John Hutchinson, pastor, will officiate. The services will be open to the public. Burial will be private.

The body will lie in state for several hours before the funeral.

Barber Close Friend.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Barber Charles Dingler has lost not only his best customer but his closest friend—Andrew W. Mellon.

For 17 years the austere financier and the barber had been companions. Three years ago at Mellon's invitation Dingler moved into the Pittsburgh millionaire's 24 room apartment here.

"He was rather lonely in a way," Dingler related today. "He lived in that big establishment practically by himself, except for seven servants."

The only real interruption in their 17-year association was when Mellon went to England as ambassador to the court of St. James's.

"I had an operation and couldn't go," Dingler recalled, "But I sort of went with him in spirit. He took our barber chair."

"Our chair," he explained, was the chair he persuaded Mellon to buy and install in his apartment.

"People called him cool and calculating," he said. "I call him softhearted, and I think I knew him."

Woman Is Stabbed to Death; Her Body Stuffed in Barrel

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Murder at Hell Gate—a beautiful young woman in mourning black, stabbed ten times, shot through the head, and stuffed into a barrel—came to light this morning as a dripping mist rolled away from the jagged rocks of the Astoria shore.

Map showing location of Hell Gate.

The tides of Hell Gate, swirling ceaselessly through the narrow channel under the Hell Gate and Triboro bridges, betrayed the murderer. He chose the dawning hours to dispatch his victim and toss the body over a 15 foot cliff.

Identified as Widow.

Throughout the day her identity remained a mystery, but police announced late tonight that she had been identified as Mrs. Essie Gordon, 29, of Revere, Mass. She was identified by Benjamin Joseph, resident of a Manhattan hotel, after he viewed her body in the morgue.

Police said Joseph told them he had known Mrs. Gordon for several years and that her husband had been killed in an auto accident in El Paso, Tex., a month ago.

The murderer had stabbed his victim thrice in the back with an ice pick, a weapon similar to that used in the murder of the artist's model, Ronnie Gedeon.

These three wounds penetrated the lungs. There were two shallower wounds lower down on the back. There were three more in the left chest and one over the right temple. The tenth blow was delivered with such force that it passed almost through the head from the side of the right ear.

Not until later, when the medical examiner's office completed an autopsy, did physicians discover a bullet hole and the slug from a revolver buried deep in the brain.

Body Forced Into Barrel.

The woman had been forced, sitting, into a tub 34 inches long and 24 inches in diameter. Her right shoe was missing, but the left one, of smart black suede, was beneath her body, tangled in her black, sleeveless cloak and a black cloche hat. On top of the body, half wound around it, were two tablecloths, 48 inches square. The head and feet protruded from the barrel.

There was evidence that the murder was committed in a night club, restaurant or tavern. The tablecloths stuffed in with the body were of the type used in such places.

13 MILLION TAX ON 17 MILLION ROGERS ESTATE

Riverhead, N. Y., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The first accounting of the 17 million dollar estate of Col. Henry H. Rogers, approved in Surrogate's court reveals that federal and state inheritance taxes amounted to more than 13 million dollars and that the executors got more than $500,000.

The accounting covered a $9,000,000 trust fund left to Col. Rogers by his father, in addition to his own estate. Col. Rogers died at his home, Port of Missing Men, Southampton, on July 25, 1935.

Each of the three executors was awarded $172,441 in commissions on the principal of the estate and $5,642 each on the income.

KIRKLAND FREE; MYSTERY MARKS HIS RELEASE

the reformatory this morning. Wearing a new outfit of clothes the prison provides and in his pocket the usual $10 given to released convicts, he boarded a street car which took him into Pendleton.

The young prisoner, who is only 26 now, beamed with happy incredulity when he was summoned to the prison superintendent's office immediately after breakfast this morning.

There Warden Andrew F. Miles told him he was "going outside."

Within an hour after receiving the welcome news, Kirkland had collected his few belongings, donned his new clothes and stepped through the iron bound main gate which he entered May 27, 1931.

Bids Pals Good-by.

He bade an affectionate farewell to a couple of prison pals, and shook hands warmly with Warden Miles and promised he would "make good." Then he entered a waiting car with a uniformed guard and was whisked away to an obscure point on the street car line.

Miles said it was permissible for Kirkland to leave the state under his parole. His unidentified sponsor will be held responsible, of course, for any parole violation in the event he revolts against supervision.

The warden revealed today that Kirkland's last request for parole, made Aug. 4, was his fourth in the six and one-fourth years he was imprisoned. His first petition was made at the end of the first year of his sentenc.

Victim's Family Overcome.

While others were indignant in criticizing Kirkland's release, members of the family of his victim appeared to have been struck nearly speechless.

Arlene's brother, Kenneth Draves, who has said he would "deal out my own kind of justice if Virgil gets out ahead of time," said at the Draves' family home in Gary: "There's nothing for me to say now."

That appeared to be the most exasperating part of the matter from the viewpoint of the critics—there is nothing, apparently, that can officially be done about the matter.

"There is no opening for any action by the county or any one now," said John Stanton, chief deputy prosecutor of Lake county. "The state law provides that in cases of indeterminate sentences prisoners may be paroled by the welfare department if they are eligible. That's all there is to it."

It was revealed that two last minute protests had been made by Arlene's father, Charles Draves, and a relative, Attorney C. I. Clemens. They sent telegrams protesting against Kirkland's release.

Prosecutor Critical.

Attorney Robert Estill, who was the prosecuting attorney at Kirkland's two trials, said he believed the parole action was taken too hastily.

"I believe the welfare department should at least have given those desiring to protest a chance to be heard," he said. "Kirkland should have been compelled to serve a full ten years. His short sentence for such a crime certainly was a miscarriage of justice."

R. W. Ballard, Lake county welfare director and chief parole officer of the county, said he was surprised that Kirkland was released.

"The procedure has always been," he said, "for us in the public welfare department to make a pre-parole investigation of the case, including a check of the prisoner's sponsor.

"I have had no communication whatever on the matter from the state welfare board. Now that Kirkland has been released the only thing left for us to do is to provide the necessary supervision."

The "prohibition era" liquor orgy at which Arlene died was staged at a private home in Gary the night of Nov. 29, 1930. Kirkland, to whom Arlene was said to have been engaged, escorted her to the revel.

Within two hours after the party started, it was testified, every one there was drunk. Kirkland allegedly confessed he raped his nearly unconscious sweetheart several times during the party.

When the girl failed to revive from what had been thought was only a drunken stupor, Kirkland and four companions took her for a ride in a car. During the trip the four other youths raped or attempted to rape the girl, allegedly at Kirkland's suggestion.

At his first trial Kirkland was found guilty of first degree murder and received a life sentence. However, Judge Grant Crumpacker, whose son was a member of the defense counsel at both trials, granted a new trial on the ground the evidence had not justified such a severe penalty. At the second trial Kirkland received a sentence of one to ten years on a charge of assault to rape. Charges against his four companions were later dismissed.

COURTNEY SEEKS LAW TO PUT SEX MORONS IN CELLS

Psychiatrists Aid Plan to Head Off Crimes.

State's Attorney Courtney and ten psychiatrists and neurologists decided yesterday at a conference to seek the incarceration of sexual degenerates who, although they have not committed a crime, have tendencies which endanger women.

The conferees agreed to draft bills for submission to the legislature which would create a medical board to pass on such cases. The suggested legislation will be for the purpose of keeping degenerates off the streets.

"We believe," Mr. Courtney said, "that society shouldn't have to wait for a crime to be committed. We want a law which will give competent psychiatrists the right to decide if a degenerate should be left at liberty or sent to an institution."

Named to Draft Bill.

Recommendations on the text of the bill will be made by Dr. Lewis J. Pollock, professor of nervous and mental diseases at the Northwestern university medical school; Dr. Francis J. Gerty, superintendent of the psychopathic hospital, and Dr. David B. Rotman, Municipal court psychiatrist.

Their report will be submitted to the others who attended yesterday's conference. If this is approved, State's Attorney Courtney will have it drafted into legislation and will push the bill at Springfield, he said. If the report is ready in time, Mr. Courtney may ask Gov. Horner to include the subject in his call for a special session which is expected to be issued in October.

Need for Wider Powers Seen.

The proposed medical board would have powers similar to those of the County court in insanity cases, but they would apply to morons, sexual psychopaths, and those with no clear perception of right or wrong. The statute permitting incarceration for insanity or feeble mindedness is not broad enough to include these groups, it was said, for many of the sexual degenerates could pass sanity tests.

DIVORCED WIFE OF H. L. WILLETT REPORTED REWED

It was reported last night that Mrs. Grace Williamson Willett, former wife of Howard L. Willett, wealthy trucking operator, has remarried, and is now living at Prescott, Ont., with her new husband, R. R. Chamberlain, described as a former manufacturer's agent.

She formerly lived in the penthouse at 2130 Lincoln Park West, which, according to the reports, she gave up early in the summer, and then moved to the east after a temporary sojourn in a western suburb. She was later married, the reports said.

Mrs. Willett—or Mrs. Chamberlain—won her divorce and substantial alimony in 1934, dismissing her million dollar alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Mary Cave Hall, a wealthy widow, at that time. Willett and Mrs. Hall were married last May.

AURORA & ELGIN TO USE BUSES ON BRANCH LINE

Buses will replace trains on the branch line of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin electric railroad from Geneva Junction to West Chicago, Geneva, and St. Charles, under orders issued yesterday by the Illinois commerce commission.

The railroad was given permission to abandon train service on its plea that operations have been carried on at a loss. Twenty-six bus trips each way will be provided instead of seventeen trains each way daily as at present. The company was also told it may substitute buses as part of the system running between Wheaton, Elgin, Aurora, and Batavia.

The commission also granted a petition of the Willey Coach Lines, Inc., to operate a bus line from West Chicago through High Lake and Winfield to Wheaton.

St. Louis Catches Doxey and Two.

convicted of any crime. Martin said he was a gambler. Doxey also has a long police record in St. Louis. He was sentenced to one year in the city workhouse there for confidence game. He served 180 days in the Evansville, Ind., city jail for petty larceny, and 30 days in the Youngstown, O., city jail for short changing. The records also show that Doxey served 90 days in Milwaukee for a minor offense.

Theory of the Slaying.

Sergt. Ralph McKenna of the state's attorney's police here yesterday explained the investigators' theories about the murder when he obtained the murder warants from Judge Weiss.

"Doxey is known in Chicago as a procurer and police character," he said. "We have found that he and the Buehler girl were together until an hour before the shooting.

"The Buehler girl was his sweetheart and worked in the vice racket for him. Then she met Lee and wanted to quit the life she was leading. Doxey was angered by this."

Doxey, the sergeant said, fled from Chicago the day following the murder, checking out of the Metropole hotel, 2300 South Michigan avenue at 4:30 a. m. When he left, his automobile bore the Indana license plates found last night.

Girl Maintains Silence.

The two murder warants were obtained by police after efforts to persuade the Buehler girl to tell a full story of the slaying had failed for the sixth successive day. During the morning she was taken before the grand jury but maintained her silence, although shedding copious tears under the questioning of the jurymen.

"I can't talk," she told newspapermen during a brief interview yesterday. "I'd jam up a lot of people who have been good to me—and I don't want to dirty them up."

While refusing to discuss the murder, the girl asserted she was anxious to preach a sermon on right living to other girls. This took the form of a recital of how she drifted into the vice racket and it incidentally served to sidetrack questions about the killing.

Fear of Underworld.

Police who were present during the interview said later that the girl obviously feared to talk, believing she would be killed by the underworld as an informer if she revealed what she knew.

The habeas corpus writ brought in her behalf by Attorney Arnold Harris was dismissed by Judge Michael L. McKinley in the Criminal court after police announced they were prepared to ask the murder warants.

After the warants were issued Judge Weiss first fixed her bail at $15,000. Then upon learning that Judge McKinley had fixed bail at $100,000 pending hearing on the writ, Judge Weiss denied her bail, thus keeping her in custody of police until she is arraigned in the Felony court on Monday.

Robber Gets 1 Year to Life 11 Days After His Crime

Eleven days after Ed Kukula, 21 years old, robbed Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Strause, 6236 South Whipple street, of $40 in cash, a ring worth $300 and an automobile, he was sentenced to one year to life in prison for robbery with a gun by Judge Michael L. McKinlay of the Criminal court yesterday. Kukula was found guilty by the court after his victims identified him as the robber.

ALDERMEN HEAR PLEA FOR BOOST IN TAXICAB FARES

Sentiment Favors Extra Nickel on Flag Pull.

Members of the city council local transportation committee yesterday debated the request of the Yellow and Checker Taxi Cab companies and their drivers for a fare increase, then adjourned without action to await a full report from Maj. R. F. Kelker Jr., trafic engineer for the committee.

Sentiment expressed at the hearing favored an increase of 5 cents in the present initial 15 cent flag pull charge, a reduction in the number of cabs from 4,106 to 3,000, and an extention of the taxi contract ordinance to 1945. The expiration date now is Dec. 31, 1940.

Maj. Kelker, who presented part of his report, was the principal exponent of the agreement, basing his opinion on a study of company records since the taxi strike last March. Several aldermen, headed by Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], however, demanded a showing on the necessity for an increase.

Argument Becomes Heated.

At one point when the argument became heated, Michael Sokol, president of Checker, threatened to withdraw his agreement to reduce the number of taxis, but later appeared mollified when Maj. Kelker answered some of the points raised by Ald. Bowler.

The alderman wanted to know if the companies had paid too much for the cabs, thus raising their operating overhead, also whether the taxis were operated at a needless expense, and whether patrons pay a double rate when a cab is traveling less than 13 miles an hour.

Purchase Prices Told.

Yellow paid $2,050 for each taxi purchaed in 1927 from the Yellow Truck Manufacturing company, Maj. Kelker said. Since 1929, when purchases were made from the Checker Cab Manufacturing company, an affiliate, he said the cost dropped to $1,443 in 1935, when 1,000 were bought, and rose to $1,550 last year with an order for 650.

He also said that Chicago now has the lowest rate among eighteen large cities, incuding New York, and would equal the lowest rate of the others if the fare should be increased 5 cents.

"It is my position that the aldermen should agree that taxis are not a mass transportaation service, but a luxury service," said Maj. Kelker. "The gross revenue of the Yellow company declined from $13,000,000 in 1929 to $5,700,000 last year."

"Even if it is true about taxis being a luxury," retorted Ald. Bowler, "it is the duty of the council to obtain the best service at the lowest possible rate for the patrons, regardless of who they are."

"You aldermen promised during the strike to help us boys," interrupted Dominick Abata, an official of the drivers' union. "If you take 1,000 cabs off the streets it'll increase wages 25 to 30 per cent.

"Now we get $15 a week, exclusive of tips, compared to $13 before the strike. With an increase in the flag pull we would get about $19 or $20 a week."

Discussing the interlocking corporate financial setup of the Yellow company briefly, Ald. Bowler asked if it were true that a $50,000 management fee is annually paid a group of eastern cab officials. Benjamin J. Samuels, vice president of Yellow, admitted the payment, but added that part time service of these five officials saved the company $4,000,000 between 1929 and 1936.

Companies Are Linked.

The Cord corporation, a holding company with extensive manufacturing and transportation interests, controls the Checker Cab Manufacturing company, which is said to have no connection with the Checker Taxi company. Checker Cab Manufacturing dominates the Parmelee Transportation company, which in turn controls the Chicago Yellow Cab company.

The Cord corporation, as of May, 1936, also held a controling interest in the Cab Sales and Parts corporation. In 1933, before the city vehicle license commission, Sokol testified that 55 per cent of the Checker Taxi stock was owned by Cab Sales and Parts. Since then officials of Yellow and Checker Taxi have denied there was any corporate link between the two companies.

GIRL, 7, DIES OF AUTO INJURIES AFTER SHE IS STRUCK IN STREET

Katherine Johnston, 7 years old, 5317 Princeton avenue, died yesterday in Evangelical hospital of a fractured skull suffered Thursday when she was struck by an automobile as she crossed the street in front of her home, Willard Tertenson, 22 years old, 4117 South Wells street, driver of the car, told Stockyards police that the child darted suddenly in front of his machine. He was not held. The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Johnston.

Andrew Pawlik, 56 years old, 3531 South Marshfield avenue, a laborer, died yesterday in St. Paul's hospital or injuries incurred Thursday when he was struck by an automobile at Ashland avenue and 36th street. George Lindemulder, 48 years old, 1407 West 14th place, driver of the car, was arrested by Brighton Park police and ordered to appear at the inquest today.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 682 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Ot these 528 were killed in Chicago, where 14,636 were injured.

BODY OF LOWE FOUND IN SOUND BY COAST GUARD

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The body of John G. Lowe, 52, wealthy retired manufacturer who disappeared mysteriously on Wednesday from a Boston bound steamer, was found floating in Long Island sound by coast guardsmen today.

Mr. Lowe was former head of the Lowe Brothers company of Dayton, O., a paint manufacturing firm which is now a division of the Sherwin-Williams company.

Speeder Judged Unstable in Trafic Court.

A motorist shown to be emotionally unstable by psychiatric tests following his arrest for speeding, was forbidden to drive for a year yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude in Trafic court. He is Horace Bowen, 20 years old, 8837 Wabash avenue. Bowen was sent to Dr. David B. Rotman, Municipal court psychiatrist, after he was seized while driving 45 miles an hour in Western avenue between 76th and 86th streets.

Bowen is the third motorist forbidden to drive under similar circumstances. Last week Judge Braude barred Alvin Hallam, alias Roscoe Chandler, and Rudolph Wojtyla from using their automobiles after tests showed them to be unstable.

$300 Fine Suspended.

Dr. Rotman reported to the court yesterday that Bowen has no sense of responsibility for others. Judge Braude immediately ordered him not to drive for a year and fined him $300, then suspended the fine. Bowen was further required to report regularly to the Boys' court until a motion to vacate his fine comes up a year from today. Court records show that he was fined in 1936 for speeding and served five days in jail early this year for driving while intoxicated.

Allan Spector, 21 years old, 4825 North Albany avenue, wso appeared before Judge Braude on his third trafic offense, was fined $100 and costs for speeding 50 miles an hour in Roosevelt road between Loomis street and Ashland boulevard on Aug. 11.

Orders Mental Test.

Judge Braude also ordered Spector to take psychiatric tests, indicating he would deprive the defendant of the right to drive if Dr. Rotman's report is unfavorable. Records showed that Spector has been fined $5 in May, 1936, for speeding, and discharged this summer on another trafic charge.

Richard Levy, 17 years old, 3723 Wilson avenue, escaped a fine for speeding forty-three miles an hour in Foster avenue by promising Judge Braude to bring his lunch to court Monday and Tuesday and see how other speeders fare.

Another young driver, Thomas Mallers, 20, of 2504 North Linder avenue, who raced sixty-two miles an hour in Cicero avenue, had the alternative of selling his car or paying a $25 fine. He paid the fine.

Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Safety court yesterday sentenced Herbert Lewis, 35 years old, 4212 Cottage Grove avenue, colored, to ten days in county jail for leaving the scene of an accident. Lewis was arrested Wednesday after his automobile collided with another car near his home.

Speeders Jolted

(Story in adjoining column.)

Allan Spector, 21, in court for third offense, was fined $100 and costs for driving 50 miles an hour.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

ROADSIDE TRIAL PUTS POLICE ON MERRY-GO-ROUND

And Visiting Driver Gets Back $6 Shakedown.

BY HAL FOUST.

Joseph R. Franklin of Hammond, Ind., going to the loop on the new Illiana drive, was halted by two policemen in an accident prevention bureau squad car near 92d street last Wednesday.

"You were doing thirty miles an hour in a twenty-five mile an hour zone," said one of the policemen.

Disturbed by Severity.

Although the infraction seemed more technical than actual, Franklin was perturbed because he had heard of severe Chicago penalties for trafic offenses. After a bit of preliminary conversation, the motorist quoted the policeman as saying:

"Since you're from out of town, we don't want to cause you any trouble. You can give us your $6 fine and we'll pay it for you."

On Thursday, Franklin called THE TRIBUNE inquiring about the legality of the roadside trial. He had the policeman's star number, and so the information he gave was telephoned to Capt. David Flynn, head of the police trafic division.

His Money Returned.

The captain wanted an interview with the motorist as a basis for bringing this accident prevention team before the police trial board, so a telephone call was made to Franklin.

"The policemen came to my home in civilian clothes late Thursday and returned my $6," Franklin then said. "They told me their captain had asked them to do this. In exchange for the money I gave them my word I wouldn't appear against them."

Promises an Inquiry.

"I never spoke to any one about this case," said Capt. Flynn. "It's a strange coincidence if these patrolmen got cold feet shortly after I heard of this shakedown report. I'm going to get to the bottom of the entire situation."

There has been an increase in speedtrap reports in the last few months since the courts have been stiffening penalties for trafic offenses. On Thursday, Chief Lester Laird of the county highway police suspended Patrolmen Joseph Borcia and Edward Holcomb on the statement of a motorist, Thomas H. Alexander of Niles Center, that he had given them $48.

9 Wisconsin Counties Join Move for Safe Motoring

BY THORNTON SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Nine Wisconsin counties commanding entrance into the state through Kenosha in the southeast corner have united on a plan to avert automobile accidents by keeping unlicensed drivers and dilapidated cars off the roads.

A plan was adopted at a conference called by William J. Philip, trafic inspector of the state highway department. It is an adaptation of a program started by Kenosha and Racine county authorities to check all cars at county lines to eliminate those not roadworthy and to learn whether the drivers have licenses and a reasonable familiarity with Wisconsin laws.

Confined to Secondary Roads.

The nine county plan differs from the first in that it will be confined to secondary roads. The objection raised to the Racine-Kenosha program was that it would slow up trafic on main roads and in itself create a hazard by holding cars in line pending examination of their drivers.

Under the adopted plan, cars on primary highways will not be stopped unless the drivers show obvious signs of inability or the cars themselves are so ricket, and old that they are menaces to fast moving trafic.

The counties which have agreed on a system of trafic checking are: Kenosha, Racine, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Calumet, Fond du Lac, Washington, Dodge, and Iowa. Ozaukee and Walworth counties are expected to come into the program but did not attend the original conference.

Weeding Out Process Seen.

The theory of checking secondary roads is that incompetent drivers and cars not roadworthy will be caught within their own counties and prevented from getting on the main highways.

The sheriff's deputies will first check to see the driver has a license and that it is signed and in good order. If not, the driver will be ordered to report to the county seat either with a license or an application. All lights and brakes will be checked to show they are in safe working order. Motorists will be queried as to their knowledge of Wisconsin driving laws.

WARNS FIRST REALTY TAX PAYMENTS MUST BE MADE BY TUESDAY

County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer yesterday warned taxpayers that the deadline for payment of the first instalment of the 1936 realty taxes and the full personalty taxes is Tuesday.

Beginning Wednesday, a penalty of 1 per cent a month will be added to delinquent bills. With the deadline near, payments both in person and by mail are increasing. Real estate collections amount to $35,400,000 of the total levy of $76,326,581. On the personalty tax levy of $49,082,209, taxpayers have paid $11,500,000.

4—FUR AUCTION

By CALEB

(Mid-February at Hamburg, Wisconsin)

I HAVE seen pictures of a Moscow court gravely determining great issues—the bench packed with a sober group of stalwart men. Here, this cold February day in northern Wisconsin, is a setting bearing some resemblance to these pictured Moscow courts.

A chief magistrate—or auctioneer, I should say—stands behind a high judicial appearing bench in a great bare room. On each side of him are assistants. They will help him catch the signals of fur buyers who are seated in rows at tables some twenty deep before the bench.

The auctioneer peers at his inch thick catalog listing some four thousand lots of silver fox pelts for sale. Lot 1 is quickly sold for charity. A number register operates over the auctioneer's head and a large "2" announces the second lot for sale. The catalog indicates three pelts in this lot. All the selling is on a per pelt basis. The auctioneer pronounces a reasonable starting price. "$90," he calls.

He catches the raise of an eyebrow, the lifting of a pencil, the guarded raising of a single finger, or a nod, one after another from the men before him. With each indicated signal he cries a price $2.00 higher. "$92—4—6—8—$100," he shouts.

Now each signal raises the price $5.00. Since the crowd is fairly large and the auctioneer cannot catch the signals of all the numerous buyers, the assistants who flank him are sweeping certain sections of the room with their own eyes. At each signal from a buyer following a price call of the auctioneer, the assistant who sees it shouts, "Up," and the auctioneer yells the next higher price. See-saw, the shouted "Ups" resound from side to side of the bench. The signals are given in rapid succession from the floor and the auctioneer rapidly cries, "$175, 180, 185, 190—190! Are you through? —$190!" And his gavel falls and the lot of three pelts is sold at $190 per pelt.

All this has taken about thirty-five seconds, and in another thirty-five seconds the fourth lot has been knocked down.

This continues all day and through the evening and on until four thousand lots of pelts have been sold—in about four days.

No furs are exposed before the buyers during the sale. Each buyer is bidding only on lots which he personally examined preceding the sale. And for each lot he liked, he established in code in his catalog the price up to which he would be willing to bid.

And that's how we buy silver fox furs.

2 BRITISH SHIPS ARE BOMBED BY SPANISH REBELS

Loyalists Report Progress in Aragon Offensive.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 27. — Reports reached London tonight that two more British steamers were bombed off the Spanish coast. The information came on the heels of a warning sent by the British government yesterday to Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish rebel commander, threatening to take "such action as the occasion demands" in event of further attacks on shipping in the Mediterranean.

The bombed vessels were the 4,533 ton African Trader of London and the 3,827 ton Marion Moller of Shanghai. Both were reported leaving Gijon, a North Spanish port, for France when Spanish rebel planes raided the town.

Hole Punched in Hull.

The admiralty announced that one bomb hit the African Trader on the forward deck and another ripped a hole in the hull close to the water line.

Two British destroyers, the Fearless and the Foresight, which were patroling outside the territorial limits, dashed to the port in answer to the captain's calls for aid.

With the destroyers in attendance the African Trader in a leaking condition was reported making way slowly toward Bordeaux, France.

"As far as the admiralty knows," said a spokesman, "the bombing of the vessel took place inside Spanish territorial waters, and there was no question of an attack on the high seas."

The fate of the Marion Moller was not clear, but the admiralty stated no British warship had been called to aid it.

Loyalists Report Progress.

MADRID, Aug. 28 [Saturday]. —(AP) — The government announced early today its troops in the Aragon offensive had hammered wedges into the insurgent lines north and south of the provincial capital of Saragossa.

Mediana, about 15 miles southeast of the insurgent stronghold in northeastern Spain, and Alborton, were captured, it said, while part of Zuera, 15 miles northeast of Saragossa, was occupied.

Zuera is on the main highway connecting Saragossa with Huesca, another provincial capital 40 miles northeast. The government said communications between the two cities were cut off in heavy fighting by the partial occupation of Zuera.

Earlier insurgent reports in Hendaye, France, said the insurgents had halted the government's Aragon advance with counter-attacks in the Zuera sector and the Quinto region southeast of Saragossa.

The government announcement said 2,000 insurgents had been captured in the Aragon drive.

Fight In Teruel Sector.

Government occupation of several towns in the Teruel sector, south of Saragossa and between it and Valencia, temporary government capital, also was reported.

The defense ministry credited the insurgents with advancing toward Parral, on the Guadalajara front northeast of Madrid.

Closer in to Madrid, part of the dentistry building of the university city was blown up by an insurgent mine. Government fighters immediately launched a sally against the enemy trenches but returned to their original positions.

Drive on Northwest Spain.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The advance guard of the insurgent army moving westward from Santander to mop up the last government resistance in northwest Spain tonight reached the outskirts of San Vincente de La Barquera, near the border of Santander and Asturias provinces. Advices said its fall was imminent.

Girl Slain by Youth

Hollys Sagester, who confessed killing girl because she made date with rival.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Prosecutor John Britten said today a first degree murder indictment will be sought against Hollys Sagester, 16 years old, held for the slaying yesterday of Martha Markey, 14. The coroner said Sagester had admitted shooting her with a rifle after she had made a date with a boy friend. Her funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon in New Paris, O., and her schoolgirl chums will be pallbearers.

Chicago Attorney Weds Judge Major's Daughter

Hillsboro, Ill., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Miss Jean Major, daughter of Federal Judge and Mrs. J. Earl Major of Hillsboro, and Paul B. Musgrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Musgrove of Hillsboro, were married here tonight. The Rev. Thomas G. Melton, pastor of the Hillsboro Presbyterian church, officiated at the single ring ceremony at the Major home. Young Musgrove is an attorney at Chicago, employed in Judge Major's office.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Aug. 27.—The Cambria, Imperial Airways' flying boat, arrived at Botwood at 3:05 p. m. [Chicago daylight time] today. It had flown from Foynes, Irish Free State, in 14 hours 26 minutes in its first daylight Atlantic crossing.

FALL FATAL TO AGED WOMAN.

MAP CAMPAIGN IN GERMANY TO NAZIFY THE BIBLE

Hitlerites Hope to Win One Creed for All.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—Under the slogan "one nation, one faith," German Christians, who want to Nazify the Bible, are preparing a forceful campaign in which they plan to appeal to all Germans to drop their religious differences and indorse their version of Christianity.

Since they enjoy the special support of Hans Kerrl, minister for church affairs, the German Christians are confident they will be able to vanquish the Confessionals [Evangelical Lutherans], who have resisted Nazi domination of church affairs, and other groups which are fighting for freedom of creed in Germany. They also hope to win many Roman Catholics to their united German creed.

What Christians Hold.

The German Christians hold that "Christ is the mortal enemy of Judaism." "Therefore," they say, "everything that is Jewish and foreign must be excluded from church life and German Christianity must be based on the Nazi racial creed."

While the German Christians are increasing their activities, Protestant churches which to date have tried to keep out of the feud are beginning to resist.

The St. John's church in Zehlendorf near Berlin held its first intercession services tonight, with many in the congregation of elderly men and women weeping.

Pastor Andler of Vuckow, in his sermon, assured the congregation that "as surely as we cannot permit our hymn books to be censored—as surely as we cannot permit our prayers to be censored—so steadfastly shall we refuse to sing hymns prescribed by the German Christians."

Would Seize Collections.

The Rev. Mr. Andler revealed a new attempt to confiscate the Sunday collections.

"The money we give to the church is holy and cannot be taken by any one but the church," he declared.

No plate was passed tonight, but members of the congregation who were willing to donate were asked to place their contributions on the altar and most of them did.

The pastor revealed that the present number of Protestant churchmen punished for failing to adopt Nazi views on religion includes eleven pastors suspended from office, five forbidden to study, twenty-six forbidden to speak, thirty-one excluded from their parishes and 102, including two women, imprisoned.

While the list of those for whom prayers were being said was read several men arose and ostentatiously left the church, slamming the heavy doors behind them.

This certificate appears daily, except Sunday. 12 of these, each differently numbered, qualify you to receive a two-volume set of "The Complete Works of Mark Twain" (in 24 volumes) in accordance with the terms of the Chicago Tribune's Good-Will Presentation offer.

"A FUNNY IDEA"

MRS. HELEN WILSON.

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—A scenario written in jest at a gay house party—that was how Helen Ann Rork Getty Wilson, former screen actress, today pictured the notice of intention to re-marry which she and her divorced husband No. 2, R. Douglas Wilson, filed recently in Madison, Conn.

"It was a joke, really," she said—but the comedy she outlined apparently held heartbreaks, as well.

"It seemed a funny idea, after we met at that party," she added. "We thought we might even use a license. But after the party, I got to thinking things over. Douglas and I couldn't get along before—what reason was there to think we could again?

"So I realized it was a silly mistake. I am not going to do anything further about that application for a license."

The 29 year old matron, daughter of Sam Rork, producer, was divorced from Wilson, a socially prominent broker, last June 30, at Hot Springs, Ark. They were married April 6, 1936, less than a month after she divorced J. Paul Getty, California oil millionaire.

10,000 GERMANS OF FOREIGN LANDS OPEN CONGRESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—Ten thousand German citizens who live in foreign countries are in Stuttgart for the opening tomorrow of the "Fifth National Congress of Germans Living Abroad." The meeting is an annual affair.

German authorities asserted the emissaries all are German citizens and that appeals of the organization for unswerving fidelity to German ideals are directed to German citizens and not foreign citizens of German blood. They added that nearly 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 German citizens are living in foreign countries.

The presence of numerous persons of foreign nationality, but who, according to Nazi theories, are of "German blood," aroused the feeling among foreign diplomats and consuls in Germany that foreign nationals are being involved in the gigantic propaganda work of the "Auslandsdeutschen." The authorities insist Germans living abroad have definite instructions not to mix in politics in foreign countries.

TROTZKY GUARD SHOT TWICE; DENY PLOT ON RUSSIAN

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 27.—(AP)—A member of the permanent police guard stationed at the home of Leon Trotzky, Russian exile, in nearby Coyoacan, was being treated today for gunshot wounds received from four unidentified assailants.

Police and a spokesman for Trotzky denied there had been any attempt on the former Russian leader's life.

The policeman, Bernardo Echeverria Villegas, explained he left his post Wednesday night to accompany two elderly women who were seeking an address some blocks distant.

When he was returning, he said, he was accosted by four men in an automobile, who, after exchanging words with him, shot him twice. He was only wounded slightly. He said he could not account for the attack.

HOSIERY WORTH $900 STOLEN.

12 ITALIAN GENERALS PRAISED FOR PART IN SANTANDER CAPTURE

ROME, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Twelve Italian generals participating in the Spanish civil war were named tonight in a Giornale D'Italia dispatch which praised them for their "large" part in the insurgents' capture of Santander.

Premier Mussolini also took occasion to acclaim the insurgent victory at Santander, a conquest which cost Italy 341 soldiers killed and 1,676 wounded. [Italy's total losses to date in the Spanish war are 987 dead, 3,670 wounded and 250 missing.]

The generals named were Frusci, Piazzoni, Bergonzoli and Franciscl, who were said to have led their troops into Santander; Attilio Terruzi, inspector general of the blackshirts; and Bavisco, Perti, Roatta, Biscaccianti, Velardi, Manca and Favagrossa.

A dispatch dated from Santander also eulogized Italians who fell at Malaga, Bilbao, Guadalajara, where "many of our heroes shed their blood."

HUNGARY PEACE ENVOY STARTS 'REST' IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, Aug. 27.—Regent Nicholas Horthy of Hungary, in the rôle of special peacemaker and international fence repairer, began an "unofficial vacation" today in Austria.

The admiral-regent's efforts, diplomatic quarters believed, would be toward harmonizing Austrian and German relations, strained over the German church situation and Nazi activities in Austria.

Horthy was said to be deeply concerned at the undercurrent of friction between the third reich and Vienna and to believe it can be cooled only through an interview between Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Austria's chancellor, Kurt von Schuschnigg. The meeting probably would be in Berchtesgaden, Hitler's mountain retreat in Bavaria.

ENVOY OF SPAIN'S REBELS RECEIVED AT THE VATICAN

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Pablo de Churruca, Marquis of Ayonena, presented his credentials today as Spanish rebel chargé d'affaires to the Holy See.

The formality emphasized the Vatican's "de facto" recognition of the Spanish insurgent régime. Prelates insisted the reception of the marquis' "letters of cabinet" did not preclude relations between the Vatican and the Republican Spanish government.

FORD AND GREEN LEWIS' TARGETS AT C. I. O. SESSION

Seeks to Heal Rift of Auto Workers.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—John L. Lewis, dictator of the Committee for Industrial Organization, made a bitter attack on William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, here today and defied Henry Ford. He made a prediction that plants of the Ford Motor company would be organized by the United Automobile Workers of America.

Following Lewis' defiance of Ford, the convention voted a big war chest to carry on an intensive organization campaign among Ford workers. It was decided to impose a special assessment of $1 a member. The assessment would produce $400,000 on the membership claimed by the union.

Lewis addressed the annual convention of the U. A. W., which has been in convention all week, and attempted to bring peace into the organization which has been split by an internal conflict.

Lewis' attendance here attracted little outside interest. Although the convention was moved to the auditorium, where there are facilities for a crowd, less than one-fifth of the 4,000 seats for outsiders were filled.

Calls Ford C. I. O. Goal.

The business of the convention, Lewis declared, is to bring the right of self-organization to workers in the plants of the Ford Motor company.

"It does not make any difference how long it takes, the U. A. W. is going to accomplish the fact," said Lewis. "Henry Ford may believe that he's the biggest industrialist in America. He may believe that his will is superior to that of the U. A. W., and to the congress of the United States.

"But if he continues to believe those things he's going to be a very tired man some day. Some day Henry Ford is going to be so very tired he will be willing to accord to his employés the rights that are due them."

Lewis charged that Green was a traitor to the labor movement and accused him of lending his aid to the General Motors corporation in the C. I. O. strike at the corporation's plans last winter.

Challenges Green.

"He [Green] lent his strength to those who were already strong," Lewis said. "From his drooling lips he mouthed denunciations of the Committee for Industrial Organization which he will have time to think about when he is in purgatory.

"But a traitor cannot stop the progress of a great movement. William Green cannot stop the desire of the workers of American industries to organize. A traitor is merely an annoyance, something like a flea on a dog.

"It ill behooves the officers of the A. F. of L. and it is a sad commentary upon their standards of ethics and honor when they lend their puny strength to the tremendous strength of the corporations of this country in fighting the C. I. O."

Lewis attacked radio stations and newspapers as being unfair to labor. He said that he was going to suggest that organized labor publish a national newspaper "that will tell the truth."

"Labor in America is determined to become articulate and not rely upon newspapers like the New York Herald-Tribune and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and a great number of others who continually assail the ears of their readers with a drumfire of distortion, and misstatement, and exaggeration of the logical aims of labor," he said.

Pleads for Conciliation.

Lewis devoted the latter part of his address to an attempt to patch up the differences between factions in the U. A. W. He urged retention of all present officers; which is in conflict with the campaign of Homer Martin, U. A. W. president and leader of the so-called progressive faction, to oust Wyndham Mortimer and Ed Hall, radical leaders of the unity group.

The delegates did not appear to welcome wholeheartedly his advice on how they could settle their disputes. When his ideas coincided with those of one faction that group would cheer but the opposition would not, for the most part, join in.

Princess to Wed

[Acme Photo.]

Princess Natalie Paley, who will become bride of John Chapman Wilson, according to notice filed in east.

Fairfield, Conn., Aug. 26.—(AP)—John Chapman Wilson, theatrical agent for Noel Coward, has filed an application for a license to wed Princess Natalie Paley, daughter of the former Grand Duke Paul of Russia, the town clerk's office reported today.

Reached at his Sasco Hill home here tonight, Wilson said no date has yet been set for the wedding. His intended bride, the ex-wife of Lucien Le Long, famed Parisian couturier, is staying at the St. Regis hotel in New York City.

In the blank filed in the office of Town Clerk Samuel Glover, Princess Natalie's age is given as 31 and Wilson's as 38.

It will be Wilson's first marriage.

Jewish War Vets Burn German Made Articles

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Committeemen of the East Side post of Jewish War Veterans burned $75 worth of German made goods, taken from a Negro pushcart peddler, at a downtown intersection today. An east side boycott on German products has been under way several months. The veterans said the peddler would be reimbursed for his loss.

TEACHERS ASK PARLEY TO HEAL STRIFE OF UNIONS

Appeal to Green; to Vote on A. F. of L. vs. C. I. O.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The American Federation of Teachers, which elected as most of its officers liberals favorable to the C. I. O., concluded its convention today with a message to William Green, American Federation of Labor president, expressing the hope he may obtain unity in the labor movement.

The convention proposed a national convention of all bona fide unions, regardless of affiliation, to bring about such solidarity.

Membership to Vote.

A referendum of the 22,000 teachers in the federation will decide next spring whether the A. F. T. will leave the A. F. L. and join forces with the C. I. O.

In the meantime the teachers will refuse to pay any A. F. L. levy toward a "war chest" in its battle with the C. I. O. For the present, the convention decided, the Teachers' federation would concentrate on a nation-wide organizational drive financed by a $25,000 fund to be raised by its locals.

In its closing session today the federation adopted resolutions asking:

Transfer of control of education in CCC camps from the war department to the federal office of education.

Call Both Men Victims.

The teachers charged McCoy and Card were dismissed for union activity.

President Jerome Davis of New Haven, Conn., who was reelected, and eleven of the fifteen vice presidents are members of the liberal faction of the federation which pushed through a motion for the referendum over objections of a conservative group headed by the Chicago delegation.

DAYLIGHT AUTO BANDITS ROB 2 WOMEN OF $1,500

Four robbers riding in two automobiles yesterday forced Mrs. Anna Smolen, 46 years old, and her daughter, Helena, 21, both of 3620 South California avenue, to stop their car at 13th street and Ogden avenue. While more than 20 persons watched, too surprised to move, the men drew revolvers, took $1,500 from the women and sped away in their machines.

Several hours later Anna Radwanski, 12 years old, 2237 South Homan avenue, found $150 of the money which had been in separate envelopes in front of 2206 South Homan avenue, and turned it over to police. Mrs. Smolen who is the owner of a cafe, told police she had withdrawn the funds from the Liberty National bank, 3158 Roosevelt road, to pay taxes and to cash patrons' pay checks.

TEXTILE UNIONS OF SOUTH, EAST TURN TO A. F. L., GREEN TOLD

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 27.—(AP)—William Green reported to the American Federation of Labor's executive council today that hundreds of textile workers had joined A. F. of L. unions recently despite an aggressive C. I. O. organization campaign.

Green, federation president, read the council a report from George L. Googe, southern organizer, that he had organized more than 12 locals of textile workers with more than 4,000 members. Just yesterday, Googe reported, a North Carolina local with 300 members voted to affiliate with the A. F. of L.

Frank Fenton, New England organizer, notified Green three locals with 1,400 members had been organized in New England mills and that two locals had deserted the C. I. O. textile workers' organizing committee at Thomasville, Conn., with 2,800 members, and at Middleton, Conn., with 1,000 members.

DEDICATE NAVAL PLANE BASE WITH AIR SHOW TODAY

Naval aviators will present a two hour air show starting at 3 p. m. today to celebrate dedication of the United States Naval Reserve aviation base, formerly Curtiss-Reynolds airport, at Lake avenue and Sherman road, north of Glenview. A crowd of 20,000 is expected to attend, and 150 acres of parking space has been made available.

Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis, commander of the Great Lakes naval training station, and his aviation aid, Commander Ralph Woods, will be guests of honor.

WORKER CHARGES THREATS BY C. I. O. IN STEEL DISPUTE

James Prusiecki, 40 years old, a worker in the Inland Steel company plant for 22 years, testified yesterday that alleged C. I. O. workers made threats to keep him from testifying against the C. I. O. at a national labor relations board hearing. Prusiecki appeared as a witness at the hearing in the United States courthouse building on the charge that the Inland company violated provisions of the Wagner labor act by refusing to sign a wage contract with the C. I. O.

Under questioning by Attorney Frederic Burnham, representing the steel company, Prusiecki said that he left the Steel Workers Organizing committee, branch of the C. I. O., to join the Inland independent union. The C. I. O. workers came to his home at 3912 Deal street, Indiana Harbor, Prusiecki said.

"They told me that I should tell the truth, and that if I said anything against the C. I. O. I would be taken up the road for six months," the witness testified.

AGENT FOR A. F. OF L. ORDERS OUSTER OF ALL MUNCIE LABOR CHIEFS

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Hugh Gormley of Indianapolis, state organizer for the A. F. of L., said today he has ordered the suspension of all delegates to the Muncie Central Labor union from labor organizations there not affiliated with the A. F. of L.

Gormley also ordered all officers of the Muncie C. L. U. removed and canceled plans of the Muncie Central union for a Labor day parade in cooperation with several C. I. O. local unions. Until a reorganization of the central body is effected, Gormley said, he will direct its official acts.

Divorces Cashier, but Won't Accept Alimony Payments

Judge Charles A. Williams yesterday granted Mrs. Alice E. Farrell, 39 years old, 3811 North Western avenue, a divorce from Frank A. Farrell, cashier for a commission broker on the ground of desertion. The court awarded her $8 a week for support of two children, Frank Jr., 9, and Clifford, 8. Mrs. Farrell's attorney, Raymond Kelner, said she had refused to accept alimony.

"Find This Girl"

BY ROY VICKERS [Copyright: 1937: By Roy Vickers.]

SYNOPSIS.

Bessie Mersand, a nurse, is acquitted of the charge of administering a fatal dose of medinal to an elderly patient. Gwynneth Bentley and her lover, Roy Gleason, attended the trial. Later Gwynneth meets Bessie, who has changed her name to Mathews, and waiving references, gives her a job caring for Gwynneth's invalid husband. She plans to kill her husband and plant the guilt on Bessie. Medinal tablets for Gwynneth's sleeplessness are placed in Bessie's charge. Gwynneth hides a valuable jeweled dagger, then puts the ground tablets in her husband's food. She then gives Bessie the day off and sends away Bessie's luggage to make it appear that Bessie has fled. In London Bessie meets her friend, Jim Watkin. Jim has heard of the crime over the ticker at his club and is torn by doubts of Bessie's innocence. When Bessie boards the train to return to her post, Jim, assured of her innocence, drags her out and tells her what has happened. He hides her in his apartment. Jim calls on Gwynneth and makes her admit Roy Gleason is her lover. Then he tricks Roy into admitting that he and Gwynneth had attended Bessie's trial. To inspector Rason, who calls on him, Jim introduces Bessie as his sister.

INSTALMENT XVIII.

INNOCENT QUESTIONS.

Watkin broke off as the door opened and to his amazement Bessie herself came in, carrying a tray. He realized then that he had shown a dangerous amount of enthusiasm.

"I thought you would like what the teashops call 'morning coffee.'" She set down the tray and would have left them but Rason protested.

"That would be very nice if you'd join us, Miss Watkin. Being a real detective I immediately noticed that there are only two cups."

"But I shall be interrupting."

"Not a bit. If I listen to your brother any longer my head will swim."

"I know!" laughed Bessie. "He had a go at me this morning—telling me that hospital nurse was innocent."

At first Jim was on tenterhooks. Then he thrilled at her courage. Her whole attitude had changed when he had made it clear to her that he himself was in danger of going to prison for helping her. Her shrinking had vanished and she had become bold.

"You think his theory is all nonsense, Miss Watkin?" asked Rason.

"O, I've no opinion, really!" returned Bessie with perfect poise. "But I think it's funny she should run away if she knows she's done nothing wrong."

Rason appeared to give weight to the girl's opinion.

"We don't build too much on that. There've been innocent people who've run away before now of sheer panic. Anyway, she won't get far. We shall probably pick her up today."

"The hotels and lodging houses will be on the lookout, eh!" suggested Watkin.

"They will. And of course we shall notify them all. It's just possible she may be in some private house and they're sheltering her. A risky game that, because we can run them in as accessories."

Bessie was asking innocent questions—putting her head in the lion's mouth and enjoying it. Jim was afraid she would overdo it, for Rason was shrewd. But as she went on lightly chattering there seemed not the least risk.

Oddly, her very confidence raised in him the ghost of an old suspicion. For an unsophisticated girl who had led a quiet life as a hospital nurse Bessie was showing extraordinary adroitness and coolness in the face of the most appalling danger. She was handling Rason with the utmost ease and Rason was not even in love with her.

How much more easily would she handle a man who was hopelessly smitten with her! Himself for example.

For a moment he was absorbed in this dreadful doubt. Then again he was attending to their conversation.

Bessie was positively drawing Rason out—finding how much he knew.

"You'll be making me betray official secrets in a minute, Miss Watkin. But there's one thing that isn't going to be a secret much longer and you may as well hear it." He half turned to Jim. "Hasn't it occurred to you, Watkin, that that girl has a confederate—or at least a young man?"

"I hadn't seen it sticking out," said Watkin. "She's rather a mouse of a girl, isn't she—not very attractive!"

"Somebody must have tipped her off not to collect that luggage," continued Rason. "Almost certainly a man. And if she has a sweetheart we shall know in an hour or two."

"You mean he'll come forward and give her away?" asked Bessie.

"O, no—he's too deeply in it for that already. He knows we shall want him, too, for harboring her," answered Rason. "At this moment we're getting an order from a magistrate to enable us to examine that luggage at Waterloo. If she has a young man, she's probably got some letters of his and maybe a photograph as well, amongst her things. Very few women destroy correspondence. Well, I'm going on up to Uplands. We'll keep in touch, Watkin. Good-by, Miss Watkin!"

They saw him out of the flat. Not until they had heard his footsteps die away did Jim Watkin brace himself to ask:

"I've written to you twice. Have you——?"

"I've kept them both," answered Bessie. "And a photograph of you cut out of 'The Gabbler.'"

"Then we're done for."

"Don't be ridiculous!" he said, his nerves on edge. "If you've kept that stuff they have a clear trail leading to me—which means you as well."

"You're a beast, Jim, for making me say I've got both letters and the photograph in an envelope—here."

She touched the front of her dress.

"Phew!" Jim Watkin drew a deep sigh of relief. For an electric moment they looked into each other's eyes and it was he who turned away with a laugh.

"You keep me guessing!" he ejaculated. "When I heard you talking to Rason I thought you were too clever to be good. And sometimes—when you're just being you and calling me a beast—I think you're too good to be true."

She drew back from him.

"Do you mean you still think that I might be——?"

"What on earth does it matter!" he gave back. "We're both in it up to the hilt. We're going on with it, and you know it. We've got to be practical and we begin by going to the bank. Come along."

At the bank he drew a hundred pounds, handed her fifty and laughed as she winced.

"Squeamish about the money?"

"Horribly."

"You'll get over it," he grinned. "You'll have a day's shopping—and you'll like it."

By methods that were his own Jim Watkin obtained a couple of prints of Mrs. Bentley from the photographers.

Within an hour he was at the locksmith's shop in Paston alley where Bessie had obtained the duplicate key of the safe.

His instinct was in no doubt at all about Bessie's innocence—in no doubt at all about Bessie herself. But he wanted to establish her innocence by reason as well as by intuition.

Just for his own satisfaction! There was also a very practical side to it. Every statement of Bessie's that could be definitely proved might be a point against Mrs. Bentley.

He stamped into the evil-looking little shop, slamming the door behind him. Denting, the proprietor, unshaved, a cigaret hanging from his lip, slouched in from the back. As usual he said nothing, waiting for his customer to begin.

Jim waited quite a long time and then:

"You recognize me. You have a good memory for faces, my friend."

"Comes in useful sometimes," said Denting. "You were here on the 10th of last month—with a girl."

Denting said nothing but looked extremely sour.

"Read your paper this morning?" demanded Watkin.

"I've no time to read the papers. And I've no time to hang about here jawin' about nothing."

"That key you made, brother, was used for robbing a safe. The safe at [illegible]dington, Surrey. And there's the murder of the old man tac[illegible] Still in a hurry, brother?"

"[illegible] to do with me," grunted Denting.

495 GET DEGREES AS U. OF C. CLOSES SUMMER SESSION

Dr. DeVane Makes Plea for Better Teaching.

The plain, hard work of fundamental teaching in fundamental subjects is the most important task in educational institutions. Dr. William Clyde DeVane, chairman of the department of English at Cornell university and visiting professor at the University of Chicago, made this statement yesterday in his commencement address at the annual summer quarter convocation on the Midway.

Dr. DeVane addressed a class of 495 who were awarded college and advanced degrees by President Robert M. Hutchins, who returned to Chicago from England yesterday in time for the ceremony in the Rockefeller Memorial chapel. The degrees brought the total awarded since the August convocation a year ago to 2,335.

A Call for Good Teaching.

"It is the function of the university, the colleges, and the schools to teach thoroughly and well," Dr. De Vane said in his address. "Without good fundamental teaching, the schools of higher learning will themselves be crippled and our society itself will be shaken. We must have teachers of intelligence and spirit who will yet be willing to do the plain hard work of fundamental teaching in fundamental subjects.

"Our educational theorists have strayed from the simple duties. All our school teachers want to teach the 'finer' things; our high schools are full of ambitious surveys of the great fields of knowledge. It frequently happens the pupil is given a view of world literature before he can read his own language intelligibly, and he fancies he can write plays before he can write sentences."

Gifts Total $598,350.

President Hutchins announced in his convocation statement that the total of all pledges and cash gifts received by the university during the last three months was $598,350.

Among the graduates is Miss Patricia Beesley, 18 years old, of 1154 East 65th street, who received both bachelor and master degrees in English. Another is James Henry Breasted Jr., son of the late oriental scholar at the university, who received a M. A. degree.

PSYCHOLOGISTS, TWINS, TO STUDY 3,000 OF THEM

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Two psychologists, twins themselves, expect to be on hand to study the behavior of some 3,000 doubles who will attend the sixth annual convention of the National Twins' association here Saturday and Sunday.

Doctors T. E. and H. E. Liimakka, assistants to Dr. H. H. Newman of the University of Chicago biology department, carrying notebooks and pencils, will mingle with the other twins. They will report their observations later to Dr. Newman.

Dr. T. E. Liimakka has been finger printing twins for several years. In the finger prints, at least, he says twins differ, although many patterns bear points of resemblance.

Edward M. Clink of Silver Lake, Ind., is president of the association. He helped organize it at Warsaw, Ind., where twenty-four twins attended the first convention.

The convention attendance has increased each year and Clink says the organization has a potential membership of 4,000,000 in the United States.

KIDNAPERS ROB CHICAGOAN ON RIDE IN 3 STATES

After being kidnaped by three men and driven through parts of three states, Ralph Marcum, 29 years old, a Chicago merchant, was on his way home from La Crosse, Wis., last night, $1,800 poorer than when he left, Marcum, who is co-owner with James Saunders of a market at 3759 Chicago avenue, was kidnaped at Western and Wilson avenue Thursday afternoon, according to his story to Police Chief John Webber of La Crosse. At the time he was carrying $1,800 which he said he had just borrowed from Benjamin J. Crandall, a Long Island, N. Y. utilities operator.

The men forced him into their car, he said, and drove him across Wisconsin and into Minnesota, near Rochester, where they put him out after taking the $1,800. He made his way into La Crosse yesterday. Government authorities are to be notified of the kidnaping, which was a federal offense.

MONTAGUE FREE ON BOND; RACES TO SEE MOTHER

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—After seven years of wandering and adventure in many strata of society, John Montague, the mystery man of Hollywood's golf links, came home to his mother today.

Freed in $25,000 bail on a robbery charge that snatched him from the sumptuous setting of the west coast film colony, the "Monty" of the movie folk was once again Laverne Moore.

Montague drove here from Elizabethtown, where he was granted bail yesterday in his arraignment before Supreme Court Justice O. Byron Brewster on a charge of taking part in the $700 holdup of a roadhouse seven years ago.

WIFE SLAYER HELD INSANE.

Domenico Frangella, 64 years old, charged with killing his wife, Clara, 55 years old, with a hatchet in their home at 7727 Dobson avenue on July 30, after a fortune teller told him his wife was unfaithful, was held insane in a report submitted yesterday to Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the criminal court by two psychiatrists.

SATURDAY NEWS OF NEW BOOKS

Unusual Story Vividly Related in Prize Novel

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"The Seven Who Fled," by Frederic Prokosch. [Harpers, $2.50.] Published Thursday. Winner of the Harper 1937-'38 novel prize.

INTO geographical and psychological reaches unknown to most of us, the 28 year old Frederic Prokosch, author of "The Seven Who Fled," takes his characters, walks with them through warm snow and bitter sun, through sweet despair and unhappy love, and gives them, as the greatest of all boons, the joy of death.

Frederic Prokosch.

Reality that is vivid down to the last mite crawling in a wound becomes, at the great moments in the characters' lives, something cosmic rather than factual and they all find, in some strange, soul-stirring way, complete happiness in their dire fates.

There are seven Europeans who flee from a central Turkestan city. Their presences there, in most cases, are flight in itself—flight from life. One is an explorer, two are scientists, the others are out and out escapists. They join the caravan of a sinister Chinese who, after a bout in a border town with the authorities, leaves the two young scientists in prison and a sick Frenchman, a Russian, and a Belgian as hostages. He takes with him the young English explorer and the beautiful Spanish wife of the sick man.

Each one's tale is told, not only of the days and nights which lie between their escape from Kashgar, but of the moments of youth that live forever in his or her mind.

There is some unusually vivid writing in Mr. Prokosch's pages, descriptions which a reader does not forget, which have the hazy loveliness of a mirage. One feels the faint dizziness of a sudden awakening from sleep, of memory suspected rather than certain.

Few are going to be able to tell whether Mr. Prokosch tells truth or tall tales about his fantastic background. But few will care. For "The Seven Who Fled," is like literary opium, inducing poppy dreams.

Probably for those who like rousing harrowing adventure, there is too much psychological acceptance of one's destiny, and for those who like a well-analyzed tale of how man reacts to strange and terrifying fate, there is too much harrowing adventure. But I suspect that "The Seven Who Fled" will be a vastly popular book.

Clarence Day's Papers on "Life With Mother."

"Life With Mother," by Clarence Day. [Knopf, $2.] Published Monday.

Clarence Day died at the height of his literary career, when his inimitable "Life With Father" was on every sophisticated bedside table and its quips on every pair of superior wisecracking lips.

Mr. Day had written a good many other papers than those collected in "Life With Father," some more especially about the long suffering, but not always silent, woman who bore his father's name and his tantrums. Beside that iron-clad gentleman Clarence Day's mother was a mouse, but when she was on her own and made up her mind about something she pretty well managed to get it.

One of the things she made up her mind about was having an engagement ring. She wouldn't have minded not having one, and she had already collected a handsome assortment of rings when each successive son's advent was thus bejeweled, but one day she heard about her husband's youthful engagement to a cousin and the returned engagement ring and she set her heart on having that ring . . . and got it.

She also set her heart on having a rubber plant . . . and had it, until it grew out of the roof after disrupting the household semi-annually for years.

But even in a book labeled "Life With Mother" it is still father who is the dominating character, father whose insistence on finding a coachman to fit the livery caused many strange diversions, father who cursed the man next door for sneezing too loudly, father who never acknowledged when he was beaten because he almost never was.

These papers are posthumously published, but they were assembled by Mr. Day before his death. They are mildly amusing but nothing to compare with "Life With Father." Lightning—such a flash of humor as "Life With Father"—rarely strikes twice in the same place.

Book Views in Brief

Happenings as Seen Through Child's Eyes.

"Never Say Goodbye," by Julia Truett Yenni. [Reynal & Hitchcock, $2.]

Although this is another novel whose happenings reach the reader through the eyes of a child, there is something refreshing and vital here. It is the story of a Louisiana family of modern times, whose cycle of births, marriages, and deaths is about the same as is to be found in any other family of similar size. But as told by the child, between her seventh and twelfth birthdays, it revives many half forgotten mind pictures and emotions. Her revealing chronicles of the love affairs, for instance, catch much that more sophisticated writers miss. The writing is good, remarkably good in spots, and the whole book, though light, is pleasing reading. C. L.

Hilaire Belloc Writes a Study of Crusades.

"The Crusades," by Hilaire Belloc. [Bruce, $3.]

The versatile Hilaire Belloc has now turned his pontifical gaze on the crusades, a movement as puzzling to the modern man as today's events would be to the armed knights of 1097.

Mr. Belloc makes the point that the crusades might have succeeded, as a military operation, if the crusaders had seized Aleppo and Damascus. Then, he says, the eastern Mohammedan world would have been cut off from Egypt and the west, and the power of Islam, a threat to Europe until the siege of Vienna in 1683, would have been mortally wounded. Other historians are not so sure of this point.

The author gets in a few licks on his favorite topic, "Europe and the Faith," on which he wrote a book in 1920. Although descendants of the crusaders now rule most of Islam, he doubts that christendom has achieved a final victory. "We are divided in the face of a Mohammedan world," he says, "and that division cannot be remedied because the cement which once held our civilization together, the Christian cement, has crumbled." C. J. W.

Life of Frontier Days Celebrated in Ballads.

"American Frontier," by Elisabeth Peck. [Doubleday-Doran, $2.]

In ballad stanzas as elemental and lawless as the pioneers they celebrate, Elisabeth Peck sings of the ax wielders, rope spinners, adventurers, travelers, zealots, patient, beauty starved mothers, and the rough and ready fathers who tamed the wilderness of America. She writes in the rude speech of the lonely Kentucky mountaineers, among whom still linger the frontier rhythms, and whom she came to know from years of teaching at Berea college.

Her themes and mood range far wider than those mountain valleys, though—as far as the pioneers themselves roamed. Here is boasting fit for a frontier troubadour; the lament of a mother who reaches beyond the drab cabin life to find lovely names for her daughters; the primitive ragtime merriment of "Arkansas Traveler." Heroes of history step occasionally into these pages with the incidents that made them great, but Mrs. Peck's true heroes are the nameless pioneers, and for them she has created a saga. R. P. MacF.

"On Gilbert Head," by Elizabeth Etnier. [Little-Brown, $2.50.]

"On Gilbert Head" is a diary, the completely natural and unaffected account of Elizabeth Etnier's experiences on a small, rocky island along the Maine coast where she and her husband, a painter, bought a large, old house and forty-two acres for $2,200, and where they set about the adventure of restoring and building. It is told without any attempt at a literary style, its charm being in the personality of the author herself and in the thumbnail sketches of the New Englanders with whom she comes in contact.

She and her husband lived in a schooner, the Morgana, while they were working at shingling, painting and renovating the house. There were frequent trips to Bath for supplies and jaunts up and down the Kennebec river, at the mouth of which their island is located. Her descriptions of the wind-swept, hilly, rocky country, of the sea in its moods of good and bad weather are full of a healthy, vigorous zest for life.

There are many amusing incidents, many happy days and no tragic ones recorded in this delightful story of a New York girl who prefers Maine. E. W.

These Mystery Tales Will Give Readers Thrills

"The Puzzle of the Blue Banderilla," by Stuart Palmer. [Doubleday, Doran, $2.]

WHEN Oscar Piper, the New York sleuth, stumbles across a murder on the train on which he is riding through Mexico, he calls for help. To the rescue comes Hildegarde Withers, the eccentric spinster, who has hunted down the bad men and the bad women with him in previous books.

Under their eyes another murder is committed at a bull fight. The odd teammates go to work, Piper in his department routine, Hildegarde with her intuition. She has the last laugh, as usual.

This is a well written, logically constructed detective tale. The answer when it comes is fair, because the clews are all there; well concealed, however. S. M. K.

Mystery Mingled With Psychological Horror.

"To Walk the Night," by William Sloane. [Farrar and Rinehart, $2.50.]

For an intellectual cocktail, try this compound of mystery and psychological horror tale, garnished with a fillip of the supernatural. Told in the first person but without the usual defects of that technique, "To Walk the Night" contains an amazing—a monstrous—theme which, with unremitting suspense, finally accounts for the murder of Prof. Le Normand, an astronomer, and another inexplicable death on an Arizona mesa.

Behind these tragedies moves Selena Le Normand, the professor's beautiful wife. To tell how she becomes a terribly sinister figure would spoil the story. For all its bizarre plot, this is a novel to be read at a single sitting. It is the author's first try at fiction, but he has written several plays for the little theaters. P. W.

This Mystery Offers Something Different.

"Dead Reckoning," by Bruce Hamilton. [Simon & Schuster, $2.]

This mystery story uses a unique method. It kills the mystery at the very beginning by permitting the reader to study the murderer and to learn why he wants to commit the crime. Watching him step by step creates an increasing tension that proves almost unbearable by the time the murder comes off.

Then, in a manner that would do credit to De Maupassant, the author proceeds to show what fate holds in store for the little dentist after the terrible act is accomplished.

Just as "A Piece of String" is a classic example of the inexorability of fate, of the inevitable adding together of small incidents that in the end hold life or death for one person, so "Dead Reckoning" is a remarkably realistic picture of the ghastly destiny an insignificant middle class Englishman finds inescapable. The book is written with tremendous power and clarity. It is the "something different" readers are seeking. E. W.

Real Life Case Gives Theme of Mystery.

"The Vera Gerard Case," by Joseph Cottin Cooke. [Manthorne & Burack, $2.]

The still unsolved murder of Vivian Gordon, night club queen, is the theme of "The Vera Gerard Case," a first mystery novel. Vera's beautiful body is found one winter morning in a park. Sutherland Rhinelander, wealthy big game hunter, insists that his friend, Carleton Bailey, amateur crime investigator, take the case. Bailey's solution is plausible and ingenious. C. J. W.

This One Lacks Spark Despite Good Writing.

"A Minor Operation," by J. J. Connington. [Little, Brown, $2.]

This mystery intrigues, but the reader wishes it might move a little faster. The story opens with a blood stain in an English living room in the home of an embezzler who is doing time in prison. The embezzler's wife is missing. As the hunt for the body gets under way you can't help but suspect that when it is found it will not be that of the wife. Without leafing ahead you might even guess it is the embezzler himself who has come home from prison to be done in. The writing is above average, the plot is good, but somehow this piece lacks the spark. C. L.

Pollen Count Double That of Last Year.

If your hay fever is better don't get the idea that the season for it is over. It isn't. In fact it is just beginning to hit its stride.

Physicians yesterday issued this warning to the many victims who have had relief during the last week. The relief, they say, has been due to persistent lake winds and cool weather.

As a matter of fact the count of ragweed pollen, principal villain of the hay fever drama, is more than twice as much as it was last year at this time. Adding the daily counts from Aug. 1 to 26 of 1936, there was a total of 948 ragweed particles per cubic yard of air. This year the count totaled 1,808.

Notes Drop in Count.

During a 24 hour count for Thursday, O. C. Durham, botanist of the Abbott laboratories of North Chicago, who makes a daily test, found there were 253 grains of ragweed pollen in each cubic yard of air, compared with 289 the day before. During a four hour count yesterday forenoon there were 102. There was little wind to blow the particles into the air and this caused the drop.

The severity of the hay fever season, said Dr. Irving S. Cutter, health editor of THE TRIBUNE, depends on the amount of irritating pollen in the air. An early summer indicates a profusion of weeds and a severe hay fever season.

"During the pollen season the daily variations depend on weather conditions," he said. "Heat, sunshine, and strong winds from pollen fields increase the count. Cold, cloudy, and calm days show a diminution. A lake wind helps those who live close to the shore."

Dr. Cutter also emphasized the need for citizens to coöperate with Mayor Kelly's weed eradication committee.

Use Dust Respirators.

Sam Lubin and George Vollbracht, employés of the Miehle Printing Press company, 14th street and Damen avenue, solved their hay fever problem by experimenting with dust respirators provided by the company for wear in the shop. They found the respirators filtered out pollen, and now wear them in off hours.

Many hay fever sufferers get some relief by using various types of masks, filters similar to industrial dust respirators, which have been on the market for several years. They filter out the pollen with carbon particles, cellulose, cotton, or a similar substance.

While effective in some cases, Dr. Cutter said that in others the masks do not bring relief because the filter is dense enough to remove all the pollen it often impedes the breathing.

Home Made Mask Effective.

A home made mask will often give the sufferer a good night's sleep, Dr. Cutter said. Such a mask may be made by stitching together layers of eight ply gauze, and fastening the pad over the nose and mouth with tape or strings.

The best remedy for home use, hay fever experts say, is a filter attached to one window, with all other vents tightly closed. This can be fashioned by inserting half an inch of cotton between two window screens and using an electric fan to draw the filtered air inside. An efficient electrical window filter has been on the market for ten years, they said.

LUPE DISMISSES PRINCIPAL'S SUIT OVER DEMOTION

Judge John J. Lupe yesterday sustained the motion of the board of education to dismiss the suit of William T. McCoy, veteran educator, for reinstatement as principal of the Bowen High school. He was transferred last March 9 to principalship of the Beidler elementary school.

Judge Lupe held that McCoy's bill was technically deficient. His attorneys, Henry P. Chandler and Thomas L. Marshall, said they would either appeal or file an amended bill.

The court held that McCoy's petition did not set forth clearly his status as a high school principal. Frank S. Righeimer, attorney for the board, contended McCoy held a certificate as principal for elementary schools but had never taken an examination for advancement to the higher post when he was promoted to the high school position in 1931.

Charge Hines Postmaster with Embezzling $1,200

A warant charging embezzlement of $1,200 in postoffice funds was issued yesterday by United States Commissioner Walker against Clifford L. Neely, 40 years old, acting postmaster at Hines. A postoffice inspector said he detected the shortage in a routine inspection of Neely's records. Neely, who lives with his wife and four children in Broadview, denied taking the money, but could not explain the shortage. The postoffice is chiefly patronized by former soldiers receiving hospitalization at the veterans' hospital in Hines.

Asks Divorce Again

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
Mrs. Louise Schram Killen.

Mrs. Louise Schram Killen, 6939 Crandon avenue, filed suit in the Circuit court yesterday for a divorce from Robert Killen, a building engineer, on the ground of cruelty. Her attorney, Norman Becker, obtained an injunction tying up Killen's insurance policies, automobile and furniture.

Mrs. Killen, who is 26 years old, was married to Killen on Dec. 19, 1933, a month after she divorced Chester Schram. While her divorce bill against Schram was pending in February, 1933, he sued James Carey Davis Jr., son of the late vice president of the American Steel Foundries, for $100,000 for alienation of affections. Davis died the following day, Feb. 3, after taking a sedative. His death was termed accidental by a coroner's jury.

PREACHER KILLS WIFE AFTER THEY TOUR COUNTRY

Linden, N. J., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The transcontinental trip of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pusey, who have been preaching the gospel and quarreling as they traveled between California and New Jersey, ended here tonight in the slaying of the woman. Her body, bearing two deep gashes in the head, was found in their sedan. When arrested Pusey was quoted as saying: "We started on our preaching tour May 17, 1937. We stopped in towns and would preach in the churches. She and I would preach together.

"When we were in the middle west I found out she had been married four times. It was the first I knew of it. From then on we were constantly fighting. She threatened to kill me several times.

"We quarreled again tonight. I decided I'd better get my licks in first."

After detailing his confession Pusey ate some sandwiches and then he asked for his Bible "for consolation."

MOVE TO DISBAR PAYSOFF TINKOFF IN U. S. COURTS

Paysoff Tinkoff, attorney and accountant who was sentenced two years ago to a term in Leavenworth prison for aiding William J. Newman, wealthy excavator, in evading income tax payments, was ordered yesterday by Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle to show cause by Sept. 25 why he should not be barred from practice in the federal courts in Chicago. Tinkoff has already been disbarred by the United States Supreme court. He is now at liberty, after serving part of his 18 month sentence, on habeas corpus proceedings. Judge Briggle acted yesterday when Tinkoff appeared in connection with the liquidation of Newman's affairs in the bankruptcy branch of the court.

PEACE PARADE TODAY TO HONOR JANE ADDAMS

Several thousand persons are expected to march this afternoon in a peace parade commemorating the death of the late Jane Addams and the signing of the Kellogg peace pact.

The parade will begin at Ohio and La Salle streets at 2:30 p. m. and end at the Grant park band shell, where memorial services will be held for Miss Addams.

Miss Addams, who died May 21, 1935, at the age of 75, founded Hull house in Chicago and organized the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. She devoted her life to world peace and social betterment.

CHICAGOANS TOLD HOW TO AVOID PARALYSIS PERIL

Warned to Keep Children Away from Crowds.

Chicago citizens were warned yesterday to take precautions against infantile paralysis, because there are more cases of the disease in the city now than at any time in the last 20 years.

Parents were advised by medical authorities to keep children away from crowds, and to stay away themselves, for, they declared, healthy grown persons can carry the disease to children without necessarily contracting the disease. Adults are susceptible, but less so than children, to infantile paralysis.

Warning Signals Told.

First symptoms of the disease are much like those of a cold, grippe, or summer complaint, the city health director warned. Fever, drowsiness, a headache, or stiff back or neck are the early signs that come under this category, he said.

"There is only one way to be sure," Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, said yesterday. "Call a doctor at once. If it is early enough, he may arrest the disease, which usually develops in from 36 hours to three days after the first symptoms."

Serum prepared at laboratories in Chicago and Springfield is distributed free to physicians requesting it. At the state health department it was said that 300 recovered patients of infantile paralysis have offered their blood for the serum. Although the serum will not prevent the disease, it often averts paralysis, officials said.

221 Cases in State This Year.

A total of 221 cases have been reported in the state so far this year, compared with 95 in the corresponding period last year. In Chicago there have been 68 cases in the first 22 days of this month, compared with 10 cases in August, 1936. In July there were 14 cases compared with 7 in July, 1936..

"Although this looks like quite an outbreak, it is slight compared with the epidemic here in 1917, when 551 cases and 187 deaths were reported," Dr. Bundesen said.

Dr. Bundesen declared that all boys who attended a boys' camp near Twin Lakes, Mich., will be kept under surveillance. An autopsy yesterday revealed that the death Thursday of Franklin Whittington, 8 years old, 6346 Ellis avenue, who returned from the camp ten days ago, was due to infantile paralysis.

16 OF CREW ILL AS SHIP PASSES UP QUARANTINE

Typhoid Feared After Passengers Leave.

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—A German liner discharged nearly 1,000 passengers here today without having halted previously at quarantine for public health examination, city health authorities said, before it was disclosed that sixteen of her seamen were ill with a fever.

Tonight, as the list of the sick seamen rose to twenty-four, the medical resources of the city and port of New York, of the United States public health service and of the health services of the home states of passengers, were put to the task of protecting the public from possible infection.

The ship the Hansa, cleared without examination at quarantine, said Dr. William H. Best, assistant to the health commissioner of New York, by applying for and receiving a "radio pratique"—a system under which a stop at quarantine is waived if a vessel's surgeon radioes belief that there is no quarantinable disease aboard.

Rule Violation Alleged.

Late in the day Health Commissioner John L. Rice said it appeared there had been "a definite violation" of the radio pratique agreement "on the part of this steamship company, rather than a fault" in the system itself.

Almost simultaneously, Dr. Charles V. Akin, in charge of the quarantine station, announced the Hansa's surgeon, Dr. H. Grieshaber, would be "relieved of eligibility" to obtain radio pratiques in the future, despite the fact neither typhoid nor paratyphoid—the tentative diagnosis of the health commissioner of the disease of the seamen suffered—was quarantinable.

"Any doctor who fails to notify of any suspicious cases would get the same treatment," Dr. Akin said.

Gas Poisoning Suspected.

The company earlier had made it clear that its view had been that the illness was neither serious nor contagious.

Dr. Grieshaber said this morning the seamen's sickness possibly was due to the effects of a fumigant used in the ship at Hamburg. At one time in the afternoon Capt. William Dreschsel, marine superintendent of the Hansa's owners, the Hamburg American line, had said doctors agreed it "might be" a slight case of gas poisoning, and that thus the crew, numbering some 400, would be permitted to go ashore.

Dr. Rice, however, said later none of its members would be permitted to leave the ship until he had been examined.

"We suspect the cases to be typhoid or paratyphoid, but we must wait until we have the examinations to determine," Dr. Best said. "We are doing all we possibly can."

GOOD BORING WITHIN.

David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers, at the right hand of John L. Lewis as organizer of the C. I. O. and advocate of the third party, told the annual convention of the United States Automobile Workers of America meeting in Milwaukee that, of course, there were communists in the C. I. O. unions, and that if they were workers they were welcome.

"As long as communists work in industry," Dubinsky said, "they can belong to the unions. They also belong to the activities of the unions. As long as they will serve the organization I am for them although I disagree with their principles."

Mr. Dubinsky has crawled out from under the bed. Last year when persons whose eyes saw what they saw said that the Democratic popular front had communist support and communistic elements they were told that they were looking under the bed. It was the place to look because the communists were there. A general incredulity prevailed, and mockery took the place of common sense.

The communists have joined the C. I. O. revolutionary party because it is revolutionary, and the communists support the Democratic administration because they hope it will be revolutionary enough to make hash of everything and allow them to get in control. The approved communistic method is to attach itself wherever it can and to get within, and at the proper moment seize or attempt to seize the power. That is the conventional tactic, and Mr. Dubinsky confirms the facts.

Mr. Dubinsky also confirms a recent statement of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who said: "We already know the facts about communism in the C. I. O. A large number of known communists have been on the pay roll in organizing both the steel and automobile strikes."

We have had the word of Gov. Frank Murphy that the Lansing lawlessness, the unauthorized sitdown strikes violating the agreement with General Motors, and the attempts to dictate rents and food prices were inspired by the communist leaders who had followed Homer Martin into the state and were running wild. Martin himself became alarmed, apparently not because he disapproved of the methods but because he was afraid his communistic associates would get his job.

The association of the communist party with the Lewis Popular Front is a necessity of communist discipline as it is now administered by Stalin. Wherever opportunity presents itself the communists are required to subordinate their own immediate party interests and principles, and join with the most radical of any political groups. That is present day logical communism based upon the expectation that the Reds can build wherever the radicals, extremists, reformists, and old line Socialists can tear down.

Earl Browder, the general secretary of the communist party, said the other day that communists in the C. I. O. as well as in the A. F. of L. have been extremely influential. Israel Amter, communist organizer, said: "We are in harmony with the policies of the C. I. O. and the progressive movement within the A. F. of L."

Although Lewis must know that his communist associates caused him to lose White House favor temporarily because they were too rough and too much in the open, he has never repudiated their support or driven them out of his organization. These are busy days for the borers within. Heretofore they have based their hopes on governmental weakness. Governmental assistance is something welcome but unexpected.

THE MIDWEST'S DILEMMA.

Government statistics continue to show an increasing flow of food stuffs from Argentina and other foreign countries into our Atlantic seaboard markets. Other than corn, the principal commodities are canned, salted, and pickled meats and other miscellaneous articles usually grouped under the term "packing house products." While the average American will probably consider that this condition is the natural sequence of drouths plus the administration's policy of prosperity through scarcity that will adjust itself as soon as the "ever normal granary" is established, the subject is worthy of deeper study. South American countries have tremendous exportable surpluses and they will not so readily relinquish a market once gained.

Contrary to the general impression, North America has no transportation advantage in shipping to South America. A substantial section of Europe is actually closer to Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires than is the port of New York. As a result, ocean rates applying from these South American ports to all destinations are measured by the European rather than the American standards of transportation costs. As a matter of fact, the foreign tramp captain would much prefer and quote low rates on a cargo for the United States because of the greater possibility of securing a second load from New York to Europe.

An examination of the rates in effect from Buenos Aires to New York will prove interesting. On canned and pickled meats, regular liners quote $7.00 per gross ton. The rates to New York from Sioux City and Omaha are $17.70, from Kansas City and St. Joseph $18.37, and from Chicago $11.87. The midwest farmer is already coping with a differential of from $5 to $10. As to corn, the Argentine rate to New York is $10 per gross ton, while Omaha and Sioux City figure $8.85 for the same quantity. Here the midwest farmer has an advantage, but a slight one.

Politically, the great west should supply the food stuffs for the populous east, but if transportation dictates that eastern United States and Argentina shall be economic partners, opposition to that tendency must of necessity raise prices all around. The answer is the preservation of competitive equality, not by duties and other artificial barriers, but by the scientific development of the midwest's only form of transportation—the railways. This must be accomplished to prevent the loss of a substantial section of the domestic market by the midwest.

LIFE IN AMERICA.

More than half the radio sets in the world are in the United States, which has about 6 per cent of the world's population. This is the report of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The United States has 30,000,000 of 56,225,000 sets, one for every 4.2 persons, and nearly one for every family without allowing for two-radio households.

The only countries approaching the American level are the United Kingdom, with a set for every 4.9 persons, and Denmark, with one for every 5.5. Germany, where ownership of radios is encouraged as a leading feature of the Nazi propaganda machine, still has only one for every eight persons.

Possession of a radio may not be the most important criterion of civilization. Its value as an index seems dubious after listening to some of the announcers. But it does give a fair indication of the extent to which the common man shares in the products of an industrial civilization.

There was a total of 40,560,167 automobiles registered in all of the countries of the world at the beginning of this year. Of these, 28,520,559 were in the United States. In this country there is one automobile for every 4.5 persons. A car is considered a necessity by nearly every farm family and by those of the vast majority of American industrial workers. Our Canadian neighbors are the only nation which comes close to the American level, with one car for every 9 persons. England and France have one for every 20, Germany one for 49, Italy one for 104, Japan one for 472.

The telephone is considered a necessity by most urban families in the United States. Even some of those on the relief rolls try to keep their phones in service, maintaining that they need them as an aid to finding employment. The United States has nearly half of the 35,000,000 telephones in service in the world, 137 for every 1,000 people. Only three other nations, Canada, Denmark, and Sweden, have more than one telephone to every 10 people. Great Britain has 54 to a thousand, Germany 49, France 34, Italy 12.

The motion picture is the world's common denominator of entertainment. The 15,378 theaters in the United States which are wired for sound are 30 per cent of those so equipped in the world. If seating capacity or annual attendance were taken as the index, the American lead would be still greater.

Per capita consumption of meat is an important index of living standards. It is higher in the United States than in any of the advanced industrial nations of Europe. Recently the New York health department sought to set up a food budget for a family living on the relief allowance of $8.05 a week. Of the items in that budget the New York Times said:

"A pound of butter and a pound of lard a week are poor rations for a family of five, but one-fifth of a pound per week is the weekly allowance for every person in Germany. To a Russian or Italian worker's family eight pounds of any kind of meat a week would be an unattainable luxury."

We still have in America people who are undernourished. We have people who lack more essential comforts than radios, telephones, automobiles, and regular trips to the movies. But to shed rhetorical tears over the "one-third ill fed, ill clad and ill housed," while at the same time restricting and destroying crops and encouraging industrial combinations and price fixing, is not a policy which is going to bring an American standard of living to the unfortunate third, nor permit its continued enjoyment by the other two-thirds.

ADVANCED RADICALS.

[The Detroit News.]

It is interesting to find an advanced radical journal like the New Republic coming to the defense of such an arrangement as the hiring of Mr. Charles Michelson, publicity director of the Democratic national committee, for a lucrative job with the Crosley Radio corporation.

The News has had no part in the criticism of this affair, which has been denounced widely as giving the corporation, a radio operating concern, a pull with the administration. We know Mr. Michelson and, while disappointed by his obtuseness in picking the particular job, attached no great importance to it.

However, what interests us is the New Republic. If the administration at Washington were a conservative Republican administration like President Coolidge's or President Hoover's, this incident would have sent the New Republic into transports of rage. It is true Mr. Michelson would not be found working for a conservative Republican administration. But there are honest conservative Republicans as well as honest liberal Democrats. And anyway the personal character of those concerned is not a very good basis on which to judge incidents of this sort; considering how easy it is to set precedents and how hard to get away from them, once set, it is far safer to stick to principle.

One trouble with advanced radicals is that their high principles are stretched so high they become elastic. For another example, the New Republic supported the Supreme court packing scheme. If President Hoover or Coolidge had proposed to do to the Supreme court what President Roosevelt proposed, it would have screamed bloody murder.

As in the Michelson incident, the New Republic stretched its principles to fit its sympathies. It does not make for confidence in advanced radicals.

THE BUSY CORRESPONDENT.

Kissing stories seem to be the vogue and I might as well offer one of the classics. Sarah Bernhardt, on one of her farewell tours, was accompanied by the usual tribe of newspaper men and among them Finley Peter Dunne (otherwise Mr. Dooley), who was then with the Inter Ocean. Parting from this entourage at the Chicago station, Mme. Bernhardt administered a kiss to each. But when she came to Pete she gave him two, saying, "One for you and one for monsieur your editor." . . . "Madame, I represent ten other papers also," said the recipient. Mise Fein.

SINISTER SIGNS.

Some signs there are already that forecast
The summer's going; can this thing be true
That skies and dawns like this will go at last?
Do summers leave us as their days run through?
Of course we know it, but when threshing crews
Gather on hillsides with their loud machines—

No use to stick our heads in sands and hide
Like desert ostriches; the thing is plain.
The signs of summer's weakening spread wide—
The katydid; the cornsilk going dead—
The blighting frosts are not far on ahead.

Of all the fashions that have thwarted the charm of women in recent years the most unsightly by far are these floppy three-quarter length affairs that they wear around the beaches and park. I don't know the polite name for them, but perhaps you'll be able to understand when I tell you that they are too long for shorts and too short for slacks and too flimsy for either. IS YOUR CHILD READY FOR SCHOOL?

IT will not be long before our youngsters will be returning to school. What a thrill comes, or should come, to every child when he marches up to a new teacher's desk and proudly displays a card entitling him to enter a higher grade!

But is he physically fit? Have the summer months been used profitably in the building of health? Is he adequately protected against contagious diseases—those pitfalls which encumber his pathway?

Education is a fascinating lure, one that beckons and calls with mysterious magnetism. Some parents are overambitious in this respect, others not sufficiently so, but all are in agreement in wishing for their sons and daughters "sound minds in strong bodies."

During his school days, far more than most of us realize, the youngster is building for life. He acquires a substantial part of his training through his own efforts. He learns to mingle with others, to accept rebuffs or corrections when deserved [and occasionally when unmerited]; the great lessons of give and take. True enough, studies should be pursued diligently, but let us make sure that the child's attitude toward his books is one of curiosity; that the unfolding of the tasks of the day shall whet his appetitite for more, rather than disturb his thinking and dull his interest. No one willingly would handicap a boy in a race, nor attempt to teach him to run with a ball and chain attached to each foot. In like manner we must make certain that the physical equipment of every boy and girl measures up to the duties before them.

What about eyesight and hearing? Do not expect your child to evince either interest in or enthusiasm for his work if he sees poorly or hears imperfectly. Simple tests for the acuteness of these senses are easily made. A youngster may have one of these impediments without realizing the situation himself.

Instead of apologizing for Bob because he is obliged to repeat a grade, why not investigate the source of the difficulty? The reason may be found in some bodily defect.

More school days are lost because of sore throats and bad tonsils than from almost any other cause. It is not easy to convince parents of the fact that a sizable percentage of all cases of heart disease arise in childhood because of some infection within the throat. Rheumatism is frequently traced to the same place. We can teach every child to become a good gargler and arrange for the removal of tonsils honeycombed with infection.

Then there are the contagious diseases. We have all heard the pernicious doctrin expounded that every child should have measles and whooping cough as quickly as possible "to get them over with." This is vicious teaching. More deaths follow these two infections than are caused by diphtheria.

Why risk disaster? We can vaccinate with a reasonable degree of success against whooping cough, and a single dose of diphtheria toxoid will afford protection against "the choker." We may not be able to escape measles, but at least we can try. If this malady develops, do not regard it lightly, as pneumonia or running ears are frequent complications.

It goes without saying that smallpox should be guarded against, even though there has not been an epidemic in the community for many years. Only among the unvaccinated can the disease thrive.

Parents can be too fussy about their children, keeping them at home on the slightest pretext—in fact, making them all too conscious of their physical condition. On the whole, however, mothers know their progeny pretty well and are able to distinguish between illness that is real and quirks of disposition. Even though there is no rise in temperature, if a child is obviously not up to normal, keep him at home and put him to bed. We must recall that one clearly below par in resistance is far more likely to pick up infections.

To be on the safe side, every youngster should be given the "once over" by the family physician a week or two before school opens. Minor defects will be caught and many school absences may thus be saved.

School nurses play an important role, particularly in preventing the spread of the common cold. Do not resent the fact that the nurse may send your child home with a note advising that he be kept indoors for two or three days. Neglected colds are costly. The home treatment is for Johnnie's protection as well as for that of the other pupils in his class.

There are few compensations for a weak physical body. Certainly education is not worth the price if it saps health. This means that the goal must be within the mental and physical powers of the youngster. If he loses weight or becomes nervous or worried over his studies, reduce the program substantially. Irreparable damage may be done by the "forcing" process.

CARE OF HAIR.

C D. G. writes: Recently I washed my hair with the pure juice of two lemons, because my scalp was itchy. Since then my hair has been falling out badly, and the scalp continues to itch. I am 45 years old, and the scalp seems healthy.

1. Do you think the lemon juice was harmful?

2. Is there anything known to medical science that can stop hair from falling out?

REPLY.

1. Probably not. Lemon juice contains citric acid. You may need a soothing oily wash that is mildly alkaline. Try castile soap and warm water; then copious drenchings of cold water.

2. Look to the general health first. Then make certain that the scalp is healthy.

We have some general suggestions on the care of the hair and scalp which you may have upon request accompanied by a stamped, addressed return envelope.

WILL AFFECT BABY.

T. Y. writes: I am going to have a baby and I think I have syphilis.

1. Will this affect the baby?

2. Will the doctor find it out at birth?

REPLY.

1. Yes, unless you receive the proper treatments. Have a blood test made. If it is positive, submit to treatment without delay.

2. Yes, if you are not given the drugs which will protect your baby as well as yourself.

FUNERAL PROCESSIONS.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Will you please settle this for us?

1. When we are in a funeral line driving our own cars, is it true we are traveling at our own risk?

2. If we have the red light against us, but we keep on going, and the person that has the green light breaks in the line, can we have him arrested?

3. If there should be an accident at the time, can we hold the man that had the green light liable?

4. I say we can't and our friend says we can. On the back of the funeral stickers used on the windshield it says "Travel at your own risk."

5. What does this mean? M. H.

1. "Emergency vehicles," as defined in section 1 of the trafic code, are excused by section 5 from strict compliance with the code, but the definition does not include funeral vehicles. Section 43 prohibits driving "between the vehicles comprising a funeral procession," but we find no authority for the common assumption that funeral processions can themselves disregard trafic lights. We disapprove of the practice.

2. We would say that both parties are subject to arrest.

3. No.

4. We agree with you.

5. See foregoing answers.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MUTILATION OF MONEY.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A question has come up between us as to whether or not a person may be arrested for destroying legal tender. Will appreciate your opinion. F. P.

Section 279 of title 18 of the federal code punishes fraudulent mutilation of gold and silver coins. We know of no penalty on nonfraudulent destruction of other money.

If by "legal tender" you mean paper money, etc., destruction would involve a 100 per cent profit for the government and a 100 per cent loss for the owner. We see no reason why the government should punish such action. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

OPERATION OF MOTOR VEHICLE.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I would like to ride a motorcycle. 1. Can a girl under 16 years of age ride one? 2. Can she get a license? L. P. P.

1. Section 93 of the Illinois act regulating trafic on highways provides that "no person shall operate a motor vehicle who is under 15 years of age, unless . . . accompanied." The term "motor vehicle" is so defined in Section 2 as to include motorcycles.

2. There is no age requirement for the vehicle license. Illinois has no driver's license law. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NEPOTISM.

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 21.—Business in volume and values, in a great many industries, is back to 1929 levels, and even greater than that. Still millions are unemployed and one class of persons struck hard by this unemployment, for whom there is little or no hope, are the men with a "touch of gray around the temples," the men who have passed the age of 40.

Why can't these men obtain jobs, no matter how well experienced and educated they may be? The answer is nepotism.

Take nepotism out of the government and industry and we [yes, I am one of them] could find jobs. But how can we expect industry to take nepotism out of their plants and offices when our own government continues to pile up one of the biggest nepotism "armies" we ever had! Let us start right in with President Roosevelt.

He appointed his own son as a secretary at $10,000 per annum, plus expenses. His job is to escort the President, a job heretofore belonging to an army or navy officer or aide-de-camp, or other bodyguard.

Next, the President recently appointed his cousin's widow, Mrs. Robbins, at $6,500 per annum, plus expenses, to make a trip around the world at government expense for the purpose of visiting our foreign embassies, consular offices, etc., in all parts of the world for the purpose of looking over the lace curtains and drapes.

Next, we now have more than 975,000 people on the federal pay roll, exclusive of the CCC and the military and naval forces. A recent congressional investigation disclosed that approximately 100,000 of these employés are relatives; in a great number of instances live under the same roof, often, especially in the District of Columbia, as many as 5, 6, and 7 members of one family on the federal pay roll. In one case 6 members were on the pay roll, aggregating $21,000 per annum in salaries, and these in noncivil service positions.

In the state of Alabama we have the spectacle of seeing two brothers running the state [or just about running it], one being a senator, the other the speaker of the house. Now, on the eve of adjournment of congress, a governor appoints his own wife to serve as senator until a senator is elected in a special election. With congress out of session there will be nothing for her to do, except, of course, to sponsor political appointments sent to her by her husband, and also to sign the pay check at the rate of $10,000 per annum. A VETERAN.

THE PENSION DELAY.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—After untold suffering and many deaths caused by failure to pay old age pensions, word comes from Washington that pensions for August may be refused by the controler general.

Why in the name of common sense, humanity, and decency should the aged be punished for mistakes or dishonesty of others?

Is there no way responsibility for this disgrace can be placed and speedily rectified? T. B. S.

PAY RESTORATIONS.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—In answer to Joseph Grady may I correct his and many others' impression of civil service employés?

He referred to us as "cheap skates" because of our suits for back pay, and also claims that pension deductions were made on the basic salary. To begin with, all pension deductions are made on actual salary received.

During the payless pay day periods the firemen, policemen, teachers, health officers, and other city employés performed their duties under the most trying circumstances. With no pay in sight and months in arrears, they were forced to borrow money at high interest rates to live, but municipal functions were performed just as always—and for this we are called "cheap skates."

The judges and Municipal court employés won their suit for back pay and have been on a full pay basis for about two years. The aldermen who instituted the pay cuts will have their pay restored as will all other elective officials, such as the mayor, city controler, city treasurer, as soon as they sue for restoration. So why not the civil service employés who are the backbone of municipal government? JUST A CHEAP SKATE.

VICTOR COMPANY AND THE TVA.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—I am writing to call attention to an error in an editorial published yesterday in THE TRIBUNE. The editorial stated correctly that the Victor Chemical company had contracted with TVA for power at a price distinctly lower than the cost at which any private corporation offers it. But it was stated further that the company was building its new plant in Tennessee rather than in Chicago for this reason of cheaper government [TVA] power. That was a mistake. The Victor company, which operates and will continue to operate a plant in Chicago Heights, desired to supplement its present Nashville plant with a new one in south Tennessee. It had not intended to expand its Chicago plant at this time.

The company found that the Tennessee Electric company would not make rates comparable with the government rates and so accepted the TVA power contract.

WALTER B. BROWN,
Vice President, Victor Chemical Company.

SPANISH ORPHANS.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Walter W. Schaible's letter from Franco's army in today's TRIBUNE is very refreshing. It is one of the very few utterances heard in favor of the other side of the Spanish question. The Spanish civil war has loosened on the long suffering public an endless flow of propaganda by the Reds, near-Reds, and pinks in parlors, halls, and stadia throughout this fair land.

An orphan child is a thing of pity irrespective of his parents' political colors. The very fact that all the so-called Spanish orphan homes are only opened in Red territory shows that altruism is not the only "ism" that inspires these tender hearts to make these efforts.

Yours for less propaganda, Fascistic or communistic, and for more good old American fair play. NOT A FASCIST.

Elaine Buell Is Engaged to Albert Koehl

BY JUDITH CASS.

MINGLED with today's account of another busy week-end which will include several weddings, a christening, some tennis matches, yacht races, and a beach party, is romantic news of interest in Omaha, Neb., and New York, as well as here.

Mrs. Harold Ferris White is announcing the engagement of her niece, Miss Elaine Clark Buell, to Albert E. Koehl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Koehl of New York. Miss Buell, who makes her home with her aunt, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter C. Buell of Omaha. She is a graduate of the Frances Shimer school and of the Katherine Gibbs school of Boston.

Mr. Koehl is a graduate of Cornell university and has been engaged in business in Chicago. Following their wedding on Nov. 1 he will take his bride on a month's honeymoon to the Hawiian Islands.

The wedding is to take place quietly at Mrs. White's home, 5816 Blackstone avenue, with only the families present. Miss Buell and her fiancé are leaving today for New York to spend a week with his parents.

Knorr Infant Will Be Baptized Tomorrow.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunter Knorr [Jeanne Street] will receive the names of Thomas Hunter in a baptismal ceremony at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the chapel of Christ church in Winnetka. His christening robe is the lovely one, heavily trimmed with heirloom lace, in which his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harry L. Street, was christened Jeanne Wakefield.

Oddly enough neither little Hunter's mother nor any of his three aunts was christened in the robe, for it evidently was mislaid for a number of years. However, the spacious attic of Mrs. Street's Winnetka home gave up the treasure recently, and Mr. and Mrs. Knorr set an early date for the christening service, else their lusty infant would have outgrown the robe's fastenings.

Mrs. James R. Shannon, the former Katharine Street, and George Gaylord Olmsted Jr., and James Knorr of Wichita, Kas., are the godmother and godfathers of the baby. Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, who have been visiting Mrs. Street, unfortunately had to return to their Denver home early this week, so another aunt, Miss Marjorie Street, will be her sister's proxy. James Knorr was unable to come for his nephew's christening, and his proxy is to be Paul B. Magnuson Jr.

Miss Phoebe Massey has a busy week-end in prospect, for she is having a house party, and she has invited seventy girls and their escorts to a beach party tomorrow afternoon. Most of the season's debutantes, and a number of second year girls, are included in the group that will swim, play baseball and wind up with a picnic supper on the Masseys' beach. This evening Miss Massey is giving a dinner before the dance at the Indian Hill club.

Anne Palmer Wedding in Wisconsin Today.

One of today's weddings, that of Miss Anne Palmer, to David Whitney Schoonmaker, is providing a pleasant country journey to the dozens of Winnetkans and Chicagoans who will be in Chippewa Falls, Wis., for the ceremony this afternoon. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Palmer, have been living in Chippewa Falls recently, but they were Winnetkans for years, and have many friends here.

The bride is to be attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dudley Russell Palmer [Nancy Harris] of Evanston, as matron of honor. Miss Eleanor Janney, Miss Barbara Bastien, and Miss Jean Schoonmaker, sister of the bridegroom, will be the bridesmaids,

Good Morning!

A prima donna, her musical director husband and their pride and joy, a young man no bigger than a minute, sat in a projection room watching a picture.

It was the first movie the small boy had ever seen, the first in which the other interested gentleman had ever beheld his wife. It was, you see, Marion Claire's debut cinema. [And now you have met Miss Claire, Director Henry Weber of W-G-N, and the scion of the house of Weber.]

A nervous strain it must have been on two of the trio—but I'm sure as the production reeled on its way that they must have relaxed. For "Make a Wish" is a charming photoplay and Miss Claire—who is as beautiful as a May morning—gives a most delightful account of herself.

She has poise that never deserts her. Poise characterized by a most appealing suggestion of shyness. Her voice is true and lovely and it registered excellently. And you will, I think, love the music.

The story is a clean, touching, all family affair. Most of the episodes take place at a boys' summer camp near where is a musicians' colony.

To the camp comes the widowed Irene's small son. In the adjacent colony is a famous composer—who loves kids—with an operetta to get out. To visit her son comes mamma and her fiancé, a stuffed shirt of a Mr. Mays, who has insisted that she give up the stage if he does her the honor of marrying her.

Son adores composer and looks on Mays with a cold eye. [So do you.]

Mother and son, of course, become involved in the operetta. And composer, mamma and son, well—never mind. . . . ANYHOW, the show which WOULD have failed had not a beautiful lady and a young lad come to the rescue—is an immense success, and there's a glorious rainbow of promise in domestic skies to fill the finale with glamor.

The picture is exquisitely mounted and the scenery is splendid. Acting is effective throughout. Basil Rathbone makes an intriguing hero. Bobby Breen—still a little stagey but not objectionably so—adds much to your enjoyment with his bell-like voice. Direction was aces and the action compels your sympathetic interest from the first scene till the last.

Maude Adams Named Professor of Drama at Stephens College

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—President James Madison Wood of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., disclosed today that Maude Adams, who retired from the stage in 1918, had accepted the post of professor of drama at Stephens and would take up her duties there in September.

The arrangement with Miss Adams, President Wood said, is only for September, October, and November, but he expressed the hope it would lead to a permanent connection with the college and the founding there of the "Maude Adams School of Drama."

We are anxious," he said, "to have Miss Adams' personal influence on the girls."

Stephens is a junior college with an enrollment of 1,170 girls.

Rivals Protest Beauty Award to Film Actress

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—When blonde, shapely Phyllis Randall, 21 years old, winner of this year's Miss California title at the Venice, Cal., mardi gras, recently was revealed as Actress Frances Paxton, who had previously gone through with a marriage ceremony, the discovery precipitated a chorus of protests on the grounds that the winner was disqualified by her professional and marital status.

Miss Randall admits she is Frances Paxton of the Hollywood Sister team of Virginia and Frances Paxton. However, she averred that her entrance into the contest under another name was no subterfuge as rival beauties protested, but was motivated by a desire to stand on her own without the help of her sister.

As for her "marriage," she points out that the ceremony with Dave Gould, film dance director, at Yuma, Ariz., last December, was annulled immediately afterward.

On the heels of Miss Randall's case—and lovely heels they are, in her beach sandals—now comes that of Helen Greene, just chosen Miss Washington, D. C., and recommended to one of the studios by a talent scout. Miss Greene was assailed by other girls in the eastern Miss America contest for being in reality a divorcée and a mother, but she still may win her trip to Hollywood.

The big row in the summer of 1936 concerned the Venice, Cal., mardi gras after blue eyed, blonde Phyllis Dobson, 19, won the award. Other contestants complained that Miss Dobson really was Phyllis Ludwig of Fresno, Cal., a motion picture actress, and therefore a professional.

Campus Shoes Are Styled for Hard Wear

BY RHEA SEEGER.

New and timely footnotes from the college collections! For the first time some bright soul has designed footgear especially for campus trotting. Knockout stuff, smart, long suffering, without being too utilitarian, and trim enough without being too dress parade. Quite a trick if you ask the college shoppers.

With five good colors from which to choose any outfit can be matched or color contrasted with black, wine, brown, navy, and a forest green. These swanky oxfords are made of supple bucko, a tricky lether that looks like suede, has all the slenderizing possibilities of suede, but wears practically forever without going fuzzy and gray because of neglected brushings.

The sponge rubber soles are dyed to match the bucko and stitched on to show a smart trim effect. The lacings are wider than the usual laces and they are plenty good to look at as well as wear.

With them are the carry-all bags, also designed for haphazard campus wear. They look very much like outside tobacco pouches and have a zippered closing with a device for carrying a keyring. There's a separate inside case, a small copy of the larger size, for money, when you have it. And if you object to anything that looks like a purse or handbag, the small inside case can be sunk in a deep coat pocket and used for the extras you need.

The broguish type shoes are called "clodhoppers," but don't let the misnomer scare you the duet of clodhopper and campus carry-all are priced for college finances, and every one who sees the combine takes them as soon as they can be wrapped. And these can be used for country life and sports and for vacationists who are leaving when every one else has returned.

WHEN John Huston opened at the Blackstone last spring, playing the leading rôle in "The Lonely Man," his father, Walter Huston, accompanied by Mrs. Huston [Nan Sunderland], came on from California for young Huston's first theatrical appearance. They attended the dress rehersal as well as the opening night's performance, and young Huston undoubtedly treasured his father's approving nod and his quiet "All right, son. Very good."

John Huston—Fan—Memory—Garden.

His first theatrical engagement over with the final Chicago performance of "The Lonely Man" tonight, John Huston will return the courtesy by flying to Pasadena to see his father and Nan Sunderland open Monday night in their new play, "Miles of Heaven," which deals with Sir William Herschel, astronomer to George III. of England, and the man who discovered Uranus, and his sister, Caroline, who assisted him with his observations and calculations, discovering herself eight comets, "five of them of unquestioned priority," as the Encyclopedia Britannica phrases it. Young Huston will have with him a movie script he has completed during his Chicago engagement, and a play a New York producer wants to sign him for autumn production.

MENTION was made in "Railroad Stories" that the Illinois Central makes up printed sheets of pictures of locomotives to fill requests from fans. The following letter was received soon after by George M. Crowson, assistant to the president of the Illinois Central system:

"Please send me pictures of locomotives. Having been struck by one of your trains at a grade crossing seven years ago next month I have since been interested in railroads, and especially the Illinois Central. I also stop and look both ways now before crossing any railroad crossing. Have a number of engine pictures and a few models in my collection."

THE faculty for remembering names and faces was being discussed, and one member of the party, a famous Chicago surgeon, told of a remarkable demonstration of such facility given one evening at a meeting of the Billings club. There were some twenty doctors who had gathered to dine and for an evening's talk, and the guest of the evening was Lieut. Michael Naughton, slim, wiry, blue eyed head of Chicago's Scotland Yard. His talk concerned the operation of the Chicago detective bureau, but before he began to speak one of the medical men present had touched on the subject of the memory for faces a police officer must have to be successful. A wager was made as to how many of the men present Lieut. Naughton would be able to identify at the end of the evening, after having met them individually upon his arrival. The detective bureau veteran said he would name every doctor present and his line as well. Then he proceeded to his discourse on the activities of the detective bureau and its method of operation. At the end of the evening when the medical men gathered about Lieut. Naughton to thank him he shook hands with them, calling them by name.

"You're Dr. Pollock, neurologist. And you're Dr. Loyal Davis, brain surgeon. You're Dr. George Coleman and you're Dr. Kanavel," he began, and proceeded to identify each member present.

Two Year Old Has No Need of Scolding

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate Inc.]

Instead of writing on any one subject today I think it might be helpful to this mother and others if I used [with some changes], as the hub of our attention, a letter which is like a number of others I receive—some from working mothers and some from women who are at home all the time.

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: I have a little boy of two years old who is exceptionally bright. He thinks he knows much more than his nurse and mother.

"I go to business and have very little patience to take care of the child, and so I employ a trained nurse just for his care.

"He is a problem child in his eating. I had him to several specialists as he is quite thin, but doctors tell me that children as bright as my little boy never eat well. They keep thinking of other things to distract their attention.

"My nurse finds that by scolding him, she gets more out of him. I do not want the child to grow up being scolded and afraid. He needs a person with a world of patience, which my nurse has at times; but at other times the child gets impossible and he needs either a scolding or some other kind of punishment which is worse.

"Thank you for any help you may give me."

Let us see if we can consider each point in a way that will be helpful, even if it must be brief:

[1] A little child of two doesn't really think he knows more than his mother or nurse. On the contrary, small children adore their grownups and love to look up to them. It's just that he has certain normal desires and isn't managed so that he can gratify them, within reason.

[2] A tired mother who has worked all day often hasn't patience with her child, especially if the child has been badly managed throughout the day. What is needed here is a different method on the nurse's part, or a different nurse.

[3] There is not the slightest reason why a bright child should be thin or eat badly. Exceptionally bright children are usually well formed, well nourished, and above average in size. This child probably needs more calmness in his grownups, a rest or quiet period before meals, and of course a nap in his room during the day.

[4] A little two year old is the easiest thing in the world to manage. Scolding and punishment have no place here. All that is needed is an insight into his needs and his desires, and an understanding of how to satisfy them. He must have some restrictions, but these he will accept if he is intelligently and lovingly treated. Because a nurse is technically trained she does not necessarily understand children, it takes more than that. A small boy or girl only gets "impossible" because he is badly handled.

[5] The last statement, that the child is stubborn, fits the rest of the picture perfectly. A small child whose natural desires are frustrated, who has not an outlet for his energy, shows his emotions in the form of stubbornness.

Any one who sincerely tries can gain the simple fundamental knowledge needed to bring about the peace and happiness of all concerned. Thinking, observing, reading will help.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in The Sunday Tribune.

"Bell Flower" Is Novel Quilt for Use by Novices

Bell Flower.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Bell Flower" is an unusual quilt pattern which is extremely simple for the beginning applique worker, and one which offers opportunity for expression of ingenuity. Either printed or plain materials may be used for the pattern. The quilting in the plain blocks may be of most any design from that of a peacock fan to the feather circle. A pineapple and running feather design share honors in the six and one-half inch boarder. The "Bell Flower" quilt measures 90 inches over all, and is an ideal pattern to be used for double beds.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Helen Joanna Dady, daughter of Mrs. Dee Ellen Dady and Judge Ralph J. Dady of Waukegan, to James Gordon Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Hunter of Quincy, will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, 301 Gillette avenue, Waukegan. The Rev. J. B. Martin, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, will officiate.

After a wedding trip Mr. Hunter and his bride will be at home in Champaign, where the bride will finish her senior year at the University of Illinois while the bridegroom, who was graduated there last year, studies for his master's degree.

ENGAGEMENT

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Rome of 1424 Elmdale avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Abranita, to Frank E. Reicin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Reicin of Chicago. Miss Rome studied at the Universities of Illinois and Wisconsin and is now a senior at De Paul university college of law. Mr. Reicin is a graduate of the University of Illinois college of law.

Chicago Youth Is Offered Screen Test in Hollywood

Lester Martin Kuehl, 902 Wrightwood avenue, received word yesterday from Warner Brothers studio to go to Hollywood for screen tests. Kuehl, who is 22, has acted in Chicago amateur theatricals for several years. He starred in dramatics at the Lakeview High school and the Wright Junior college. His father, George W. Kuehl, is an advertising man.

Man Must Be the Provider in Every Home

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"My friend and I are hoping and planning to get married in the near future. However, I am somewhat doubtful as to how we will manage. I am a typist making $21 a week and he is a clerk making $16.

"My young man is a fine chap. Every one says so. At present he is attending night school in order to get on faster in his work.

"Now, against this, is the plan to wait two years until my beau finishes school. I have known him five years, so it is no hurry-up affair. I am 22 and he is a year older.

"I have sat down and figured out a budget on paper which would allow us to save a little, counting the pennies, of course. Yet my real worry is whether it is wise for a girl to marry who makes a larger salary than her husband. I know it annoys him now. Will it be worse if we marry?"

You're a pretty sane young woman getting down to figures on paper. And, as you say, yours is no fly-by-night romance. Your combined incomes total an amount that is serving thousands and thousands of young married couples. And you realize that there will be penny-counting. All of which is to the good. On such basis we think you would come through with flying colors. But, as you think, there is a certain danger in a woman marrying a man earning less than herself. You understand why, of course.

It's something as ingrained in the man to want to be the superior earner or an equal earner in the two-income arrangement as it is for a woman to want to be established in a home with the man she loves. And it is well not to destroy that thing in the male. If you do, you set up a standard for yourself that eventually you will be resenting. For it is just as native to women to want to look up to the man as the better half as it is for the man to want to be it so far as supporting his household is concerned.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

ASKING BIDS.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

The term "loser" in relation to slam bidding means a first, or second round loser. When the combined hands have eleven or twelve winners, they will usually be able, before the third round of a suit is led, to account for its losing cards by discarding or ruffing. Thus, a player holding a side suit such as A x x x and seeing slam possibilities, thinks about one loser, the second round of the suit. He trusts that if he can survive the first two rounds the third round will be taken care of by an established winner elsewhere in the combined hands. He seldom asks about third round control except for the purpose of grand slam bidding.

When a player realizes that he is in the slam zone, he therefore looks at his "quick" losers. He remembers the minimum number of honor tricks shown by partner's bidding, and assumes that these honor tricks will take care of some of his losers. He then proceeds to "ask" his partner to confirm the possession of the assumed suit controls, and to show other important suit controls if he has them.

TODAY'S HAND.

	NORTH
	♥ Q J 8
	♦ A 8 6
	♣ A 6 4 2
WEST		EAST
♠ Q 8 6 5		♠ 3
♥ 10 7 6		♥ A K 9 5 4 3 2
♦ 9 4 3		♦ 10 2
♣ Q 8 5		♣ 10 9 3
	SOUTH
	♥ None
	♦ K Q J 7 5
	♣ K J 7

The bidding (East-West vulnerable):

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 no trump	3 hearts
4 diamonds	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

When East made his vulnerable three heart bid, he unwittingly played directly into the opponents' hands. East probably felt that, since the opponents had not doubled, he had escaped scot-free. In this case he was very much mistaken.

Declarer ruffed the opening heart lead and on the assurance that East was marked with a long line of hearts, since he could have no other values for his bid, naturally decided to play West for long spades. He therefore led the nine and let it ride, following this with a finesse to dummy's ten. West's spades were then easily picked up and the contract became a laydown, declarer graciously conceding a club trick at the finish.

East's three heart bid was not atrocious, judged by the standard of taking tricks, although as a matter of fact it did risk a severe penalty. The prime objection to it is that it was futile. South had shown the strength of an opening bid, at least. West had been unable to overcall or double. North had shown decided strength with his two no trump response. What good could a three heart bid do? If East were so fortunate as to find West with some heart support and enough general strength to either stand or raise three hearts, was it conceivable that the nonvulnerable opponents would surrender? On the other hand, if the opponents liked the heart bid, they could at their discretion double it and defeat it anywhere from two to four tricks. So all that East was doing when he bid three hearts was to advertise great heart length and thus provide South, the eventual declarer, with a splendid blue print of the situation. Had East remained discreetly silent, South might very easily have gone astray in his play of the hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	?

What should South bid, holding: ♠ K Q 10 4 ♥ K Q J 10 9 6 ♦ 6 2 ♣ 2?

Answer: South should bid three hearts, to set the trump suit and pave the way for North to make asking bids.

Young Mr. Palmer and George H. Haselton are to be the only Chicago ushers, the others being eastern friends of the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Schoonmaker of Ashburnham, Mass. Mr. Schoonmaker and his bride will live in Ashburnham.

Give Bridal Dinner at Eau Claire Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer gave the bridal dinner for their daughter last night at the Eau Claire Country club, but the reception following the service at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at Christ church, will be at the Palmer home. Among the wedding guests will be Mrs. Percival B. Palmer Jr., and her daughter, Mrs. H. Ferris White Jr., whose little son, H. Ferris White, III., is to be ringbearer.

Others guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Bastien, Miss Bastien's parents; Mrs. Arthur W. Cushman and her daughter, Miss Mary Cushman, who is to become the bride of Stuart Wilder Wells Jr. on Sept. 8 in Winnetka; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, the Charles Strongs, Miss Barbara Hobart, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Dennis.

Perlitz-Baby Nuptials Today.

Not so many Chicagoans, however, will be present at the wedding in Houston, Tex., today, of Henry Prindiville Baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry James Baby of Chicago, and Miss Anne Louise Perlitz, daughter of Charles A. Perlitz. Mrs. Robert H. Perlitz, the former Noel Cremin of Chicago, sister-in-law of the bride, will be one of the bridesmaids, and Miss Mary Louise Carroll of Chicago, a cousin of the bridegroom, will be another. Raymond F. McNally of Chicago will be best man.

The bride is to wear a lace veil that belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother and which was worn by his mother at her wedding. The service will take place at 11 o'clock this morning at the Holy Rosary church, with a reception following at the River Oaks Country club. After a honeymoon in Mexico City, Mr. Baby will bring his bride here to make their home. The bridegroom is a grandson of Redmond Prindiville, one of Chicago's earliest settlers.

Elizabeth Hillyer to Be Bride Today.

In Winnetka this afternoon in Christ church, Miss Elizabeth Hillyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Hillyer of Lincoln, Neb., will be married to John Cordner West, son of Mrs. J. Cordner West of Hubbard Woods. The Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard will officiate, and a reception will follow at the Winnetka Woman's club.

Miss Jane Hillyer will be her sister's maid of honor. When they return from a wedding trip, Mr. West and his bride will be at home in Winnetka.

Vollintine-Thompson Nuptials to Be Today.

The wedding of Miss Jean Vollintine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Louis Vollintine of Hinsdale, to Clement Craig Caton Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Troughton Thompson of Hinsdale, will take place this evening in Grace Episcopal church in Hinsdale. The Rev. Leonard G. Wolcott, chaplain of Kemper Hall, of which Miss Vollintine is a graduate, will perform the ceremony, and a reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Suzanne Vollintine will be her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Nancy Kidd of Owen, Wis.; Miss Amanda Pope of Orange, N. J.; Miss Joan Parker of Evanston, and Miss Emily Baker of Hinsdale. Jarvis Dugan will be junior bridesmaid.

Mary Esther Stilwell to Be Bride Sept.11.

Invitations have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scott Stilwell of Foxborough, Mass., formerly of Oak Park, to the wedding of their daughter, Mary Esther, to Emmons Bryant Jr. on Sept. 11 at 4 o'clock.

After Oct. 1 Mr. Bryant and his bride will be at home at 225 East 74th street, New York. She is a granddaughter of the late Rev. William E. Barton, pastor for twenty-five years of the First Congregational church of Oak Park.

Tennis fans will gather at the Exmoor Country club at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to watch the annual professional and amateur tennis tournament.

The climax of the summer of sailing at the Anchorage, the midget yacht club which uses the harbor of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, will take place today and tomorrow when the boats of the Moffett class will race for the Fayette Krum trophy. Owen Barton Jones is commodore of the Anchorage.

Casual Frock—Slender Lines

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

The slender lines of this casual frock make it perfect for all types of silhouettes. It's a grand model for both campus and general daytime wear in the city. The neckline is the simple rever type. Buttons accent the entire length of the dress, and also the three pockets. The sleeves are not puffed. Instead they fit neatly into tailored armholes. They are, however, full all the way to the wrist, where they are caught into tight bands. A tailored belt encircles the waistline.

The goring of the skirt creates the slender line so desirable. The tailoring of this model takes beautifully to woolens. Plaids or plain shades are equally acceptable. The original model is created in navy woolen, with the buttons in white.

Style No. 2763 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

Quick Pickling Recipes Save Time for Cook

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

If she hasn't plenty of kitchen room, a woman doesn't want crocks of fermenting pickles standing around in her way. Yet she may want to can a supply of her own pickles if cucumbers are available.

There are shorter methods of pickling which she may use to save time and bother, however, as was pointed out in an article last week, results aren't quite as certain.

[Six Pints.]

2 cups pickling onions
1 quart small cucumbers
¼ cup white mustard seed
1½ cups sugar
2 tablespoons celery seed
5 cups cider vinegar
5 tablespoons salt
2 cups broken cauliflower
2 cups small carrots
2 red peppers, cut in strips
2 cups celery cut in 2 inch lengths

Soak onions and cucumbers separately for 24 hours in brine made in the proportion of 1 cup salt per gallon of water. Remove from the brine, soak in clear, cold water for 2 hours, and drain. Add solution of spices, sugar and vinegar and let stand overnight in a covered container. Drain off vinegar, heat it, and add remaining vegetables [carrots may be sliced in two lengthwise, if they aren't tiny]. Simmer for 15 minutes, or until the vegetables are tender. Remove from heat, add cucumbers and onions, and pour into jars. Seal at once.

QUICK METHOD DILL PICKLES.

Wash cucumbers and pack them in clean jars, with one head of dill included in each quart jar. Bring to a boil 2 quarts water, 1 quart vinegar and 1 cup salt. While boiling hard, pour over the cucumbers. Seal the jars.

Cucumber Mustard Pickles.

8 large ripe cucumbers
4 cups vinegar
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 tablespoon mixed whole spices

Peel cucumbers, remove seeds and cut into long strips. Salt lightly and let stand 24 hours. Drain well. Mix vinegar, sugar, mustard seed and spices, and pour over the cucumbers. Cook until soft at simmering temperature. Pack into clean, hot jars and seal.

Olive Oil Pickles.

[Eight Pints.]

50 medium cucumbers
1 cup sliced onions
1 cup salt
1 tablespoon powdered alum
1 quart vinegar
1 quart water
½ cup white mustard seed
¼ cup black mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery salt
1½ cups olive oil

Combine thinly sliced cucumbers with onion. Pack in crock with alternate layers of salt, and let stand overnight. Drain. Dissolve alum in half the vinegar and water solution, pour over the cucumbers, and let stand 4 hours. Drain off vinegar and water. Mix pickles with seasonings, and pack in clean jars. Combine remaining vinegar and water with oil, pour over pickles, and seal.

Chow Chow.

1 quart tiny white onions
1 quart small cucumbers
2 heads cauliflower, separated
2 green peppers, sliced thinly
Boiling water
Salt
6 tablespoons dry mustard
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon curry powder
2-3 cup sugar
½ cup cold vinegar
2½ cups hot vinegar

Cover vegetables with boiling water and salt, allowing 1½ cups salt to 2 quarts water. Let stand overnight. Drain, add hot water and salt in the same proportion a second time, and simmer until vegetables are soft. Drain, add to dressing made by mixing dry ingredients to a paste with cold vinegar adding hot vinegar, and cooking over hot water, stirring constantly until thick. Let the vegetables simmer in the dressing for 10 minutes. Seal in jars.

Needs Clothes for Job.

"Dear Miss Brown: For the last three years I have been working at various trades although I am a registered public accountant. Now I have been given an opportunity to demonstrate and sell in department stores starting Sept. 1. If successful, I will be given regular territory. This would mean a lot to me because it brings a steady salary. Since I have four children of school age, I have been unable to afford new clothes, and those I have are not presentable enough for this job.

"It seems improbable that any one would discard a good dark suit and overcoat, but I have no other sources, so I am asking you. Store regulations require neat dark suits. I have been wearing a jacket and have no coat. I can't tell you how much I would appreciate your help. E. S."

Suitable clothing may help this man to economic security. Have you clothing size 40 which could be given to him?

Exercise Good for Reducing Girth of Leg

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It must be fairly discouraging to read about skirts tripping up fifteen inches above the floor line when you haven't the underpinnings for them.

Well, one of our noted couturiers just the other day advised women who didn't have the legs for the short skirt to stick to a length that, at least, hides the bulkiest part of the leg.

We have a better idea. For who wants to be traipsing around in skirts an inch or two above ankles, looking like a last year's number, when all the other women are shorter-skirted.

We do not say that it is easy to get the legs trimmed down neatly. But we do say emphatically, that with few exceptions, it can be done. Yes, I do know women who have very large legs and no flesh elsewhere, who have enormous difficulty in getting their leg girth down a fraction of an inch. Frankly, I don't know what can be done about it. If exercise and massage will not accomplish the desired result, I don't know of another means of doing it.

But I speak of the ordinary cases of leg thickening, coming from riding around too much with scarcely a mile walk in a month of Sundays. Often there is a general slowing down along with the leg thickening. Just sort of lazy about getting up and standing on one's feet or stepping around on them or dancing on them to put a bit of new verve into them—and contour.

There's an old Hindu proverb, "No man is better than his legs" which applies to women likewise. If the calves of the legs go weak and flabby you are in danger of having trouble with your feet. By strengthening the calves, your foot troubles are greatly lessened. So, exercise! The more you walk, the better shape your legs will be. The more you bend the feet in all directions, the better shaped the ankles will be. Bending and shaking and kicking exercises are most effective. Try this shaker: Cross the right leg over the left; extend the right foot and shake the leg, foot, and ankle until tired. Rest. Then slowly stretch the right leg outward at right angles to the body, downward and sideways. Alternate and repeat the exercise. Another exercise is to stand with feet about twelve inches apart and swing forward on toes and back of heels, throwing weight on the outside of the feet.

Legion Auxiliary.

The board of directors of the Illinois department, American Legion auxiliary, will meet today in Springfield preliminary to the annual convention tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Funny, isn't it, the way the pendulum swings in all things? Oils were the earliest beautifying agents. They did a fadeout for a long time—and now they're coming back. More and more women are finding that oils are not only pleasant to use but wonderfully efficient in keeping skin soft and youthful.

Right now you'll find on the market a facial oil that is something of a sensation. It's fairly new—but we predict that it has a big future. All the women we know who've tried it are simply crazy about it.

It's a light oil, but a rich one. It cleanses, soothes, and softens. Just try it on that dry skin of yours and see how flakiness disappears. Start using it now if the winter is a torture period for you. You'll sail through the cold weather without your usual discomfort.

It is not expensive. It has a pleasant fragrance but not a strong perfume. You can use it during the day as a cleanser [and you don't need a makeup base afterward; the skin is left in perfect shape to take powder], and at night as a softener.

For cleansing, you merely pour a little of the pink oil in the palm of one hand and apply it to face and neck with the hands rather than with cotton. When it's removed with tissues all the grime comes with it. If your skin is terribly dry coat it with this oil during the day or evening when you have privacy; it's a good beauty treatment to douse the skin with it and leave it on for as long as you can.

All you sensitive skinned women who want to begin now to get set for cold weather can ward off the usual dryness with this oil.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Ice Fund Able to Meet Only Critical Cases

The free ice fund supported by TRIBUNE readers faced an emergency yesterday morning when the summer heat caused a flood of appeals for ice. During the day, however, enough contributions were received to dispatch ice to a few of the most urgent cases.

Letters of entreaty pour in daily at the Tribune Charities office—letters from tenement dwellers whose crowded quarters admit no lake breezes, and to whom even a moderate summer presents tragic problems. Mothers write for ice to keep their babies' milk from souring, and fathers of families write for aid in preserving the meager food that they can provide.

Such appeals, serious though they are, must go unanswered. With present receipts of the ice fund only emergency cases, where a life is in danger, can be considered.

If you can help, please send your gift to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Square, Chicago. A donation of $1.10 will cool a baby's milk for a week.

Yesterday's contributions were:

Anonymous	$ 10.00
Anonymous	6.25
Patricia Haugen, Ruth Leonard, and Theresa Leonard	2.00
National Bureau Patriotism	5.00
R. W. B.	10.00
A. L. A.	1.00
Total	$ 34.25
Previously acknowledged	$2,474.63
Grand total	$2,508.88

Two anonymous contributions, amounting to $28.75, were received yesterday for the Camp Algonquin fund. These donations, one for $10 and the other for $18.75, brought the camp's total receipts to $1,881.82.

The Last Three Days of

$39 $49 $59

In the face of the steady increase in the price of fine fabrics these coats, skillfully tailored here, of woolens from world famous mills in the British Isles, represent values that you are not likely to see equaled. Here is, we have good reason to believe, a collection of British Isle coatings that is unequaled for its variety. And woven of the finest wools obtainable, they have not only the insulative qualities to keep you warm, but possess, too, a sturdiness that equals their supple luxury.

A Straw Weight Felt to Carry You into the Fall Season

Shape it any way you like, the Cross Country stays smart and looks as if it were meant to be worn your favorite way. You'll find it light weight and fit for town or country week-ends now and early fall. Its fine felt is crushable and packing it away under golf shoes is one way to prove its resilient qualities. That you can push it in the center for a pork pie, snap the brim up or down, or pull the brim down all around, is proof of the firmness of the light felt and the carefully thought out relation between the width of its brim and the height of its crown.

HUFFMAN PUNTS 95 YARDS IN ALL-STAR WORKOUT

TOTH, GODDARD, BJORK KICK 62 GOALS IN ROW

Drill on Protecting Receivers.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Vernon Huffman, Indiana's greatest football player in a decade, who will start in the All-American backfield against the Green Bay Packers Wednesday night at Soldiers' field, yesterday kicked 95 yards in punting drill at Dyche stadium.

Ninety-five yards! If you wish verification, telephone any one of the five All-American coaches at Evanston. The kickers spent two hours yesterday morning working on punting and place kicking. Huffman's long distance effort, easily the record for the morning's labor, soared over the heads of Bobby La Rue and Tippy Dye, the receivers, and when the ball struck the ground, it bounded along like a frightened rabbit, eventually hopping out of bounds on the five yard line. Huffman had taken Mike Basrak's pass from center, and kicked from his own goal line.

Kick 62 Straight Goals.

And if you're still reading, Packers, three of the place kickers, Steve Toth, Bjork, and Ed Goddard, alternating, ran a string of 62 successful kicks from the 20 yard line before Bjork kicked low and the ball bounded back from the cross bar.

While these short distance place kickers were working, big Sam Francis was booting consistently from the 40 and 45 yard lines. It is true that none of the kickers was working under game conditions but Coach Gus Dorais was counting for them and all were speeded up to a "four" count, which is considered sufficiently fast work to prevent the ball being blocked.

Basrak, George Bell, and Bud Svendsen were the centers working yesterday. Bell, however, probably will not be able to play because of his injured foot. He still wears gymnasium shoes at practice. Gerry Conlee, St. Mary's center, definitly is out of the Packers' game because of his broken nose. Gil Kuhn, Southern California, and John Wiatrak, Washington, are replacements for Svendsen and Basrak. Wiatrak has recovered from the blow he received on the head in Wednesday's scrimmage.

Basrak Passes Well.

Basrak is easily the best of the centers on whipping the ball back to the kickers. He passes very accurately, the ball seldom missing the desired spot, and he has the knack of shooting the ball back hard. His work resembles that of George Trafton, when the former Chicago Bears' center was recognized as the greatest in professional football.

Huffman and Sammy Baugh were among those holding for the kickers, but La Rue became the best center man in the group. With Basrak passing to La Rue, Northwestern's Toth not only ran a long string of consecutive kicks, but speeded up his kicking to a count of "three" from the time the ball left Basrak's hands.

Don't be surprised Wednesday night if the All-Americans call on Toth and La Rue for a field goal.

Agett Takes It Easy.

Al Agett, Michigan State half back, was the only punter yesterday who could not drill. Agett was out on the field, however, but his charley horse, while better, prevented him from cutting loose. Bud Wilkinson, Minnesota's place kicker, also had to take it easy because of a muscle injury.

In addition to Huffman the list of punters yesterday included Francis, Baugh, Toth, O'Neill, Goddard, and Riley. Huffman, Toth, and Baugh were the most consistent. O'Neill also got off some 50 yard kicks. He was punting high and so was Toth. Francis was erratic, frequently catching the ball on its point. When his kicks

3 Guesses—How Did Farr Get on Floor?

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Tommy Farr was knocked down by one of his sparring partners today in his training camp ring at Long Branch, N. J., as he resumed training for his postponed championship bout with Joe Louis, now scheduled for Monday night in the Yankee stadium.

Farr was spilled by Abe Feldman, east side heavyweight. It happened in the fifth and last round of sparring drill. Whether it was a punch, a push, or a slip on the wet canvas is debated. Farr's handlers insisted the challenger slipped on the wet canvas just as Feldman landed a right hand punch on the shoulder.

Others insisted it was a right to the jaw which spilled the Welshman, who bounded right up and tore into the east side lad with increased fury. The one undisputed point, however, is that Farr was down, an occurance which recalled forcefully the fact that in a London bout Bob Olin three times spilled the man who has come here in an effort to conquer the Brown Bomber and take the world heavyweight title to Great Britain.

In his workout at Pompton Lakes, N. J., Louis went through four rounds of sparring against Pal Silvers and George Nicholson. Both Louis and Farr plan hard workouts today after which they will await the summons to another weighing on Monday at noon.

GOODMAN AND BILLOWS GAIN AMATEUR FINAL

New York Golfer Routs Fischer, 6 and 5.

Fischer, his game shattered, lost to 29 year old Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., 6 and 5—an overwhelming defeat of a champion who had raced to the semi-final competition by nearly comparable scores over previous opponents.

Goodman, 1933 national open champion and favorite here when the field took off Monday on the Alderwood Country club course, had to call on his finest golf to defeat a sophomore in major tournament competition, Marvin [Bud] Ward of Tacoma, on the home hole in a sensational battle.

Goodman, Ward Break Par.

The Goodman-Ward thriller completely overshadowed the one-sided contest that saw Fischer's game break to the point where every shot was an effort, every hole another nightmare.

Goodman shot subpar golf to hold a two up lead on Ward, 24 year old state tax clerk, when they went to lunch. The husky Omahan went out in 35 and was home in 34, a 69 that chopped three strokes from par 72. Ward, meanwhile, carded a one under par 71.

On the second eighteen they reversed positions—Ward was low with a 71 and Goodman went up to 73. Goodman managed to cling to a one hole lead as they passed the 27th but at the 30th Ward's par 4 made it even again. Goodman won the 32d to go one up and the next four holes were halved in pars to give the Omaha, Neb., veteran victory.

Billows, printing company salesman, who learned his golf in Racine, Wis., 6 years ago outshot Fischer from tee to green. His irons were deadly, his putting touch deft and certain.

The morning round was fairly even, Billows holding a one-up lead at the ninth and maintaining it as they went to lunch.

Billows One Over Par.

The first nine of the afternoon saw the defending titleholder break. His tee shots hooked into trouble continually, he lost his boldness to the greens and putts of three and four feet, and usually easy, failed to drop.

Billows turned in 38—34 for a par 72 on the first 18 compared to Fischer's 39—35—74. The third nine, disastrous for Fischer, posted a 41 for him and a 36 for his rival. Billows was one over standard figures when the match ended. Fischer finished seven over.

The 36 hole finals tomorrow will bring Goodman and Billows together for the second consecutive year of the national. They squared off in the quarter-finals in 1936, with Goodman winning 2 and 1.

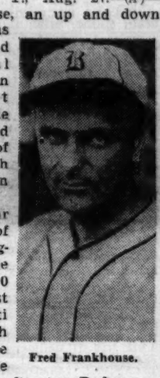
FRANKHOUSE HAS HIS DAY: NO-HIT, NO-RUN VICTORY

Rain Halts Dodger at 7⅔ Innings Against Reds.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Fred Frankhouse, an up and down pitcher who has tossed around the National league for ten years without any remarkable success, crashed baseball's hall of fame today with a no-hit, no-run performance.



Fred Frankhouse.

The 33 year old member of Brooklyn's Dodgers turned the trick by a 5 to 0 margin against the Cincinnati Reds, although his job was made easy when the game was called after two Reds were out in the eighth inning. His no-hit performance was the eighty-ninth in baseball history. The game was to have been the first of a double-header, but the downpour cut it short at that point.

Altogether seven men reached first against Frankhouse. He gave up six bases on balls, and a seventh Red, Ival Goodman, was safe when Jimmy Bucher fumbled in the first inning. Not a Red runner got to third.

Frankhouse never before has shown any particular ability to keep enemy batters completely in check. As a member of the St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Bees, and Dodgers through his ten year major league career, up to the end of last season, he yielded 1,690 hits in 1,578 innings.

Today's victory was his ninth of the year against seven defeats, bringing his lifetime total to 102 victories and 84 defeats. His no hit performance was the second in the majors this season. Bill Dietrich turned the trick for the White Sox on June 1 against the St. Louis Browns, making 1937 the first season since 1931 that the majors have seen two such performances.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Pete Appleton, in a relief rôle on July 27, held the White Sox to three hits in seven innings. It seemed so easy that just a month later—yesterday—he pitched nine innings with the same hit allotment—three safe ones, none of which bloomed. So the Washington Senators beat the Sox, 5 to 0, in the second game of the series at Comiskey park.

The Senators got busy in two innings. They made three runs on four hits off Bill Dietrich in the second inning and they knocked out Dietrich with three hits and their two other runs in the fifth. Thornton Lee finished and allowed the only hit the Senators negotiated aside from their two scoring innings. This one was an infield scratch by Travis with one out in the seventh.

How Sox Pounded Ball.

The Sox pounded the ball as follows:

Kreevich singled in the first inning. Radcliff doubled in the fourth. Berger singled in the fifth.

Appleton has won seven games, including his two successive three hitters against the Sox. He has lost twelve.

The Sox expected to sweep the series with the Senators. They haven't swept a series in August and have taken only one series—two out of three in Detroit—during the month. They lead the Senators in the season series twelve games to seven, however.

The Senators this afternoon will say adieu to Comiskey park for 1937. The teams will wind up their season's relations in Washington Sept. 19 and 20.

Jolt Dietrich in Second.

The Senators touched up Dietrich for four hits in the second inning and this swatting, combined with a walk and one of Radcliff's losing battles with a ground ball, gave the visitors three runs. Kuhel singled and Myer walked, after which Sington fanned. R. Ferrell singled to left, scoring Kuhel, and when the ball got through Radcliff and rolled to the wall Myer scored and Ferrell reached second. Appleton fanned, but Almada singled to center, scoring R. Ferrell. Lewis singled to center, Almada reaching second, but the inning ended with Simmons' fly to Radcliff.

After two were out in the Sox second Haas walked, Piet was hit by a pitched ball and Sewell walked, filling the bases. Dietrich then flied to Simmons.

Radcliff's Hit Wasted.

The second Sox hit was a double with which Radcliff opened the fourth. Rip held second while Appling flied to Almada and took third on Haas' tap to Travis. Piet walked, but Sewell rolled to Myer.

After retiring the Senators in order in the third and fourth innings Dietrich again weakened and had to go away with one out in the fifth. Almada and Lewis singled, advanced on Travis' sacrifice, and scored on Simmons' single to center. Lee replaced Dietrich. Kuhel bounced to Haas and Myer fanned.

Dietrich's misfortune reduced him to a .500 status. He has won 7 and lost 7.

With one out in the fifth Berger made the third Chicago hit, a single to center. Kreevich grounded out to Lewis. Walker walked, but Radcliff bounced to Myer.

TIGER TO RACE FIGHTING FOX AT SARATOGA TODAY

Juvenile Stars to Meet in $25,000 Hopeful.

BY FRENCH LANE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 7.—The $25,000 Hopeful stakes, which is designed to bring to the front the best 2 year old thoroughbreds of the season, will be run tomorrow as one of the features of the final program of the Saratoga meeting. It shapes up as a race between Tiger, owned by Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Chicago, and Fighting Fox, property of William Woodward of New York.

The fact that Fighting Fox and Tiger are first cousins has increased interest in the race. Fighting Fox is a brother to Gallant Fox and thus a son of Sir Gallahad III. Tiger is a son of Bull Dog. The latter is a full brother to Sir Galahad III. Both these famous sires have their courts in Kentucky. Sir Galahad III.'s is at Arthur B. Hancock's farm near Paris. Bull Dog's court, owned by C. B. Shaffer of Chicago is at Coldstream farm near Lexington.

Ten Others Named.

The Fox and the Tiger have both scored impressive victories at Saratoga, but their first meeting will come in the Hopeful. Tiger won his only start here and in so doing ran the fastest six furlongs run here this year by a 2 year old. The Fox won the Grand Union Hotel stakes, impressively enough indeed, but his time was more than a second slower than that made by Tiger.

Ten other 2 year olds have been named for the Hopeful. Two of them—Sky Larking and C-Note—are running companions of Tiger and one other, Stormscud, is the running mate of Fighting Fox.

Some of the betters who are shopping around for good odds are stringing with the C. V. Whitney entry of The Chief and Dauber. They believe that the six and a half furlongs of the Hopeful will be just the distance The Chief fancies. Others are backing Warren Wright's long shot, Bull Lea. They recall how he was always running over horses in the stretch in much shorter races at Arlington Park.

It's Closing Day.

The Hopeful will share interest with the Saratoga Gold Cup at a mile and three-quarters on tomorrow's program. The cup race provides still another east-west battle with Mrs. John Hertz' Count Arthur fighting it out with the three easterners, Red Rain, Matey, and Esposa.

FIVE MORE GAIN MASTER'S ROUND IN CHESS MEET

Five more players qualified last night for the master's tournament of the American Chess federation's annual championship at the Congress hotel.

Under the rules, two players from each of the five sections qualify for the master's tourney starting this afternoon. A place has been reserved, however, for the federation champion, I. A. Horowitz. As many as twelve or thirteen players may compete in the master's round should ties develop.

Section 1—S. S. Cohen, 5½-1½.
Section 2—G. N. Treyaman, 7-0.
Section 3—Charles Jaffe, 6⅛-1½; Donald MacMurray, 6-1.
Section 4—Hermann Hahlbom, 5-2; E. W. Marchand, 5-2.
Section 5—Harold Morton, 5½-1½; D. S. Polland, 5½-1½.

At the federation's annual business meeting, Kirk D. Holland of Chicago was elected president, succeeding Arpad E. Elo of Milwaukee. Fritz Brieger, Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., succeeded Holland as vice president, and Ernest Olfe of Milwaukee was reëlected secretary and treasurer.

OHIO MARKSMAN SCORES 100; WINS GRAND AMERICAN

Vandalia, O., Aug. 27.—(AP)—F. G. Carroll, 35 year old hardware merchant of Brecksville, O., today won the Grand American handicap championship, smashing 100 straight targets from the 19 yard line.

On his heels, with 99 of 100, were 11 gunners. Trapshooting tradition remained unbroken through Carroll's victory, an "unknown" generally being the victor. For the fourth straight year a shooter making his first trip to the tourney walked off with the prize. Never before had he broken more than 93 of 100 targets.

Time, :23 2-5, :47, 1:13 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Arthur B., $7.80 straight, $5.00 place, $4.20 show; Springs Here, $28.80 place, $16.60 show; Col Pete, $9.40 show. Winner trained by D. Womeldorff. Went to post at 2:16. At post 3 minutes. Start good, from gate. Won easily, place driving.

ARTHUR B., going in his best form and having speed from the start, was kept under snug restraint for a half mile, overcame light interference from SPRINGS HERE when working his way to the front and swerved over while drawing out. SPRINGS HERE, hustled into command, saved ground on the turn, swerved when placed to energetic riding in the stretch and weakened after five-eighths but outstayed COL PETE. Latter, saving much ground, bettered his position gradually and holding on well, was wearing down SPRINGS HERE.

WESTYS HERO, benefited by a big saving of ground and having speed from the start, stood inspired pressure gamely the entire final quarter and withstanding the challenge of WISE PRINCESS appeared ready to draw out at the end. Latter, who failed to begin but rated under light restraint to the stretch, made an extended bid under strong handling but gave way near the finish. FACULA, kept well up, held on with courage.

RED MAGIC, under brisk urging the opening quarter but steadied on the turn, drew into command gradually when straightened up on the outside in the stretch, and kept under pressure to the end, won with little left. PEGOTTY ANN, hustled from the start and on the inside throughout, had fair speed, could not withstand the winner but held on well to the last sixteenth then weakened yet outstayed ANN JOY. Latter, a sharp factor from the start, was inclined to bear out and closing well, was getting to PEGOTTY ANN.

FOURTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :22 3-5, :46 2-5, :58 4-5, 1:05 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Glen Brush, $41.20 straight, $14.20 place, $5.80 show; Fantine, $4.80 place, $3.00 show; Fredalou, $4.00 show. Winner trained by H. Wells. Went to post at 3:52. At post 3½ minutes. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

GLEN BRUSH, raced wide throughout and failing to keep up after beginning fast, rallied in the last three-sixteenths and finishing we hind belated speed, was up in the closing strides. FANTINE forced the early pace under restraint, bore out slightly on the stretch turn, wore down FREDALOU when straight in the last three-sixteenths and held on courageously but was not good enough. FREDALOU, on the inside throughout, received a hustling ride and weakened in the last eighth.

Time, :23, :46, 1:11 4-5, 1:24 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Fanfern, $5.20 straight, $3.00 place, $2.60 show; Silvery Cloud, $5.40 place, $4.00 show; Short Skirt, $4.40 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 4:21. At post half minute. Start good, from gate. Won handily, place driving.

FANFERN, hustled into a short lead and then taken under a steady hold, sustained a good pace without need of strong handling and slightly increased her margin in the last fifty yards, winning with something left. SILVERY CLOUD, on the outside throughout, was under hand for about five-eighths, and held on with determination through the stretch. SHORT SKIRT, well up from the start, saved ground on the stretch turn and went evenly in the drive.

Time, :23, :46 3-5, 1:11 4-5, 1:24 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Bel Espoir, $9.60 straight, $5.60 place, $4.00 show; Keokee, $36.00 place, $14.20 show; Dark Zenie, $8.20 show. Winner trained by P. Reilly. Went to post at 4:46½. At post 4½ minutes. Start good. Won driving, place same.

BEL ESPOIR, placed outside the stalls for the start and away fast, was not persevered with the first five-eighths, responded willingly when called upon and, getting up in the last fifty yards, increased his margin in the closing strides. KEOKEE, on the inside throughout and having speed from the start, was much used to race NAUGHTY into submission and held on surprisingly well. DARK ZENI, probably much the best and raced wide early, saved ground on the turn, was brought out with difficulty in the stretch, where he was inclined to bear over and, finishing with a rush, with strongest of all in the final stages.

Time, :24 2-5, :48 3-5, 1:13 3-5, 1:39 2-5, 1:46 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Wayaloft, $7.20 straight, $3.20 place, $2.80 show; Larry M., $3.40 place, $2.80 show; Tobacco Buyer, $3.40 show. Winner trained by C. W. Tague. Went to post at 5:15½. At post half minute. Start good. Won driving, place same.

WAYALOFT, rushed into the lead when taken in hand and rated to the final quarter, gamely stood off the challenge of LARRY M. and was going steadily at the end. LARRY M. worked his way up on the inside, came out in the stretch and challenged in determined fashion but could not get up. TOBACCO BUYER raced wide the final half mile, entered contention with a rush but tuned in the last eighth.

FIRM HAND, took a long lead easily, was rated along under steady reserve to the stretch and continued well to the final eighth where he weakened badly but withstood SISKO'S bid. The latter, on the inside early, and forced back to come to the outside, lost much ground entering the stretch, and closing resolutely when straight, was rapidly getting to the winner. SHASTA BROOM, well up from the start, held on well.

RAIN (THE REAL STUFF) FORCES CUBS TO BE IDLE

Will Try to Play Double Header Today.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 27.—The wise guys who yesterday wouldn't permit the Cubs to play the Bees for no other reason than that they wanted to enjoy the financial features of a double-header didn't have their way. Whereas it didn't rain enough yesterday to quench the thirst of a sparrow, it really poured today. So the bargain bill will be put on tomorrow—at least that is the hope of the Cubs, who have had four idle days this week.

The unwaranted scheming of the local club and the unwholesome attitude of the weather shouldn't be of any concern to the first place Chicagoans. They still have their two game lead, and when it comes to double-headers, which they expect to have during the next two days, they are better fixed than the other contenders. The Cubs at least have starting pitchers and, while none of them is consistent, they at least have a chance to get by frequently enough to stave off disaster. The other contenders don't even have the starters, numerically speaking.

Jurges' Shoulder Wrapped.

One bright spot in the two days of inactivity here is that Bill Jurges, the agile shortstop, is being given spare time in which to recover. Bill, following a decision handed down yesterday by a local doctor, had his annoying left shoulder wrapped up today after the fashion of a glorified Egyptian mummy.

The wrapping consisted of plain inner tube rubber cut into strips and yards of cotton gauze. The idea of this was that the wrapping would help carry the weight of the arm, thus relieving the strain on the pulled shoulder tendon or whatever it is that has been wrong since Jurges used the wing as a sliding pad going into the plate in the game of Aug. 7.

Stick to Pitching Selections.

Today's alteration in the program didn't make the managers change their minds about their pitching assignments. Charles Grimm, the Cub boss, who has eliminated about 90 per cent of his worries since Dizzy Dean of the Cards reported himself an invalid, will pitch Charley Root and Tex Carleton. The Bees' starters will be Lou Fette and Guy Bush, who still must be recognized for the years of 100 per cent endeavor he gave to the Chicago team.

The Cubs will move out of here tomorrow evening for Philadelphia and play a double-header on Sunday.

Mike Jacobs to Confer on Stadium Bouts

James Norris Sr., president of the Chicago Stadium, and Mike Jacobs, New York promoter, will hold a conference in New York Labor day regarding a proposal to give Jacobs exclusive rights to conduct boxing at the west side arena during the impending 1937-'38 indoor season.

Jacobs will get control of the boxing department at Madison Square Garden for two years, starting Oct. 1, and Stadium officials are not averse to giving Mike the same rights if Jacobs agrees to "certain conditions."

These "conditions" include the promise from Jacobs that he will guarantee to hold a fair share of the big attractions at the Stadium and not use the building as a feeder club for the Garden.

"We're willing to go along and develop talent, but when the boxer reaches his peak we want to be able to cash in on his drawing power," asserted a spokesman for the Stadium.

Leo Rodak has started drills in anticipation of engaging Jackie Wilson, Pittsburgh featherweight, at St. Louis Sept. 10. . . . Frankie Battaglia, Palmyra, Wis., middleweight, came to town yesterday and purchased some training equipment from Sammy Frager for his proposed return bout with Georgie Black at Milwaukee in the near future. . . . Harold Brown, west side welterweight challenger, will return from a vacation at Cedar Lake, Ind., Monday to inaugurate training for his headliner with George Salvadore at Marigold Sept. 13. F. M.

ATHLETICS CAN'T WIN RACE NOW; BROWNS, EITHER

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The American league pennant race became a six club fight today when the Philadelphia Athletics lost to the Cleveland Indians and were eliminated from the chase. The St. Louis Browns were eliminated beyond all mathematical possibilities of catching up yesterday.

Today's defeat was the seventy-seventh for the Athletics, compared with thirty-five victories. The best they could do in their remaining games, even if they won all, would leave them with 77 won and 77 lost. The leading New York Yankees already have won 79, and can lose only 75, even if they dropped the rest of the contests on their 154 game schedule.

Rain Halts National Net Doubles Matches

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The national doubles tennis tournament matches scheduled for today were postponed until tomorrow because of rain.

PIRATES, GIANTS SPLIT 2 GAMES, 1 TO 0 AND 3 TO 2

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The New York Giants, in hot pursuit of the pace making Chicago Cubs, gained no better than an even break today with the Pittsburgh Pirates in two games at the Polo Grounds.

Shut out, 1 to 0, in the first game by the combined four hit pitching of Ed Brandt and Mace Brown, the Giants won, 3 to 2, in the second game with the unexpected aid of a five hit pitching chore by Al Smith, making his first start in six weeks.

The Giants lost no ground in the National league race. They remained two games behind the Cubs, who were held idle by the rain in Boston.

PHILADELPHIA PRO TEAM BEATS EASTERN STARS

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Professional Football league tonight converted a break into a touchdown drive that paved the way for a 14 to 6 victory over the eastern college All-Stars before 20,000 at Temple stadium.

The break came early in the last quarter when an attempted lateral by John Hudasky of Columbia was fumbled and recovered by the Eagles on the All-Stars' 24 yard line. Swede Hanson and Dave Smukler, former Temple stars, made a first down on the All-Stars' 8 yard line. On fourth down Joe Carter, a sub end, raced into the clear on the goal line and took a short forward from Smukler that tied the score. Smukler then booted the extra point from placement to give the Eagles the lead.

RED SOX DEFEAT TIGERS, BUT YORK GETS HIS HOMER

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Jack Wilson held the Detroit Tigers to five hits today as his Boston Red Sox mates pounded out an 8 to 5 victory, evening the series.

Rookie Rudy York's 27th home run of the season—and his seventh in the last seven games—sailed over the left field fence in the first inning with Charlie Gehringer and Hank Greenberg on base.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 27.—(AP)—It was Red Ruffing and Jim Bottomley day at Sportsman's park today, but Lou Gehrig stole the show. Gehrig hit his 29th home run to start the New York Yankees' scoring and then doubled and carried the winning run across himself in the eighth inning as the world champions defeated the Browns, 4 to 3. Gehrig had a single for his third hit.

Ruffing and Bottomley were honored by a delegation of fans from Nokomis, Ill. So, Ruffing, pitching out of turn, pitched the first inning for the Yanks and Bottomley did the first base chores for the Browns.

ALL CLASSES OF YACHTS SAIL IN REGATTA TODAY

All classes of sail craft in the Chicagoland area will be entered in the annual regatta held off Navy Pier today under auspices of the Lake Michigan Yachting association and the Daily News. More than 100 yachts are expected to start.

Byron H. Willis of the Chicago Yacht club, race committee chairman and Sea Scout commodore, is general chairman of the regatta. Commodores of all local yacht clubs will either assist Commodore Willis or race on their flagships. Also on the general committee are Commodore Sheldon Clark, Commander G. W. MacLane United States coast guard; Commander Eugene F. McDonald Jr. United States naval reserve, and Harry Grebe.

The sailing canoe squadron is headed by Commodore Alden S. Fields and Commodore A. R. [Nap] Prager heads the sailing dinghy group. Commodore David C. Zimmerman, chairman of the carnival of lakes committee celebrating Chicago's Charter Jubilee, will serve as yachting commentator on the public address system.

Three courses will be sailed, all starting and finishing on a line extending east from the end of the pier. Large yachts will sail course A, 12 miles, while the B course is for Stars and Pup class sloops. Jack, Snipe, dinghy classes sail one mile.

DEAN'S RIGHT ARM IS STIFF—BUT HIS TONGUE: WIG, WAG

"My arm doesn't hurt except when I pitch," he explained as he hurried through the Union station to a taxi. "The pain is in the shoulder and I believe its muscle soreness. I'll see Doc Hyland [Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician] in the morning."

STATE ARCHERY TOURNAMENT TO START TODAY

The Illinois state archery tournament, sponsored by the Chicago Park District Archery association, will open today and continue through tomorrow at Hutchinson field in Grant park. One hundred and fifty are expected to compete.

Bert Archambault of the Lincoln Park Archery club, and Mrs. Hazel Korn of La Salle, Ill., are the defending champions.

Cardwell Is a Sprinter—on Track and in Football

Every football coach dreams of coming up some day with a 10 second sprinter who also can weave his way down a gridiron with a football under his arm.

Such a dream came true for Coach Dana X. Bible, now of Texas, but recently of Nebraska, and his dream player was Lloyd Cardwell, for the last three years one of the leading half backs in the Big Six conference and currently a member of the All-American college squad that will meet the Green Bay Packers at Soldiers' field Wednesday night.

In addition to being a fine sprinter [he has a mark of :09.7 seconds for the 100 yard dash], Cardwell can do just about everything else on the modern track program.

A One-Man Team.

During the last three years he scored points in all but four events at the annual Big Six track games. His specialties were the sprints, hurdles, broad jump, high jump, discus, and javelin.

In the conference meet last spring he won the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet 3 inches, captured the low hurdles in :23.3, and took fifth place in the discus throw. His mark of :09.7 in the 100 yard dash was accomplished in a dual meet with Oklahoma.

It is a matter of record that champion sprinters seldom prove to be outstanding football players. But Cardwell is an exception, for besides his exploits in track, he was the leading Big Six scorer in football for three consecutive years.

Regular as a Sophomore.

Cardwell stepped into a regular's rôle in his sophomore year. It would have been difficult for the Nebraska coaches to overlook this young man for he was 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighed 180 pounds. He scales 195 pounds today. He started every game that first year except the final of the season against Kansas State, when an ankle injury kept him from playing all but the final quarter.

Cardwell's greatest scoring achievement was at the expense of Chicago in 1935, when he scored three touchdowns, one of which was a 90 yard return of a kickoff. Nebraska won the game, 19 to 7.

All-Star Drill Is Marked by 95 Yard Punt

were good they were very, very good. But for consistency he did not equal Baugh, Huffman, or Toth.

All the kickers also practiced quick kicking. Then they put in a quarter of an hour aiming for the sidelines. Coach Dorais placed a white sweater on the sidelines 50 yards down the field and each of these men dropped the ball within 10 feet of the target.

No announcement of kicking assignments has been made. Perhaps none will be made until Wednesday evening when the squad takes the field. But, in the starting lineup, Huffman probably will draw the punting assignment, particularly since Francis quite likely may be replaced by Ed Jankowski at full back. When Baugh is in the game he probably will kick as well as pass and run. The All-American's captain excels in all these phases of attack.

The coaches continued emphasizing kicking in the drill at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The first team worked on blocking to protect the kickers. Then definite blocking assignments to give the kick receivers a chance to get away were announced and practiced. In conclusion, plays were given out for the linemen to use as they charged through in their attempts to break up the punts before the kicker could get them away.

J. R. POPE DIES; ARCHITECT FOR MELLON GALLERY

Designer of Montfaucon War Memorial.

John R. Pope.

Pope was president of the American academy at Rome and the designer of the new $15,000,000 Mellon art gallery in Washington. He became ill at his summer home in Newport, R. I., early in August and was brought to the Harkness Pavilion Medical center here for treatment.

Designer of War Memorial.

On Aug. 1 a white shaft of granite, designed by Pope, was dedicated in Montfaucon, France, to commemorate the victory of the American first army in the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

In January of 1932 he was commissioned to design a new gallery to the British museum to house the famous Elgin marbles.

Pope also was the designer of a memorial to Thomas Jefferson, construction of which has been delayed because of a congressional controversy over its proposed location in the capital's famed tidal basin.

Holder of Many Honors.

Pope held the Architectural League Medal of Honor (1916), the Gold Medal of Honor of the New York chapter of the American Institute of Architects, the Medal Jean Le Claire, Institute of France. He was a chevalier of the Legion of Honor. He was born in New York City on April 24, 1874, and was a descendant of John Pope of Dorchester, Mass.

Among his works were Scottish Rite temple, near Washington, D. C.; Lincoln Memorial, Hodgenville, Ky.; Constitution hall, D. A. R., and the United States Archives building, Washington; additions to the British museum and the Tate gallery, London; Frick museum, New York, and government offices, London. He also was the architect selected for the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial, New York and Washington.

Mr. Pope is survived by his widow, the former Miss Sadie Jones of Wilmington, N. C., and Newport; a daughter, Miss Jane London Pope, and a sister, Mrs. Robert H. Patchin of New York.

AUGUST OLD AGE PENSIONS STILL DISPUTED TOPIC

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 27.—(AP)—H. L. McCarthy, regional director at Chicago for the social security board, refused to discuss the Illinois old age pension situation today after a two-hour conference with Gov. Horner.

McCarthy declined to answer questions about the prospects for a delayed grant by the federal board for the full payment of August pensions. There was no comment from the governor's office.

The auditor's office today mailed the last of the July pension checks. A decision on the reinvestigation of the state office is expected from Washington next week.

Blue Island Alderman Missing; Search Started

Blue Island police were asked yesterday to search for Charles A. Dewar, 42 years old, alderman of the Sixth ward of the suburb, who has been missing since Monday from his home at 2123 West 121st street. He spent last week-end with his wife, Ella, and their four children in a summer lake cottage near Mundelein, but failed to return home Monday. He is a plumber by trade, employed part time by the Burnside Steel Foundry company, 1300 East 92d street.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Last Mile

WOULD-BE HEIRS HEAR WOMAN, 93, PUFFED CIGARS

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The more than 500 persons who are trying to prove kinship with the late Ida E. Wood had a new picture today of the little old lady, 93 years old, who used to carry $900,000 in bank notes around in paper bags and spread them on the floor as a carpet.

In addition to her other foibles of a past century, it was on record today in Surrogate's court that she delighted to settle back in an easy chair in her lavender and lace and puff a big black cigar.

The many claimants who jammed Surrogate James A. Foley's courtroom laughed merrily as their attorneys brought out various astonishing facts in an attempt to prove the old lady was irrational and that therefore when she chattered about her forbears and genealogy she could easily have been incorrect.

Miss Isabelle Johnstone, who nursed her in her declining years, said that she often sat back with her big cigar and talked of dancing with Edward VII. and of entertaining Abraham Lincoln.

DAVID G. JOYCE, 52, LUMBERMAN, DIES SUDDENLY

David Gage Joyce, Chicago lumberman, died suddenly yesterday in his apartment in the St. Clair hotel, 162 East Ohio street, of a heart attack. Mr. Joyce, who was 52 years old, was active in the lumber business founded in Chicago by his grandfather, William T. Joyce.

Mr. Joyce and his brother, James Stanley Joyce, a former husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce, succeeded to the lumber business in 1909 on the death of their father, William T. Joyce Jr. The widow, Beatrice R., and a daughter, Beatrice G., survive.

Too Ardent as Admirer, She Gets 5 Days in Jail

Moline, Ill., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—May Lewis, 40 years old, was sentenced to five days in jail here today because she "forced her attentions" on Clarence Pope, 33. Pope testified the woman has been following him around for months, although he has given her no encouragement. Miss Lewis said she liked Pope and refused to promise the magistrate she would leave him alone. Pope was fined $5 for striking Miss Lewis.

News of Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Two hours of drama are in store for the nation's listeners Monday evening. CBS is winding up its Shakespeare cycle from 8 to 9 o'clock with Tallulah Bankhead in "Twelfth Night." Orson Welles, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Helen Menken, and Conwey Tearle comprise the distinguished supporting cast.

At 9 o'clock, weather permitting, NBC will air the postponed Louis-Farr fight over WENR and WMAQ. George Bernard Shaw's monumental five-barreled play, "Back to Methuselah," which was to have been presented from 8:30 to 9:45 Monday, has been postponed because of the bout to 7:30 on Thursday, Sept. 20. Peggy Wood is to star in the Shavian production.

There seems to be no end to the talents of Nelson Eddy. First he was a newspaper man; then he became an operatic and concert singer; then a radio favorite, next a movie star, and lately he has added radio acting to his répertoire. Tomorrow at 7 p. m. you may lend an ear to Eddy's golden voice blending with the brassy one of Charlie McCarthy in a swing inquiry titled "Have You Got Any Castles, Baby?" Charlie will be left out of it, however, when Eddy tackles "Di Provenza" from "La Traviata."

It's a seven pound blonde daughter in the household of Frank Baker, WLS continuity writer, born Thursday at Ravenswood hospital.

Al Williamson, director of the NBC press depastment in Chicago for nine years, has resigned, effective Sept. 13, to become assistant to Publisher Davis Merwin of the Minneapolis Star. Mr. Williamson was associated with Mr. Merwin on the Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph before coming to Chicago. William Ray, news editor, will take Williamson's place as NBC press head.

The Rev. J. Anderson Jardine, the vicar of Darlington, England, who tied the knot for the duke of Windsor and Mrs. Warfield, will be on the air locally over WCBD at 7:30 a. m. next Wednesday and Friday. The vicar is to appear for a week at the Chicago Gospel tabernacle starting tomorrow.

When three big radio comedy writers—working for different comedians—get together they demonstrate the truth of the phrase that silence is golden. Bill Morrow, gag man for Jack Benny, and Hal Block, who turns out Phil Baker's scripts, have been vacationing in Chicago with home folks this week and visiting with Don Quinn, who writes the Fibber McGee stuff. But you never catch them wisecracking at the luncheon table. As Quinn puts it, "Why, that would be just like throwing money away."

Fibber and Molly, incidentally, are going to Detroit next Tuesday to make a commercial comedy for a motor maker.

Frank L. Moss, comedy writer for Beatrice Lillie, Al Jolson, and Martha Raye, is in town to turn out the continuity for a new NBC Monday evening variety hour in which Cal Tinney will be headlined.

FATHER DENEEN DIES WHILE ON CHICAGO VISIT

The Rev. Walter J. Deneen, 55 years old, of Lake Andes, S. D., died of a heart attack yesterday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Edward F. Hanrahan, in Darien, Wis. He came to Chicago last Wednesday for the funeral of Mr. Hanrahan, who was killed in an automobile accident last Sunday.

Born in Chicago, Father Deneen gave up a business career to study for the priesthood. For a time he was treasurer of Columbus college at Sioux Falls. About 10 years ago he was appointed to the Lake Andes pastorate.

Besides Mrs. Hanrahan, he is survived by another sister, Miss Mayme Deneen, and two brothers, John J. and Timothy F. Deneen. Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Monday at St. Columbkille's church. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

EMMA R. M'ALPIN ESTATE VALUED AT $5,648,350 NET

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Mrs. Emma Rockefeller McAlpin, widow of Dr. David Hunter McAlpin of Brooklyn Manor, Morris Plains, N. J., left a gross estate of $6,488,864 when she died here on Aug. 11, 1934, according to a transfer tax appraisal filed today in court.

Mrs. McAlpin was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Rockefeller of Tarrytown. Funeral and administration expenses amounting to $594,684, and debts totaling $245,830 reduced the net estate to $5,648,350.

First, Second Husbands Killed at Same Crossing

Pinckneyville, Ill., Aug. 27.—(AP)—A year ago the Rev. Albert Wright and his son, Dean, 15 years old, were killed when an Illinois Central train struck their automobile on a grade crossing at Winkle, north of here. Mrs. Wright subsequently married again. Today her second husband, Grover Taylor, and his sons, Dean, 19, and William, 17, were killed by an I. C. train which struck their car at the same grade crossing.

Field Estate Employe Falls Into Lake; Drowns

Richard J. Wilson, 49 years old, 5856 Kenmore avenue, an employé of the Marshall Field estate, was drowned in the lake near Glenlake avenue early today when, police said, he apparently fell into the water accidentally. No one saw him fall, but his body was recovered, still warm, a few minutes later. Inhalator Squad 4, under Lieut. George Reese, worked an hour in a futile effort at resuscitation.

Los Angeles Sets Record; Heat Officially 95 Degrees

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Heat records for this year went under today when the government forecaster recorded an official 95 for Los Angeles city. Unofficial thermometer readers in outlying sections of the city and suburbs, turned in reports ranging up to 103. Imperial Valley recorded 110.

ELGIN FAIR ENDS; 30,000 SEE IT IN THREE DAYS

Announce Winners in 4-H Club Contests.

The annual agricultural fair closed at Elgin last night with a total attendance of 30,000 during the three days it was open.

In the Kane county 4-H club boys' and girls' live stock competition Arthur Howard of Dundee won the grand champion dairy cattle award, exhibiting a pure bred Holstein calf from the Howard herd that has won in national expositions. William Healy of Sugar Grove won the grand champion prize in the beef cattle division with an Aberdeen-Angus steer.

Archie Price of Aurora won the hog calling contest yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John W. Bartelt of Batavia was declared to be the best husband caller. W. M. Wedemaier of Aurora took first in the biggest smile contest.

FLOODS RECEDE IN EAST AFTER HEAVY DAMAGE

Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Menacing flood waters receded tonight in southern New York and northern Pennsylvania after threatening for a time to repeat the havoc wrought in the disastrous flood of 1935.

Lieut. Jonathan Clinton Foltz, 30, of the CCC camp near Wellsboro, Pa., died while trying to rescue George Kolt from the waters of Kelsey Creek.

Fears that the family of Roy Hampton, Caton Center, N. Y., had drowned when their home was swept away were dispelled when Mrs. Hampton and her sons and daughters were found safe at the home of a friend.

FIND FOUR DEAD IN WRECKAGE OF PRIVATE PLANE

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The bodies of State Assemblyman Pritchard H. Strong, his wife, and two companions were found today in the wreckage of Strong's airplane a mile from the Albany airport.

The pilot was Clarence Robinson of Rochester. The fourth victim was Charles H. Judson, Rochester investment counsel.

FREDERICK OPPER DIES; CREATOR OF 'HAPPY HOOLIGAN'

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Frederick Burr Opper, dean of American cartoonists, died today at his home in New Rochelle of heart disease. F was 80 years old.

Mr. Opper, who created "Happy Hooligan," "Alfonse and Gaston," "Mr. Dubb and Mr. Dough," and dozens of other comic characters, retired from active work for the Hearst newspapers several years ago when his eyesight began to fail.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Nellie Barrett Opper; a son, Laurence, of New Rochelle, and a daughter, Mrs. Harold Plimpton of Hingman, Mass. Funeral services will be private.

PAY M'CORMICK ESTATE TAX BY SELLING STOCK

Trustees Dispose of Harvester Shares.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A substantial block of stock of the International Harvester company and also other securities were liquidated by the Cyrus H. McCormick estate to meet the federal inheritance tax of approximately $10,398,000, the trustees disclosed yesterday.

Judson F. Stone.

A check for the full amount of the tax was turned over to the collector of internal revenue on Thursday, when the trustees filed their return. The payment is one of largest that has been made through the collector's office.

Judson F. Stone, one of the trustees, said yesterday that the sales of Harvester stock by the estate were made on the open market. No large blocks were transferred to individuals, he said.

Tax Takes Half of Estate.

The federal levy, together with the $1,289,298 which was paid earlier to state of Illinois, represent more than half of the assessed value of the estate, which was listed for tax purposes at $22,359,806.

There has been a substantial appreciation in the value of the estate since June 2, 1932, when McCormick died. The estate's principal holding of 237,066 shares of International Harvester common stock was worth $12,730,444 at the time of his death. At yesterday's price of $111 a share the quoted market value of the same stock would be $26,314,326.

The appreciation in the value of the stock was one of the factors which enabled the estate to raise the 10 1-3 millions needed to meet the federal tax. Had the executors faced the necessity of raising that amount in a declining market for securities it is doubtful if the liquidation would have left much more than was needed to meet the federal levy.

Liquidation Is Gradual.

The liquidation of the Harvester stock was carried out over a period of several months, it was indicated. The estate did not have to sell as much of the stock as appeared likely a few months ago, but the sales are believed to have effected a substantial reduction in its holdings, which represented the largest single stock interest in the concern. McCormick was chairman of the company at the time of his death.

Cash and government bonds comprised only slightly more than $1,000,000 of the total estate in June, 1936. Aside from the holdings of Harvester common stock, the estate owned 20,880 shares of Harvester preferred stock, which has approximately the same market value today that it had fifteen months ago. Most of the other assets have had a material appreciation in value. Except in the case of the listed securities, the enhancement is a matter of estimate.

Sales Not Reported.

The Harvester stock was liquidated by the estate without general knowledge that the operation was being carried out. The sales did not appear in the monthly reports of security transactions by the Securities and Exchange commission, which cover only the operations of corporate officers and directors or stockholders owning 10 per cent or more of the common stock. The Cyrus McCormick holdings, although the largest in the company, amounted to less than 4 per cent of the total stock.

RAILWAY WAGE PARLEYS AWAIT U. S. MEDIATOR

Informal meetings of railway executives at the Union station and labor officials at the Morrison hotel were held yesterday as management and labor awaited the arrival this morning of a federal mediator from Washington. He will attempt to iron out differences of the two groups arising from the unions' demand for a 20 per cent wage increase.

Wednesday the unions, representing 250,000 operating employés, threatened to strike when the railroads refused to grant the increase. The refusal came as an abrupt conclusion to several weeks of negotiation. Thursday the United States mediation board asked to enter the controversy. Its offer was accepted by both sides.

Both of yesterday's sessions were closed and neither side would make a statement beyond asserting that they were ready to deal with William M. Leiserson, the mediator.

Philippine Islands Plan Big Rubber Development

MANILA, Aug. 27.—(AP)—President Manuel Quezon said today he is planning speedy development of the rubber industry in the Philippines, eventually to make the islands one of the world's leading producers. As one of the major plans for economic improvement, he said, the government contemplates opening a large rubber plantation on Mindanao Island. An American rubber company has promised technical help and will assist in supplying seedling trees, he said.

Two Big Utility Holding Firms' Profits Climb

American and Foreign Power company and American Power and Light company, large utility holding companies, yesterday reported higher earnings for 1937 periods compared with those of a year ago. Several other companies reported reduced profits.

American and Foreign Power reported profit for the quarter ended June 30 was $1,889,348, compared with $1,185,626 in the June quarter of 1936. The company had net income for 12 months ended June 30 totaling $6,417,996, against $3,476,161 in the preceding 12 months.

No material damage to the company's holdings in the Shanghai area has been reported, J. S. Carson, vice president, said in New York yesterday. However, there has been serious curtailment of business of the Shanghai Power company, one of the company's subsidiaries.

American Power Gains.

American Power and Light, which has operating properties in 12 states, had net income of $2,740,452, or 1 cent a common share in the thre months ended July 31. In the corresponding 1936 period, net income was $2,045,657, or $1.15 a share on the combined preferred stock.

Net income for 12 months ended July 31 was $11,435,520, equal after preferred requirements to 59 cents a common share. This compared with net income of $9,599,192, or $5.42 on the combined preferred, in the preceding 12 months.

F. E. Myers and Brother company, manufacturer of pumps and water system equipment, reported profit for the July quarter was $361,018, or $1.80 a common share, compared with net income of $365,374, or $1.82 a share, in the corresponding quarter of 1936. Profit for the nine months ended July 31 was $987,580, or $4.94 a common share, against $759,495, or $3.79 a share, in the nine months ended July 31, 1936.

Reports Decline in Profit.

Profit of Equitable Office Building corporation for the quarter ended July 31 declined to $35,832, or 4 cents a common share, from $86,403, or 10 cents a share, in the same quarter of 1936.

Northern State Power company reported net income of $3,311,562 for the six months ended June 30, compared with net income of $2,812,572, in the first half of 1936. Net profit for 12 months ended June 30 was $5,689,806, against $5,163,549 a year earlier.

Addressograph-Multigraph corporation, manufacturer of addressing and other office equipment and supplies, earned $1,400,268, equal to $1.85 a share on 753,599 common shares, in the seven months ended July 31, 1937. In the corresponding 1936 period, it earned $787,751, or $1.05 a share on 746,313 common shares outstanding on July 31, 1936. The company reported that unfilled orders on Aug. 16 of this year were 25 per cent above those on the same date a year ago.

Radiomarine Has Upturn.

Radiomarine Corporation of America, subsidiary of Radio Corporation of America, had July net income of $50,678, against $15,213 in July last year. Net income for the first seven months of this year was $172,092, compared with $99,021 in the corresponding 1936 period.

In the Friday morning TRIBUNE it was incorrectly reported that Revere Copper and Brass had net income equivalent to $1.66 a common for the six months ended June 30, 1936. The concern earned $1.66 on the class A stock in the 1936 period and had a deficit of 17 cents a common share for the period.

The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company corrected the earnings statement it issued Thursday to show that a loss of $66,414 occurred in July, 1936, instead of a profit of that amount, as reported in the original statement.

Day's Earnings Report.

LLOYD'S RAISES SHIP INSURANCE BECAUSE OF WAR

LONDON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Lloyd's underwriters again boosted insurance rates today on freight shipments to for eastern waters and through the Mediterranean.

Because of the Chinese-Japenese undeclared war, present rates on shipments to Hongkong were increased one-eighth of one per cent; to ports south of Shanghai, one-half per cent; to Japan, one-eighth per cent.

Rates through the Straits of Gibraltar or other waters near Spain were stepped up from one-fourth of one per cent to three per cent on regular liners. Increases were ordered for other classes of shipping.

NORTHWESTERN PLANS TO REPLACE WILLARD HALL AS DORMITORY

Plans have been drawn and if the board of trustees of Northwestern university approves a $600,000 dormitory for 250 freshmen girls will be erected for occupancy in the autumn of 1938. The proposed building, a four story structure, will be at the west end of the girls' quadrangle in the block bounded by University place, Emerson street, Orrington avenue, and Sherman avenue in Evanston.

One hundred and forty freshmen girls are now housed in Willard hall, one of the university's oldest structures. If the new dormitory is built Willard hall may be converted into class rooms, or the building may be razed.

Willard hall was erected in 1869 and housed the Evanston College for Ladies, which took over the charter of the Northwestern Female college, established in 1855 by Col. John Wesley Jones.

Frances Willard, founder of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, was a student at the Northwestern Female college, and became the first president of the Evanston College for Ladies. The college was taken over by Northwestern university in 1872, at which time its building was named Willard hall.

FREIGHT TRAFIC INCREASE LESS THAN SEASONAL

Railroad freight loadings last week increased 3,865 cars over the preceding week's loadings to a total of 781,247 cars, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday.

This was a slightly 'ess than seasonal gain of 0.5 per cent, and resulted mainly from increased loadings of miscellaneous freight, less-than-carlot merchandise and grain.

All classifications of freight showed gains over the week ended Aug. 14 except coal and coke, loadings of each of these commodities being 205 cars below that week's trafic.

Last week's loadings increased 45,771 cars, or 6.2 per cent, over the corresponding week of 1936, and increased 115,473 cars, or 24.8 per cent, over the like week of 1935. The gain over last year was recorded chiefly in ore, grain, and miscellaneous freight.

	Wk. ended Aug. 21.	—Change from— Prec. wk.	Yr. ago.
Miscellaneous	313,429	+1,873	+16,695
Mdse., L. C. L.	166,980	+ 584	+ 934
Coal	116,046	+ 205	— 834
Grain	43,949	+ 558	+ 4,159
Live stock	15,038	+ 422	— 7
Forest products	41,346	+ 414	+ 4,276
Ore	74,895	+ 424	+20,294
Coke	9,564	+ 205	+ 1,046

The Dow-Jones seasonally adjusted loadings index, based on the average of the last fifteen years as 100, declined to 90.1 from 90.8 in the preceding week.

Gen. Dawes Goes Fishing on His 72d Birthday

Gen. Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the City National Bank and Trust company and former Vice President of the United States, yesterday observed his seventy-second birthday. Unlike last year, when he celebrated with a luncheon at the bank, Gen. Dawes spent yesterday at a fishing camp in Colorado, which he and several other prominent Chicagoans own.

RULING ON INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES NOT LIKELY BEFORE OCT. 1

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Decision on a request from railroads for an increase in freight rates cannot be reasonably expected before Oct. 1, officials of the interstate commerce commission said today. A quorum of commissioners is not expected before Sept. 15 as nine of the eleven members are away from the city.

The petition of the carriers includes the "heavy" commodity list which was withdrawn from the general rate plea and submitted separately to expedite a decision. This list includes steel, iron, ore, coal, petroleum, lime, plaster, and cement.

During the first six months of 1937 gross income of the nation's railroads exceeded last year by 11 per cent but higher costs absorbed a large part of the increase.

Edison's Lore Rescues Plant Despite Death

West Orange, N. J., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison, more than five years after his death, made a decision two weeks ago which kept one of his largest manufacturing plants from shutting down. The plant was the battery division of Thomas A. Edison, Inc.

Thomas A. Edison.

Nickel had been discovered in $40,000 worth of Swedish iron used to make the negative "active materials" for alkaline batteries. This is an unusually pure form of iron, and no more was available at the time in this country. A staf conference was called to consider whether the nickel impurity ruined the iron for battery manufacture.

"How would you like to have Thomas A. Edison make the decision?" asked one of the conferees, George E. Stringfellow, vice president and general manager of the battery division. The staf looked inquiring.

"I'm not sure," Stringfellow added, "but I think it can be done."

Edison's Answers Recorded.

Then he told them this story: In 1926, while Edison was the active consultant for the battery company, Stringfellow proposed:

"Mr. Edison, would you be willing to arrange to continue as consultant after you have passed on?"

"You are crazy," said Edison.

"It might work," Stringfellow replied. "You invented this battery. In your mind there is information about it that no one else has. Will you let the staf give you written questions about the battery every Saturday afternoon before you go home? You could bring the answers in writing to work on Monday morning."

Edison agreed. Over week-ends he penciled answers to lists of typewritten questions. Eighty-seven questions were asked and answered in two years. They were mostly academic. They were bits of information not available as a rule in scientific records.

Use Edison's Experience.

They were filed away in a black loose-leaf book. The book remained in the files after Edison's death in October, 1931. It was forgotten by nearly every one except Stringfellow. He brought it out for the staf conference two weeks ago.

No one knew whether it would contain the nickel question; but it did.

"If there is nickel in iron," Stringfellow had written, "does it adversely affect the life of the cell?" [The cell is part of a battery.]

"No harm," Edison wrote.

The conference accepted this decision. It turned out to be correct. Subsequent investigation showed that improved methods of chemical analysis had probably detected the presence in iron of small small amounts of nickel that had previously escaped notice.

Edison spent ten years perfecting this battery. His men today say it took more time than any other of his inventions and is one the public scarcely heard about. They say that in making it Edison asked himself over 50,000 questions and worked out the answers in his laboratory.

$7,638,000 MORE GOLD ENGAGED FOR U. S. ACCOUNT

Engagements of $7,638,000 of gold for shipment to the United States were reported yesterday by the New York Reserve bank. The transsactions included $5,865,000 taken in Japan, $709,000 in England, and $1,064,000 in India. The engagements were the largest in several days. The London gold price held steady at $34.77 an ounce.

Foreign currencies were lower in terms of American money in exchange transactions yesterday. The pound sterling dropped ⅞ cent, to $4.97¾. The French franc lost .00⅝ cent and the Japanese yen .06 cent. Shanghai and Hongkong dollars were moderately lower. Canadian currency was unchanged.

AURORA & ELGIN LINE TO ABANDON BRANCH, PROVIDE BUS SERVICE

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday authorized the Chicago, Aurora, and Elgin railroad to abandon its branch line from Geneva Junction to West Chicago, Geneva, and St. Charles, and to substitute buses.

Company officials explained that operations of the branch have been unprofitable and that the line, much of which runs through city streets, needs a large amount of rehabilitation for which the road does not have funds.

A new station will be built on route 64—St. Charles road—where the highway intersects the main electric line to Elgin.. The bus service will make available to commuters in the affected towns 26 trains each way daily instead of the present 17. Passengers from St. Charles will save from 8 to 12 minutes in running time to Chicago's loop under the new arrangement.

The commission also approved a petition for the Willey Coach Lines, Inc., to operate bus service from West Chicago through High Lake and Winfield to Wheaton.

JULY EARNINGS OF ROCK ISLAND LINES SHOW GAIN

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific reported net operating income for the period of $1,653,489, compared with $759,573 in July, 1936. This brought operating net for the first seven months of this year to $2,482,387, against an operating deficit of $1,086,185 in the same 1936 period. July gross was $8,808,730, against $7,628,167, and seven months' gross totaled $47,833,412, compared with $44,327,809.

The St. Louis-San Francisco system reported July operating net of $1,611,952, which included a credit of $800,687 resulting from a refund on 1936 accruals for the railroad retirement act. This compares with net operating income of $599,297 in July last year, and brought the total for the first seven months of 1937 to $3,810,278, compared with $1,806,815.

Net operating income figures reported yesterday follow:

DOUGLAS PLANE SALES EXCEED EXPECTATIONS

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The rate of deliveries by the Douglas Aircraft company has been stepped up more than expected and net sales of airplanes for the current fiscal year probably will exceed previous estimates, Dow-Jones & Co. said today.

"Net sales for the eight months ended July 31 are understood to have approximated $12,800,000, of which $8,500,000 was delivered during the first six months," the agency said. "Provided there is no interruption in production schedules it is expected total deliveries for the fiscal year ending next Nov. 30 will amount to $20,000,000."

FILM ACTORS' 1936 SALARIES TOP PRODUCER'S

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Highest salaries paid by Paramount Pictures, Inc., in 1936 went to actors, according to a report filed today with the Securities and Exchange commission. Gary Cooper received $265,454 and George Raft $202,667. Wesley Ruggles, a producer, was paid $188,809.

The Continental Can company, in an amendment to its 1935 report, revealed that Ernest Sturm, chairman of the board, received $96,234 in that year; Bernard Culver, president, $56,487, and Lemar Hill, vice president and general manager, $22,600.

CORN TUMBLES DAY'S LIMIT ON SELLING WAVE

Big Crop and Lower Prices Foreseen.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yest.	Thurs.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$1.06⅝	$1.06⅛	$1.08⅝
Corn	.95½	.99½	1.06½
Oats	.38¾	.38¾	.42
Rye	.79¼	.79¼	.81¾
Soy beans [Oct.]	.96½	.96⅝	.....

The corn market developed independent weakness yesterday, with the September delivery declining the permissible limit of 4 cents a bushel. The December and May futures were 2¼ to 2½ cents lower and sold at the lowest levels reached by any delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade since July 1, 1936. December corn touched 63 cents and closed at the bottom.

General liquidation by holders of corn futures was said by brokers to be responsible for the decline in prices, and many operators who bought recently were said to have gone out of their lines on stop loss orders.

New Corn Being Offered.

Reports that new corn was being offered for nearby shipment to Chicago from states south of the Ohio river and receipts of twenty-one cars of old domestic grain, the largest day's arrivals during the current month, had some effect on sentiment.

Brokers also attributed part of the selling to a statement by the department of agriculture predicting a sharp downward revision in cash corn prices if new crop prospects are maintained. Although there was nothing new in the statement, as the prospective decline had been reflected for many weeks in the discount of the December future compared with the September delivery, it nevertheless had considerable effect on sentiment.

October Shipments Sought.

The trade had reports that bids of 20 cents a bushel over the Chicago December delivery had been made for new No. 4 corn for shipment to this market during the early part of October. A sample of corn was received yesterday from New Harmony, Ind., so far along toward maturity as to indicate an early movement of the 1937 crop providing weather conditions are favorable.

Wheat prices advanced about 1½ cents in the early trading yesterday, reflecting strength in the Liverpool market and continued dry weather in Argentina, but the late weakness in corn led many early buyers to turn to the selling side and the close was within a small fraction of a cent a bushel off Thursday's final prices. Liverpool closed 1¼ to 2¼ cents a bushel higher on the unfavorable outlook for the new Argentine wheat crop. Winnipeg gained ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel.

Argentina Faces Poor Crop.

Argentina has a prospective wheat crop of only 210,000,000 bushels this year, it was estimated yesterday by the department of agriculture, based on weather conditions to date. This compares with 248,000,000 bushels harvested in 1936 and 141,000,000 bushels in 1935. The crop in the latter year was very small due to extensive drouth damage.

Price changes in oats, rye, and soy bean futures were largely confined to small fractions of a cent.

Grigsby-Grunow Property Is Sold to Building Trust

One of the five remaining units of the Grigsby-Grunow company's plant on the south side of Dickens avenue at Marmora avenue, was sold yesterday at F. Lanner, representing an undisclosed building trust. The property, 200 by 418, was sold for a reported $77,500 by Frank M. McKey, trustee in bankruptcy of the Grigsby-Grunow company. The building will be occupied by the Paragon Die Casting company.

NEW AMOSKEAG FIRM PAYS 125% DIVIDEND IN CASH AND STOCK

Manchester, N. H., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Amoskeag Industries, Inc., which took over the properties of the old Amoskeag Manufacturing company last fall, today announced a dividend of 125 per cent for its stockholders. Twenty-five per cent of the dividend will be paid in cash and 100 per cent in five year notes bearing 6 per cent interest.

The directors reported that they have realized $2,400,000 to date on the sale of mills, machinery, and other property of old company. Expenses of operation since the acquisition has amounted to $500,000.

The present company was formed in order to find purchasers and lessees for the properties who would continue to operate them here and provide jobs for many persons who were thrown out of work when the old company suspended textile manufacturing operations. Today's dividend action of directors was seen as an indication of the success of that plan.

The present company was financed largely by local interests. Its capitalization consists of 5,433 shares of $100 par stock on which the cash distribution will amount to about $135,000. The dividend will be distributed Aug. 28 to stockholders of record Aug. 27.

Filing Income Tax Blank Now Should Be a Joy

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The treasury today approved simplified income tax return forms designed to make it easier for the rich, the poor, and the in-betweeners to pay their bills.

The new form for individuals is dressed up in larger, clearer type. It has more and bigger white spaces for the taxpayer to jot in such items as "earned income credit." The new forms will be distributed early in January—two and a half months before the March 15 income tax deadline.

Want Earlier Payments.

Officials said they hoped the simplified forms would encourage earlier payment of taxes, reducing the last minute flood of returns on March 15.

Sixty per cent of taxpayers have incomes of less than $5,000, and, as in the past, they will have a special condensed return. This group will be spared some of the questions which may have confused them in previous years, such as detailed queries as to ownership of securities.

The space on the old forms for reporting capital gains or rentals has been eliminated. Taxpayers with less than $5,000 income who have capital gains or rentals will use a more detailed form.

Other Changes Made.

On the new returns the affidavit sworn to by the taxpayer will be switched from the first to the last page. Thus, if an individual doesn't let the notary public thumb through his return, he can keep the amount of his salary secret.

Many of the simplifications for the less than $5,000 returns also have been included in the forms for individual incomes over that amount. Some changes have been effected as well in corporation returns. The treasury experts, however, centered their efforts on easing problems of the "little fellow."

OUTPUT OF MEAT PACKERS IS FAR BELOW NORMAL

July production of packing house commodities at inspected slaughtering establishments in the United States was 26½ per cent below output for July, 1936, and 25 per cent below the 1927-1936 average for the month, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Production in July was 7 per cent below June, this year, and only slightly above the lowest levels in the fifteen years during which the bank has kept records. These lows were established in June, July, and September, 1935.

Tonnage sold during July decreased 7 per cent from June and 9½ per cent from July, 1936, and was 10½ per cent below the ten year average, the report showed.

Dollar value of sales, however, was 3½ per cent larger in July than in June and increased 12½ per cent over last year and 19 per cent over the ten year July average.

Stocks of these commodities on hand in the United States decreased 160 million pounds during July to a point nearly 12 per cent below the 1932-1936 average for Aug. 1, but were 73 million pounds larger than on Aug. 1, 1936.

PRICE OF SILVER FALLS TO LOW FOR YEAR IN LONDON

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The price of bar silver in London broke to a new low for the year today under heavy selling from India resulting from fears over the far eastern crisis.

There was a large turnover in the market, brokers reporting that prices would have slumped even further had it not been for considerable American buying. The decline was based on the belief that large stocks of silver arriving in Hongkong from Canton may be thrown on the market for sale.

A price of 19¼ pence an ounce was fixed, off ⅜ pence overnight, and equivalent to 43¼ cents here. This compares with a previous low of 19¾ pence last June 22. In New York, Handy & Harman maintained the silver price at 44¾ cents, leading brokers to believe that shipments of silver from London here will be made unless the New York price also is cut.

AUTO OUTPUT FALLS TO 83,310 CARS LAST WEEK

Production of automobiles in American and Canadian factories dropped 83,310 units last week, Ward's Automotive Reports estimated yesterday. This compared with estimated production of 93,339 units last week and 59,237 in the corresponding 1936 period.

Fourteen factories are now closed as preparations are being made to switch to production of new models, the agency said. Production next week, it added, will probably decline another 20,000 units.

General Motors turned out an estimated 29,100 vehicles this week against 32,954 last week. Ford's production remained at approximately 26,000 units and Chrysler's output dropped to 23,950 from 26,600 in the preceding week.

E. I. DU PONT DE NEMOURS & CO.

Wilmington, Delaware, August 16, 1937.

The Board of Directors has this day declared a dividend of $1.50 a share on the outstanding Debenture Stock of this Company, payable October 25, 1937 to stockholders of record at the close of business on October 8, 1937; also dividend of One Dollar and Thirty-five Cents ($1.35) a share on the outstanding Preferred Stock—$4.50 Cumulative of this Company, said dividend to cover the period from the date of original issue, July 7, 1937, to and including October 25, 1937, on which date the dividend shall be payable to stockholders of record as shown on the books of the Company at the close of business on October 8, 1937; also a third quarterly "interim" dividend for the year 1937 of One Dollar and Fifty Cents ($1.50) a share on the outstanding Common Stock of this Company, payable September 15, 1937, to stockholders of record at the close of business on August 25, 1937.

U.S. TREASURY'S NEXT FINANCING ONLY REFUNDING

Will Sell Bills Later for Ready Cash.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—In its quarterly financing on Sept. 15, the treasury will confine itself to refunding operations. No new notes will be offered for sale as the treasury refunds 817 million dollars of maturing 3¼ per cent notes, Wayne C. Taylor, acting secretary of the treasury, said today.

Two departments in treasury policy will mark the Sept. 15 refinancing. In previous quarterly operations the treasury has always borrowed cash to meet bills falling due at the quarterly intervals. On Sept. 15, $350,000,000 of special bill issues, maturing Sept. 16, 17, and 18, will be redeemed out of the treasury's working balance.

Turns to Bill Market for Cash.

Another innovation is the turning to the bill market entirely for cash rather than borrowing on notes or bonds. To provide additional cash the treasury has planned three double series of bills, totaling $100,000,000 each.

Of the double series announced yesterday $50,000,000 will mature Dec. 20 during the income tax payment period, and $50,000,000 will mature June 1, 1938. Two bill issues fall due in the December income tax period and quarterly refinancing period to bring the total of maturities in that period to $500,000,000.

The shift to the bill market is believed to be due to market conditions. The government security market has been unsettled since early April. In its last quarterly financing on June 15 the treasury was forced to pay higher interest rates to make its securities more attractive. In going to the bill market the treasury deals in securities which sell on a discount basis so that they are less sensitive to market changes.

An anticipated surplus of cash in the treasury in 1938 also prompted the leaning on the bill market. If the surplus develops, fiscal experts said, the treasury will have ample funds to meet large bill issues under the new policy.

Four Phases of Financing.

As outlined by the treasury the financing for the quarterly period from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15 has four major phases. These are:

1. The treasury will announce on September 7 an offer to exchange $817,000,000 of maturing 3¼ per cent notes for a new note issue. Treasury officials will not say what the rate or maturity of new offering will be.

2. On September 15 the treasury will meet $350,000,000 of maturing special bills out of its working cash balance.

3. The treasury will offer for sale double series of discount bills, each double series amounting to $100,000,000. One double series was offered yesterday. Another will be offered September 3 and a third will be offered September 10. Of each $100,000,000 double series $50,000,000 will be of the regular 273 day issues and the rest will be of special series maturing December 20.

4. The treasury plans to issue special bills maturing in the March income tax period if it needs additional money after September 10.

The treasury will proceed with its refinancing without Secretary Morgenthau who is vacationing in Honolulu. He is following the plans by telephone communication with treasury heads.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT, pursuant to the provisions of Article IV, Section 2, of the First Lien Indenture dated as of June 13, 1935 supplemental to Indenture dated as of July 1, 1927, made by Allied Owners Corporation to Manufacturers Trust Company as Trustee, the undersigned specifies that the additional sum remaining unexpended in the Sinking Fund available for tenders on August 23, 1937 amounted to $434,187.50. Such part of the said sum will be used for the purchase of Bonds as are properly tendered.

The undersigned hereby calls for the submission at the TRUST DEPARTMENT OF MANUFACTURERS TRUST COMPANY, the Trustee, 55 Broad Street, New York City, N. Y., up to the close of business at 3:00 P. M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time on September 27, 1937, of SEALED TENDERS of Bonds specifying the principal amount of the Bonds offered, their distinctive numbers and the price (not exceeding the principal amount thereof and accrued and accumulated interest thereon) at which the same are offered. Sealed Tenders so received will be opened by the said Trustee on September 28, 1937, and the sum not in excess of $434,187.50 theretofore paid to said Trustee, will be applied by it to the purchase of Bonds issued under the Supplemental Indenture dated as of June 13, 1935, or "Old Bonds" issued under the Indenture dated as of July 1, 1927, so tendered, the tenders offering bonds or "Old Bonds" at the lowest prices being accepted first. In the event that two or more tenders are received at the same price in an aggregate amount in excess of moneys available for purchase of bonds at such price, such tenders will be accepted pro rata. Notices of acceptance of such tenders will be mailed by the Trustee on September 28, 1937. Bonds accepted are to be delivered on October 4, 1937, on which date interest on such Bonds will cease.

Persons making such Sealed Tenders whose responsibility is not known to the Trustee, should enclose with their tenders a sufficient letter of introduction or guaranty of good faith by a bank, banker or other person whose responsibility is established.

The right is reserved to the Trustee to reject any or all Tenders or to accept any Tender in part.

ALLIED OWNERS CORPORATION

TO HOLDERS OF ALLIED OWNERS CORPORATION FIRST LIEN CUMULATIVE INCOME BONDS DUE JULY 1, 1958.

On August 4, 1937, notice was given that the sum of $599,037.84 was available, under certain conditions, for the purchase of the above Bonds on tenders. On August 28, 1937 a like notice of moneys available for the purchase of Bonds on tenders amounting to $434,187.50 was published.

We wish to call to the attention of the bondholders that these are two separate and distinct sums of money and that in submitting tenders the actual tender should be contained in a sealed envelope or wrapper which bears on the outside the fact that the envelope or wrapper contains a tender of bonds and giving the date of expiration of the tender. Tenders with respect to the notice dated August 4, 1937 must be submitted so that they are received by the Trust Company on September 3, 1937, and tenders submitted with respect to the notice of August 28, 1937 must be received by the Trust Company on September 27, 1937.

ALLIED OWNERS CORPORATION

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 27.—Continued pressure on practically all classifications of stocks forced prices down 1 to 3 points on the stock exchange today.

Steels, motors, coppers, farm equipments and merchandising issues were conspicuous on the selling side, and one set of railroad averages touched a new low for the year. Utilities, in comparison, were steady, several issues closing with plus signs. Volume for the day way approximately 890,000 shares.

The thinness of the market was accentuated by the action of some of the leaders, which lost as much as a point on 100 share lots.

Carrier equities were said to reflect uneasiness over the labor situation and the possibility of a general strike, although the intercession of the mediation board was a qualifying factor. Southern Pacific and New York Central were leaders on the downside, the former dropping 1⅞ to a new year's low in heavy selling, and New York Central declining 1 point in almost equal volume.

An early steady tone in the industrial division was replaced around the noon hour by a heavier tendency. U. S. Steel common was pushed 2½ points lower in the most active selling of the day. Bethlehem declined 1¼; Crucible, 2½; Republic, 1, and National Steel, 1⅛.

Reflecting a drop below 14 cents in the price of export copper, nonferrous metal shares turned soft in the late trading. Most affected was American Smelting, which dropped 2¼ points.

General Motors made frequent appearances on the tape at declining quotations for a net loss of 1½ points. Chrysler lost 1¾ points. Phillips Petroleum, up 1⅛ points, was a strong exception in a fractionally lower oil group.

Boeing lost over 1 point in the aviations. Losses in rubber stocks reached 2¼ points in Goodrich. Allied Chemical and du Pont declined in the chemicals, but Monsanto gained 1 point.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago corporation, Commonwealth Edison, Cities Service, and Zenith Radio led stocks lower again yesterday on the Chicago exchange. Losses in leading issues ranged from minor fractions to more than a point a share, but volume contracted to 28,000 shares from the 37,000 the previous day.

Chicago corporation, individual volume leader on a turnover of 2,150 shares, eased ⅛ of a point to close at 4½. Commonwealth Edison finished ⅝ lower at 32. Cities Service closed at 2¾, off ¼. Zenith Radio slipped ⅝ at 41⅜.

Bank Stocks.

Continental Illinois National bank and First National bank stocks each declined $1 a share yesterday in dealers' quotations. Other Chicago bank shares were unchanged.

BYERS COMPANY TO PAY PART OF BACK DIVIDENDS

Will Make Distribution on Preferred Stock.

Directors of the A. M. Byers company, Pittsburgh, makers of wrought-iron pipe, yesterday declared a dividend of $2.50 on the preferred stock to apply on arrears. The last previous payment was 50 cents on Nov. 1, 1933. Directors explained that the dividend cleared up accumulated and unpaid portions of the dividends which were due on May 1, 1933, and Aug. 1, 1933, amounting in each case to $1.25 a share.

In addition to the dividend, the company will pay 53½ cents a share, representing interest at 5 per cent on the dividends from the dates due to Sept. 20, this year, which is the payment date of yesterday's declaration.

Payment of the $2.50 dividend cuts arrears to $28.50 a share.

Use Paid-In Surplus.

The announcement stated that the corporation had no earned surplus at the present time, but has a paid-in surplus amounting to $9,070,730, and has been advised by counsel that dividends may be paid from this paid-in surplus provided the source is disclosed to the stockholders entitled to dividends.

An extra of 10 cents and the usual quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the common stock were voted by the General Telephone corporation. A special dividend of $1 and the regular quarterly payment of 50 cents were authorized by the Wayne Pump company.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass company declared a dividend of $1. Previously the company paid $1 on April 1, $1.50 on July 1, and $2 on Aug. 20.

COURT APPROVES PLAN TO ADJUST VOLIVA'S DEBTS

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle yesterday confirmed a composition in bankruptcy for Wilbur Glenn Voliva, former overseer of Zion City. All property held by Voliva and his wife, Ida, is given for a period of ten years to the First National Bank of Waukegan as trustee of a liquidating trust for the benefit of creditors holding claims of more than $1,000,000. The property consists mainly of real estate in and about Zion City with an estimated value between $600,000 and $800,000.

The decree provides for the issuance of certificates of beneficial interest in the trust for the face amount of proven and allowed claims. In addition whatever cash Voliva possesses will be given to the federal government, along with notes against the trust bearing 6 per cent interest, in payment of $50,000 in deficiency income taxes against Voliva for 1927-'28. The government's notes will be prior to the beneficial certificates, which will be paid off on a pro-rata basis.

The Level Premium.

When an individual takes out a life insurance policy he ordinarily agrees to pay a specified sum each year. Although the older he becomes the more likely he is to die in any particular year, he pays the same annual rate in his later years as when he first took out the policy. This is because the company uses the level premium plan.

Under the level premium plan a policyholder pays more than the actual cost of insurance when he is young in exchange for paying less than cost when he is old. Insurance companies, of course, have figured out exactly what the cost of insurance protection is at each age.

The manner in which the level premium plan works can be seen by considering the case of a company which agrees to provide $1,000 worth of insurance to a man 35 years old for $21.08 a year. A leading mortality table shows that about 9 persons in every 1,000 who are 35 years old die every year. On this basis, the $1,000 worth of insurance would theoretically cost a company about $8.83 a year.

However, by the time the policy holder is 57 years old the actual cost to the company of providing the insurance is approximately equal to the level premium. Thereafter the actual cost exceeds the premium, but the policy holder continues to pay the same rate.

WHOLESALE FOOD PRICE AVERAGE IS LITTLE CHANGED

The cost of feeding the average Chicago family showed little change during the last two weeks as higher prices for butter, potatoes, and eggs were offset by lower prices for some vegetables, pork, and lamb, a survey of wholesale food prices in the Chicago area indicated yesterday.

The average wholesale prices of potatoes was $1.51 a hundred pounds yesterday, compared with $1.30 two weeks ago. Grade "extra" eggs moved up from 20¼ cents a dozen to 21½ cents during the period, and 92 score butter rose from 31 to 33 cents a pound.

COTTON PRICES DIP AGAIN ON HEDGING SALES

All Deliveries at New Lows Since 1933.

Hedging pressure was reported largely responsible for a further decline in cotton prices yesterday. All deliveries sold at new low levels since late in 1933. Closing trades were at the low point of the day showing net losses of .10 to .16 cent a pound, or 50 to 80 cents a bale in Chicago and .10 to .17 cent, or 50 to 85 cents a bale, in other markets.

A small upturn was recorded in the early trading due to relative strength in Liverpool and reports of unwanted rains in the eastern cotton belt, but the upturn was short lived. Houses with southern connections were persistent sellers in all markets. Delay in announcing the government loan program was said to be a factor in curtailing speculative interest in the market.

Price Close to Loan Rate.

At the lowest price yesterday the October delivery of cotton on the Chicago Board of Trade was less than ¼ cent a pound above the proposed government loan level of 9 cents a pound.

Larger southern offerings were reflected by increased port receipts, which totaled 71,131 bales, the largest day's total this season. The week's into-sight movement of 304,000 bales compared with 182,000 a year ago and 231,000 two years ago. Exports, 2,407 bales making 187,726 for the season. United States port stocks totaled 1,405,490 bales.

Spot cotton closed .10 to .15 cent lower with New Orleans at 9.50 cents, New York, 9.60 cents, and Galveston and Houston, 9.25 cents.

OIL COMPANIES FIGHT MEXICAN WAGE DEMAND

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Foreign owned oil companies set out today to refute the assertion of a government-appointed board that the oil industry could well afford to raise workers' wages $7,200,000 yearly.

Representatives of 16 United States and British companies operating in Mexico offered voluminous documentary evidence, as a labor department hearing opened, to support their contention that the granting of such wage increases would force them out of Mexico.

The companies argued that profits of the industry last year were less than $5,500,000, and that the government board's report was based upon "erroneous information" and its conclusions were "improperly drawn."

Imports of Canadian Cattle Decrease; Quota Exhausted

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Canada's exports of cattle to the United States slowed up this week as the result of exhaustion of the quota for cattle weighing 700 pounds and more under the trade pact, and the imposition of the 3 cents regular duty on this grade of cattle. For the year to date, however, shipments are far ahead of last year. The totals are 141,318 beef cattle, 8,055 dairy cattle, and 79,665 calves, compared with 127,830, 8,611, and 43,620, respectively, for the corresponding 1936 period.

SEVERAL FIRMS PLAN TO ISSUE NEW SECURITIES

Registration Statements Filed with SEC.

Moderate financing operations are contemplated by several corporations, data released by the Securities and Exchange commission disclosed yesterday.

The Spenser Shoe corporation, Boston, Mass., filed a registration statement covering $1,500,000 of $20 par value $1.50 cumulative dividend convertible preferred stock, and 120,000 shares of no par common to be reserved for conversion of the preferred. Proceeds will be used to pay bank loans and for working capital. Childs, Jeffries & Thorndike, Inc., and Herrick, Heinzelmann & Ripley have underwritten the securities.

Rustless Iron Issue.

A statement covering 16,964 shares of $2.50 cumulative dividend convertible preferred stock, and 42,410 shares of $1 par common reserved for conversion of the preferred, was filed by the Rustless Iron and Steel corporation, Baltimore, Md. Underwriters will be named later. The proceeds will be used for plant additions and working capital.

Saco Lowell Shops, Boston, manufacturer of cotton mill machinery, filed a statement covering 77,157 shares of $20 par $1 cumulative class A convertible preferred stock, 56,802 shares of $20 par $1 cumulative dividend class B convertible preferred, and 233,163 shares of $5 par common, most of which will be used for converting the preferred shares, issuance of the securities is a part of a reorganization program. A syndicate headed by Hornblower & Weeks has underwritten the securities.

Harshaw Chemical Issue.

A statement covering 59,458 no par common shares of the Harshaw Chemical company, Cleveland, O., also was filed. The stock will be offered to present shareholders at the rate of one additional share for each two shares held. Proceeds will be used to retire bank loans of $650,000, to make plant additions and improvements requiring $500,000, to acquire inventories, and for other purposes. The offering has been underwritten by a banking group headed by Mitchell, Herrick & Co.

Stockholders of the Wayne Pump company at a special meeting Sept. 29 will be asked to approve a plan adopted yesterday by directors whereby capital stock will be increased from 291,709 to 350,000 shares, and present stockholders will be offered the right to subscribe to the new stock, at not more than $40 a share, on the basis of one new share for each ten held.

New security offerings in the week ended Aug. 26 totaled $42,586,995, compared with $69,970,000 in the comparable week last year. Public utilities accounted for the largest portion with $30,500,000.

Australia Reports Surplus of $6,380,000 for Year

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 27.—[Special.] — Describing the present level of prosperity as the highest since the onset of the depression, the treasurer of the Australian commonwealth today announced a surplus for 1936-'37 of £1,276,000 [about $6,380,000].

Investors' Guide

General Household Utilities.

Investors' Guide: Will you give me a report on General Household Utilities company, its financial standing, different classes of stock, and what kind of a rating you believe the stock deserves?—W. O. J.

The present corporation was formed in 1928 as United States Radio and Television corporation, representing a consolidation of several smaller companies. It took its present name on merger with Grunow corporation in 1933.

Operations are carried on at plants in Chicago and Marion, Ind., which have a capacity for turning out approximately 5,000 refrigerator and radio units per day.

Earnings have been generally unsatisfactory during recent years. To date the company has not been able to take advantage of improved radio and household appliance business generally. It was reorganized under the federal bankruptcy laws during 1936. As part of the plan new preferred stock was issued to W. C. Grunow and G. A. Ball in return for their paying the company's debt to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. The company found it necessary to sell $500,000 more of preferred stock in April, 1937, to provide adequate working capital.

Figures have not been made public yet, but operations are understood to have continued in the red during the fiscal year ended July 31, 1937. For the five months ended Dec. 31, 1936, the company reported sales of $5,055,000 and net loss of $39,000. Sales were $8,333,000 and net loss was $358,000 in the year ended July 31, 1936, compared with sales of $10,759,000 and loss of $1,736,000 in the preceding year.

Current assets amounted to $2,693,000 and current liabilities were $1,464,000 on Dec. 31, 1936.

Capitalization at the end of 1936 consisted of 96,004 shares of 5 per cent cumulative $10 par preferred and 354,360 shares of no par common stock. There also was $619,000 in mortgage debt. Since that time 50,000 additional shares of preferred have been issued. The preferred is convertible into common on a share for share basis. No dividends can be paid until mortgage notes are retired.

Thousands Slain and Wounded in Battle for Shanghai—Grant Park Murder Suspect Arrested

A CHINESE LABORER MAKES A FRIENDLY OFFERING TO THE CONQUEROR—The stolid Chinese of the lower classes accept defeat in a manner as ancient as their country. This elderly peasant serves warm tea to a Japanese soldier near Tientsin after Nipponese victories in the Peiping-Tientsin area. The Chinese keeps an eye on the photographer. [Associated Press Wirephoto.] (Story on page 2.)

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

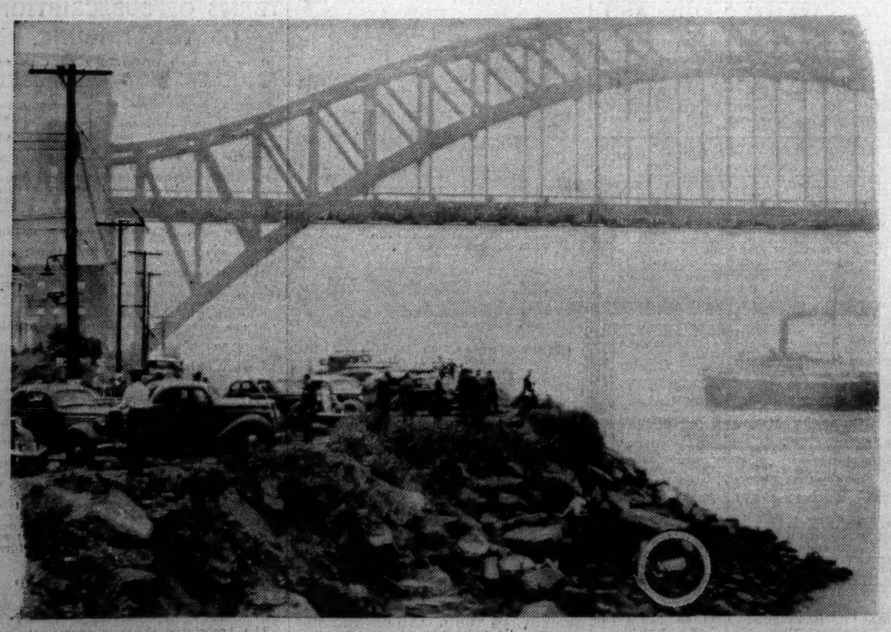
STURDY PEASANT YOUTHS ARE CALLED IN BY JAPAN IN THE ATTEMPT TO CONQUER CHINA—Hardy, resistant, and ready to face all the rigors of war these young men are recruited from the rice fields of their native islands. Tokio's war machine has converted them into soldiers and equipped them well for the North China campaign. Representative of the modern Japanese soldier, this group took part in the successful Peiping-Tientsin offensive. (Story on page 2.)

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

FUGITIVE IN GRANT PARK SLAYING MYSTERY SEIZED AT ST. LOUIS—Leonard Doxey, charged with murder of Herbert W. Lee, and Lucille Meredith, who was arrested with him. Representatives of state's attorney's office will fly to Missouri city today to question the prisoners. (Story on page 1.)

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

TYPIFYING THE FORWARD MARCH OF THE JAPANESE ARMY ACROSS CHINA—The 1937 edition of the Japanese foot soldier, in whom Japan is placing hopes of conquering China's vast areas as opposing forces war along the Yangtze and in North China: typical because Japan, in spite of warplanes, tanks, and mechanized cavalry, must depend on these foot soldiers to hold ground gained. As the war spreads the battle becomes one of millions against millions, armies sprawling over a huge country.



MURDER MYSTERY DISCOVERED IN SHADOW OF HELL GATE BRIDGE—Circle shows where body of Mrs. Essie Gordon, 29, of Revere, Mass., a widow, was found stuffed into a barrel on rocks of Astoria shore, in New York. Police believed she had been slain in a night club or tavern. (Story on page 3.)

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

MACHINE GUNS DEADLY—200 VICTIMS BEHIND THE HOLES—Bullet-riddled wall of the Japanese police headquarters in Tungchow, capital of autonomous "state" set up by Japan in North China. Here 200 Japanese men, women, and children were massacred by Chinese "peace corps."

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

SAD EYED, PEACEABLE CHINESE CARRY BURDEN OF WAR—Made homeless by the fighting in Shanghai, these women huddled on the edge of the Shanghai customs jetty. Mrs. Ray Murphy, first American refugee to return to the United States, took this picture.
